The cases of Mexico City and S o Paulo as two mega cities with a wide ranging of water related challenges present lessons to other fast growing urban agglomerations on the variety of possible responses as well as obstacles to their effectiveness that receive little attention.

Cross-Disciplinary Perspectives on Regional and Global Security Paweł Frankowski, Artur Gruszczyk, 2018-04-06 This book focuses on current key issues of international security from an actor centered approach. The volume is divided into 3 sections: the first part analyses an array of security issues in Europe; the second one explores how those security issues play out in the Americas; and the third focuses on Africa. Each of the chapter authors outlines the relevant ideas, interests, and institutions. The volume provides an overview of how global, regional, and national actors differ in their management approaches, capacity levels, and how these differences translate into cross-regional cooperation on security issues.

Ending Africa's Energy Deficit and the Law Yinka Omorogbe, Ada Ordor, 2018-02-22 With the inclusion of access to energy in the sustainable development goals, the role of energy to human existence was finally recognized. Yet in Africa, this achievement is far from realized. Omorogbe and Ordor bring together experts in their fields to ask what is stalling progress, examining problems from institutions catering to vested interests at the continent's expense to a need to develop vigorous financial and fiscal frameworks. The ramifications and complications of energy law are labyrinthine; this volume discusses how energy deficits can burden disabled people, women, and children in excess of their more fortunate counterparts, as well as considering environmental issues including the delicate balance between the necessity of water for drinking and cleaning and the use of water in industrial processes. A pivotal work of scholarship, the book poses pressing questions for energy law and international human rights.
