Cybersecurity Discourse in the United States Sean T. Lawson,2019-12-05 This book examines the role of cyber doom rhetoric in the U S cybersecurity debate For more than two decades fear of cyber doom scenarios i e cyberattacks against critical infrastructure resulting in catastrophic physical social and economic impacts has been a persistent feature of the U S cybersecurity debate This is despite the fact that no cyberattack has come close to realizing such impacts This book argues that such scenarios are part of a broader rhetoric of cyber doom within the U S cybersecurity debate and takes a multidisciplinary approach that draws on research in history sociology communication psychology and political science It identifies a number of variations of cyber doom rhetoric then places them into a larger historical context assesses how realistic the fears expressed in such rhetoric are and finally draws out the policy implications of relying on these fears to structure our response to cybersecurity challenges The United States faces very real cybersecurity challenges that are nonetheless much less dramatic than what is implied in the rhetoric This book argues that relying on cyber doom rhetoric to frame our thinking about such threats is counterproductive and encourages us to develop ways of thinking and speaking about cybersecurity beyond cyber doom This book will be of much interest to students of cybersecurity foreign policy public administration national security and international relations in general English Paul Broadbent,2007-09 This revision guide for Key Stage 3 English contains in depth course coverage and advice on how to get the best results in the Year 9 National Test It has progress check questions and exam practice questions Homeschooling and Libraries Vera Gubnitskaia,Carol Smallwood,2020-04-20 As families are looking for better ways to educate their children more and more of them are becoming interested and engaged in alternative ways of schooling that are different separate or opposite of the traditional classroom Homeschooling has become ever more creative and varied as families create custom tailored curricula assignments goals and strategies that are best for each unique child This presents a multitude of challenges and opportunities for information institutions including public academic school and special libraries The need for librarians to help homeschool families become information and media literate is more important than ever This collection of essays provides a range of approaches and strategies suggested by skilled professionals as well as veteran homeschool parents on how to best serve the diverse needs and learning experiences of homeschooled youth It includes information on needs assessments for special needs students gifted students and African American students advice on how to provide support for the families of homeschoolers case studies and information on new technologies that could benefit libraries and the homeschooler populations that they serve Multiple Narratives, Versions and Truth in the Contemporary Novel Nicholas Frangipane,2019-10-22 Multiple Narratives Versions and Truth in the Contemporary Novel considers the shifting perception of truth in fiction Nicholas Frangipane examines the narrative technique of telling multiple versions of the same sets of events presenting both true and false versions of the events within a fictional work This book looks closely at these Reflexive Double Narratives in order to understand the way many contemporary writers have attempted to work past postmodernism without forgetting its lessons Frangipane explores how writers like Ian McEwan Yann Martel and Alice Munro have departed from the radical experimentation of their predecessors and instead make sincere attempts to find ways that fictional writing can reveal enduring truths and in so doing redefine the meaning of truth itself and signal the emergence of post postmodernism The Caloris Network Nick Kanas,2016-05-13 The year is 2130 The first ever expedition is sent to Mercury to search for the cause of an unknown source of electromagnetic radiation that can destroy space ships passing by the planet Thought to be inhospitable and lifeless the surface of Mercury provides startling surprises for the crew that endanger their lives and challenge their established notions of what it means to be a sentient being And some of the crew members have their own separate agendas The scientific appendix at the end of the book introduces readers to the wondrous world of

Mercury and how it has been portrayed in literary fiction up to the present time The author then uses scientific literature to present a concept of life that is not based on carbon chemistry or the need for water There is also a discussion of consciousness based on electromagnetic wave theory References are provided for further reading Nick Kanas is an Emeritus Professor of Psychiatry at the University of California San Francisco where he directed the group therapy training program For over 20 years he conducted research on group therapy and for nearly 20 years after that he was the Principal Investigator of NASA funded research on astronauts and cosmonauts He is the co author of Space Psychology and Psychiatry which won the 2004 International Academy of Astronautics Life Science Book Award and the author of Humans in Space The Psychological Hurdles which won the 2016 International Academy of Astronautics Life Science Book Award Dr Kanas has presented talks on space psychology and on celestial mapping at several regional and Worldcon science fiction conventions A Fellow of the Royal Astronomical Society London he has been an amateur astronomer for over 50 years and is an avid reader of science fiction He is also the author of two non fiction books Star Maps History Artistry and Cartography and Solar System Maps From Antiquity to the Space Age and two science fiction novels The New Martians and The Protos Mandate all published by Springer
