Start engine and operate at 1000 rpm. Raise and lower hitch several times to remove any air in the system. Move draft lever fully forward and raise rate lever rearward into the "FAST" position. Move position control lever rearward to maximum height position. When hitch is at maximum height, measure distance between center of lift link pin and top face of rear frame. See Fig. 156. This distance must be 15.93 inches (404 mm). If measurement is not correct, remove seat and on models with cab, remove the access plate. On all models, unbolt and remove cover plate from hydraulic housing. Refer to Fig. 157 and loosen locknut on draft valve rod. Using a 8 mm wrench on the flats on draft valve rod, adjust the height of the hitch. Turning forward, turn draft valve rod clockwise to decrease or counterclockwise to increase the hitch height. Check to see that outer end of lower lift arms can be lifted by hand at least a further 2 inches (51 mm). If movement is less than 2 inches (51 mm), turn draft valve rod counterclockwise to correct. Tighten locknut.

Move position control lever forward into full lower position, but not into drop speed rate position.
