Trustees Of Culture Power Wealth And Status On Elite Arts Boards:

Trustees of Culture Francie Ostrower, 2002 Why do wealthy people choose to serve on the boards of fine arts institutions How do they exercise their influence as trustees and how does this affect the way arts institutions operate This study based on trustee interviews addresses these and other issues

Co-Leadership in the Arts and Culture Wendy Reid, Hilde Fjellvær, 2022-12-26 This book is about co leadership A leadership practice and structure often found in arts organizations that consist of two or three executives who bridge the art and business divide at the top Many practitioners recognize this phenomenon but the research on this topic is limited and dispersed This book assembles a coherent overview and presents new insights of the field While co leadership is well institutionalized in the West it is also criticized for management's constraint of artistic autonomy and for its pluralism that dilutes leadership clarity However co leadership also personifies the strategic objectives of art audiences organization and community by addressing plural logics navigating the demands of artistic vision and organizational stability It is an integrating solution The authors investigate its specifics in the arts including global practice and its interdisciplinary nature The theoretical frame of plural leadership supports their empirical explorations of the dynamics within the co leadership relationship and with organizational stakeholders Data includes the voices of co leaders artists staff and board members from arts organizations in Canada and Norway Their abductive reflection generates a stimulating research experience By viewing co leadership in action not as a study of static theories the book will appeal not only to students and researchers but also resonate with practitioners in arts and cultural management and assist them to work with co leadership and to manage its tensions Chapters 1 and 4 of this book are freely available as downloadable Open Access PDFs at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com> under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives CC BY NC ND 4.0 license

The Routledge Companion to Governance in the Arts World Ruth Rentschler, Wendy Reid, Chiara Carolina Donelli, 2025-04-24 This research compendium of arts governance brings expert insights from management through the humanities and social sciences to provide a comprehensive global overview of how the field is evolving as the world is in turmoil Moving beyond the traditional governance focus on boards the book is structured across a framework that provides five levels of analysis individual board directors boards arts organisations community collaborations and public policy instances around the world Contributors examine urgent contemporary issues in arts governance such as toxic leadership bad behaviour discrimination and post colonialism They present governance definitional challenges governance struggles for organisations of different sizes and types in different regimes with different accountabilities complexities collaborations and policy environments Experts from around the world are brought together in this book to explore and illuminate the creative sector's distinct dynamics in arts governance The book is an essential scholarly resource for academics students and reflective practitioners of arts and cultural management

Diversity and Philanthropy at African American Museums Patricia A. Banks, 2019-04-30 Diversity and Philanthropy at African American

Museums is the first scholarly book to analyze contemporary African American museums from a multifaceted perspective. While it puts a spotlight on the issues and challenges related to racial politics that black museums collectively face in the 21st century, it also shines a light on how they intersect with corporate culture, youth culture, and the broader cultural world. Turning the lens to philanthropy in the contemporary era, Banks throws light on the establishment side of African American museums and demonstrates how this contrasts with their grassroots foundations. Drawing on over 80 in-depth interviews with trustees and other supporters of African American museums across the United States, this book offers an inside look at the world of cultural philanthropy. While patrons are bound together by being among the distinct group of cultural philanthropists who support black museums, the motivations and meanings underlying their giving depart in both subtle and considerable ways depending on race and ethnicity, profession, generation, and lifestyle. Revealing not only why black museums matter in the eyes of supporters, the book also complicates the conventional view that social class drives giving to cultural nonprofits. It also paints a vivid portrait of how diversity colors cultural philanthropy and philanthropy more broadly in the 21st century. Diversity and Philanthropy at African American Museums will be a valuable resource for scholars and practitioners engaged with African American heritage. It will also offer important insights for academics as well as cultural administrators, nonprofit leaders, and fundraisers who are concerned with philanthropy and diversity. The Nonprofit Sector, Walter W. Powell, Richard Steinberg, 2006-01-01. Provides a multi-disciplinary survey of nonprofit organizations and their role and function in society. This book also examines the nature of philanthropic behaviours and an array of organizations, international issues, social science theories, and insight. Musicians from a Different Shore, Mari Yoshihara, 2008-05-02. Musicians of Asian descent enjoy unprecedented prominence in concert halls, conservatories, and classical music performance competitions. In the first book on the subject, Mari Yoshihara looks into the reasons for this phenomenon, starting with her own experience of learning to play piano in Japan at the age of three. Yoshihara shows how a confluence of culture, politics, and commerce after the war made classical music a staple in middle-class households, established Yamaha as the world's largest producer of pianos, and gave the Suzuki method of music training an international clientele. Soon, talented musicians from Japan, China, and South Korea were flocking to the United States to study and establish careers, and Asian American families were enrolling toddlers in music classes. Against this historical backdrop, Yoshihara interviews Asian and Asian American musicians such as Cho Liang Lin, Margaret Leng Tan, Kent Nagano, who have taken various routes into classical music careers. They offer their views about the connections of race and culture and discuss whether the music is really as universal as many claim it to be. Their personal histories and Yoshihara's observations present a snapshot of today's dynamic and revived classical music scene. International Journal of Arts Management, 2004. Incorporating Participatory Community Development Principles Into Arts and Cultural Organizations, Erika M. Boardman Kraft, 2004. American Book Publishing Record, 2003. Scientific Pioneers, Joyce Tang, 2006-02-16. This book critically examines the career development of female scientific pioneers Drawing from existing biographical and ethnographical data author Joyce Tang analyzes the life and career histories of ten extraordinary female scientists Marie Curie Irene Joliot Curie Margaret Mead Barbara McClintock Maria Goeppert Meyer Rachel Carson Rita Levi Montalcini Dorothy Hodgkin Rosalyn Yalow and Fay Ajzenberg Selove The author explores the personal political cultural and economic factors that led to the success of these women Scientific Pioneers proposes that for a woman to be successful in science not only requires perseverance and talent but also structural opportunities institutional support and conscious decision making Scientific Pioneers is an important addition to the growing literature about women in science the sociology of science and the dynamics of discrimination This analysis of female scientific pioneers is an invaluable resource for both public policy debates and research on inequality Art Journal ,1960 Emerging Areas of Volunteering Jeffrey L.
