biomes tropical rainforests and tropical seasonal forests Tropical Forest Community Ecology Walter Carson, Stefan Schnitzer, 2011-08-31 Historically tropical ecology has been a science often content with descriptive and demographic approaches which is understandable given the difficulty of studying these ecosystems and the need for basic demographic information Nonetheless over the last several years tropical ecologists have begun to test more sophisticated ecological theory and are now beginning to address a broad array of questions that are of particular importance to tropical systems and ecology in general Why are there are so many species in tropical forests and what mechanisms are responsible for the maintenance of that vast species diversity What factors control species coexistence Are there common patterns of species abundance and distribution across broad geographic scales What is the role of trophic interactions in these complex ecosystems How can these fragile ecosystems be conserved Containing contributions from some of the world s leading tropical ecologists Tropical Forest Community Ecology provides a summary of the key issues in the discipline of tropical ecology Includes contributions from some of the world s leading tropical ecologists Covers patterns of species distribution the maintenance of species diversity the community ecology of tropical animals forest regeneration and conservation of tropical ecosystems Tropical Forests: Management and Ecology Ariel E. Lugo, Carol Lowe, 2012-12-06 Forestry professors used to remind students that whereas physicians bury their mistakes foresters die before theirs are noticed But good institutions live longer than the scientists who contribute to building them and the half century of work of the USDA Forest Service s Institute of Tropical Forestry ITF is in plain view an unprecedented corpus of accomplishments that would instill pride in any organization There is scarcely anyone interested in current issues of tropical forestry who would not benefit from a refresher course in ITF s findings its early collaboration with farmers to establish plantations its successes in what we now call social forestry its continuous improvement of nursery practices its screening trials of native species its development of wood processing technologies appropriate for developing countries its thorough analysis of tropical forest function and its holistic approach toward conservation of endangered species Fortunately ITF has a long history of information exchange through teaching like many others I got my own start in tropical forest ecology from just such a course in Puerto Rico And long before politicians recognized the global importance of tropical forestry the ITF staff served actively as ambassadors of the discipline visiting tropical countries everywhere to learn and when invited to do so to help solve local problems It is a general principle of biogeography that species turnover rates on islands are higher than those on continents Inevitably the same is true of scientists assigned to work on islands Tropical Forests: Management and Ecology Ariel E. Lugo, Carol Lowe, 1995-06-29 Forestry professors used to remind students that whereas physicians bury their mistakes foresters die before theirs are noticed But good institutions live longer than the scientists who contribute to building them and the half century of work of the USDA Forest Service s Institute of Tropical Forestry ITF is in plain view an unprecedented corpus of accomplishments that would instill pride in any organization There is scarcely anyone interested in current issues of tropical forestry who would not benefit from a refresher course in ITF's findings its early collaboration with farmers to establish plantations its successes in what we now call social forestry its continuous improvement of nursery practices its screening trials of native species its development of wood processing technologies appropriate for developing countries its thorough analysis of tropical forest function and its holistic approach toward conservation of endangered species Fortunately ITF has a long history of information exchange through teaching like many others I got my own start in tropical forest ecology from just such a course in Puerto Rico And long before politicians recognized the global importance of tropical forestry the ITF staff served actively as ambassadors of the discipline visiting tropical countries everywhere to learn and when invited to do so to help solve local problems It is a general principle of biogeography that species turnover rates on islands are higher than those on continents Inevitably the same is true of scientists assigned to work on islands

Seasonally Dry Tropical Forests Rodolfo Dirzo, 2011-02-18 Seasonally Dry Tropical Forests brings together a range of experts in diverse fields including biology ecology biogeography and biogeochemistry to review synthesize and explain the current state of our collective knowledge on the ecology and conservation of this endangered ecosystem The book offers a synthetic and cross disciplinary review of recent work with an expansive scope including sections on distribution diversity ecosystem function and human impacts Throughout contributors emphasize conservation issues particularly emerging threats and promising solutions with key chapters on climate change fragmentation restoration ecosystem services and sustainable use Seasonally dry tropical forests represent scientific terrain that is poorly explored and there is an urgent need for increased understanding This book represents an important step in bringing together the most current scientific information about this vital ecosystem

Tropical Forests and Global Atmospheric Change Yadvinder Malhi, Oliver Phillips, 2005-06-30 Tropical forests represent the world's most biodiverse ecosystems and play a key role in hydrology carbon storage and exchange Many of the human induced pressures these regions are facing e.g. fragmentation and deforestation have been widely reported and well documented However there have been surprisingly few efforts to synthesize cutting edge science in the area of tropical forest interaction with atmospheric change At a time when our global atmosphere is undergoing a period of rapid change both in terms of climate and in the cycling of essential elements such as carbon and nitrogen a thorough and up to date analysis is now timely This research level text suitable for graduate level students as well as professional researchers in plant ecology tropical forestry climate change science and conservation biology explores the vigorous contemporary debate as to how rapidly tropical forests may be affected by atmospheric change and what this may mean for their future

Tropical Forests Juan A. Blanco, Yueh-Hsin Lo, Shih-Chieh Chang, 2016-11-09 Large regions of the planet have been transformed from their natural composition into different human made landscapes farmlands forest plantations pastures etc Such process called land use change is one of the major components of the current global change which has brought the planet into a new geological era the Anthropocene Land use change is particularly important in tropical forests as this ecosystem type is still heavily affected by deforestation for timber extraction agricultural land creation of urban expansion Changing land use has important implications for the services that tropical forests provide production of goods such as timber food or water regulation of process such as nutrient cycling carbon sequestration local weather or climate extremes generating the framework for economic and cultural activity etc Therefore keeping ecosystem services when changing the use of the tropical lands is a major challenge in tropical regions This brief book by showcasing different research work done in tropical countries provides a first introduction on this topic discussing issues such as biodiversity loss changes in local weather or nutrient cycling patterns and economic activities around tropical forests and tools to detect and quantify the importance of land use change

Biodiversity and Ecosystem Processes in Tropical Forests Gordon H. Orians, Rodolfo Dirzo, J. Hall Cushman, 2012-12-06 Although biologists have directed much attention to estimating the extent and causes of species losses the consequences for ecosystem functioning have been little studied This book examines the impact of biodiversity on ecosystem processes in tropical forests one of the most species rich and at the same time most endangered ecosystems on earth It covers the relationships between biodiversity and primary production secondary production biogeochemical cycles soil processes plant life forms responses to disturbance and resistance to invasion The analyses focus on the key ecological interfaces where the loss of keystone species is most likely to influence the rate and stability of ecosystem processes

Tropical Forests Padmini Sudarshana, Madhugiri Nageswara-Rao, Jaya Soneji, 2018-08-01 Tropical forests occupy only one tenth of the world s land area but are home to more than half of the world s flora and fauna They comprise extremely complex labyrinth of ecological interactions The astounding richness and biodiversity of tropical forests are rapidly dwindling There is a fear that the burgeoning human population and industrialization where a majority of these tropical forests are found may lead to the clearing or modification or may be a complete disappearance of the remaining tropical forests within few decades This has severely altered the vital biogeochemical cycles of carbon phosphorus nitrogen and so on and has led to the change in global climate and pristine natural ecosystems Hence there is an urgent need to protect restore conserve and improve the forest resources before they are irrevocably lost In this second edition of the book

Tropical Forests the chapters share the above issues and help in understanding educating and creating awareness on the role of tropical forests for the very survival of mankind climate change and the diversity of biota across the globe This book will be of great use and could be useful to students scientists ecologists population and conservation biologists and forest managers across the globe
