Whiteness Class And The Legacies Of Empire On Home Ground:

Whiteness, Class and the Legacies of Empire K. Tyler, 2012-04-11 This book explores why it is white ethnicity has been rendered invisible arguing that contemporary people's conceptions of themselves are conditioned by and derive from the unknown and forgotten legacy of a colonial past that cannot be confined to the past A Moral Economy of

Whiteness Steve Garner, 2015-08-14 A Moral Economy of Whiteness presents a working model for understanding the main ways in which white UK people make race through talking about immigration in the twenty first century Based on extensive empirical interviews Steve Garner establishes four overlapping frames through which white English people understand immigration This comprises a narrative of unequal treatment where equality is a dirty word because it is seen as an agenda for redistributing resources to undeserving ethnic minorities non integrating migrants and unproductive white people Political correctness is seen as the ideological glue binding this unfair system People are thus retreating from Britishness into a more exclusive Englishness Garner explores the context of these understandings the dominance of neoliberal market rationales in which the State deprioritises anti discrimination work He concludes that these frames only make sense in a social world where Britain's imperial past has no bearing on the present and where racism in popular and media culture becomes purely a story of individual deviancy This book generates numerous international points of comparison that deepen our understanding of the backlash against multiculturalism in the West It will appeal to scholars and students of sociology social policy anthropology political science immigration multiculturalism nationalism and British studies Learie

Constantine and Race Relations in Britain and the Empire Jeffrey Hill, 2018-12-13 Who was Learie Constantine And what can he tell us about the politics of race and race relations in 20th century Britain and the Empire Through examining the life times and opinions of this Trinidadian cricketer turned politician Learie Constantine and Race Relations in Britain and the Empire explores the centrality of race in British politics and society Unlike conventional biographical studies of Constantine this unique approach to his life and the racially volatile context in which it was lived moves away from the good man narrative commonly attributed to his rise to pre eminence as a spokesman against racial discrimination and as the first black peer in the House of Lords Through detailing how Constantine's idea of assimilation was criticized then later rejected by successive activists in the politics of race Jeffrey Hill offers an alternative and more sophisticated analysis of Constantine's contributions to and complex relationship with the fight against racial inequalities inherent in British domestic and imperial society Echoes of Empire Kalypso Nicolaïdis, Berny Sebe, Gabrielle Maas, 2014-12-23 How does our colonial past echo through today's global politics How have former empire builders sought vindication or atonement and formerly colonized states reversal or retribution This groundbreaking book presents a panoramic view of attitudes to empires past and present seen not only through the hard politics of international power structures but also through the nuances of memory historiography and national and minority cultural identities Bringing together leading historians political scientists and international relations scholars from across the globe Echoes of Empire emphasizes Europe's colonial legacy whilst also highlighting the importance of non European power centres Ottoman Russian Chinese Japanese in shaping world politics then and now Echoes of Empire bridges the divide between disciplines to trace the global routes travelled by objects ideas and people and forms a radically different notion of the term empire itself This will be an essential companion to courses on international relations and imperial history as well as a fascinating read for anyone interested in Western hegemony North South relations global power shifts and the longue duree

The Intersections of Whiteness Evangelia Kindinger, Mark Schmitt, 2019-01-04 Trumpism and the racially implied Islamophobia of the travel ban Brexit and the yearning for Britain's past imperial grandeur Black Lives Matter the public backlash against Merkel's refugee policies in Germany These seemingly national responses to the changing demographics in a multitude of Western nations need to be understood as effects of a global transnational crisis of whiteness The Intersections of Whiteness brings together scholars from different disciplines to shed light on these manifestations in the United States the United Kingdom South Africa and Germany Applying methodology stemming from critical race theory's investment in intersectionality the contributions of this edited collection focus on specific intersections of whiteness with gender class space affect and nationality Offering valuable insights into the contours of whiteness and its instrumentalisation across different nations societies and cultures this incisive volume creates transnational dialogue and will appeal to students and researchers interested in fields such as critical whiteness and race studies gender studies cultural studies and social policy

Ethnicity and Inclusion David G. Horrell, 2020-10-29 Some of today's problematic ideologies of racial and religious difference can be traced back to constructions of the relationship between Judaism and early Christianity New Testament studies which developed contemporaneously with Europe's colonial expansion and racial ideologies is David Horrell argues therefore an important site at which to probe critically these ideological constructions and their contemporary implications In Ethnicity and Inclusion Horrell explores the ways in which ethnic and religious characteristics feature in key Jewish and early Christian texts challenging the widely accepted dichotomy between a Judaism that is ethnically defined and a Christianity that is open and inclusive Then through an engagement with whiteness studies he offers a critique of the implicit whiteness and Christianness that continue to dominate New Testament studies today arguing that a diversity of embodied perspectives is epistemologically necessary

Port Cities and Global Legacies A. Mah, 2014-10-14 Port cities have distinctive global dynamics with long histories of casual labour large migrant communities and international trade networks This in depth comparative study examines contradictory global legacies across themes of urban identity waterfront work and radicalism in key post industrial port cities worldwide

Nation, Class and Resentment Robin Mann, Steve Fenton, 2017-01-20 This timely book provides an extensive account of national identities in three of the constituent nations of the United Kingdom Wales Scotland and England In all three contexts identity and nationalism have become questions of acute interest in both academic and political commentary The authors take stock of a wealth of empirical material and explore how attitudes to nation and state can be understood by relating them to changes in contemporary capitalist economies and the consequences for particular class fractions The book argues that these changes give rise to a set of resentments among people who perceive themselves to be losing out concluding that class resentments depending on historical and political factors relevant to each nation can take the form of either sub state nationalism or right wing populism Nation Class and Resentment shows that the politics of resentment is especially salient in England where the promotion of a distinct national identity is problematic Students and scholars across a range of disciplines including sociology and politics will find this study of interest

Reflections on Polarisation and Inequalities in Brexit Pandemic Times
 Katharine Tyler, Susan Banducci, Cathrine Degnen, 2025-03-05 This is the first interdisciplinary edited collection that examines the manifestation of social inequalities and polarisations in Britain throughout the dual crises of the Brexit vote and the Covid 19 pandemic The volume demonstrates that Brexit and the pandemic are not self contained events but rather are major ongoing processes that have impacted all aspects of British social and political life Drawing on an array of empirical case studies conducted in the wake of the Brexit vote and during pandemic lockdowns chapters trace how these processes illuminate consolidate and amplify existing and entrenched social inequalities and polarisations that shape the fabric of British society including racial ethnic class migrant national and gendered inequalities The volume is divided into three parts centred on a the nation b the community and c the media Each section draws on diverse analytical frameworks and methodological approaches from across the social sciences arts and humanities to provide empirically grounded critiques of reductive media led narratives with the goal of accounting for and explaining the reproduction of social inequalities and emergence of polarisations in these Brexit pandemic times In so doing the case studies include critical analysis of lockdown novels the speeches of political elites from across the political spectrum ordinary people s everyday traditional and social media practices as well as their opinions based on the findings of large scale surveys and in depth place based ethnographic fieldwork conducted across rural urban and suburban areas of England Each chapter also includes artwork by contemporary artist Helen Snell that complements develops and extends the book s core themes and arguments This collection will be insightful reading for students and academics across the social sciences arts and humanities especially from the disciplines of sociology politics social anthropology human geography sociolinguistics contemporary art and literature concerned with questions of social inequality and polarisation Chapters 1 2 7 and 11 of this book is freely available as a downloadable Open Access PDF at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com> under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives CC BY NC ND 4.0 license

New Directions in Race, Ethnicity and Crime
 Coretta Phillips, Colin Webster, 2013-10-08 The disproportionate criminalisation and incarceration of particular minority ethnic groups has long been observed though much of the work in criminology has been dominated by a somewhat narrow debate This debate has concerned itself with explaining this disproportionality in terms of structural inequalities and socio economic disadvantage or discriminatory criminal justice processing This book offers an accessible and innovative approach including chapters on anti-Semitism social cohesion in London Bradford and Glasgow as well as an exploration of policing Traveller communities Incorporating current empirical research and new departures in methodology and theory this book also draws on a range of contemporary issues such as policing terrorism immigration detention and youth gangs In offering minority perspectives on race crime and justice and white inmate perspectives from the multicultural prison the book emphasises contrasting and distinctive influences on constructing ethnic identities It will be of interest to students studying courses in ethnicity crime and justice

Literature of an Independent England C. Westall, M. Gardiner, 2013-07-09 Some of the most incisive writers on the subject rethink the relationship between Britain England and English literary culture It is premised on the importance of devolution the uncertainty of the British union the place of English Literature within the union and the need for England to become a self-determining literary nation

Ethics and Nationalist Populism at the British Seaside Ana Carolina Balthazar, 2021-04-27 Drawing on ethnographic research at the British seaside this book offers an original and insightful anthropological contribution to the study of contemporary Britain and nationalism The volume focuses on people who have retired from different parts of the UK to the seaside town of Margate and nearby areas exploring their ethical negotiations and relationship with things that have history It considers how residents engage daily with objects houses and places with character and how such ordinary engagements underlie nationalist sentiments and the Brexit vote Ana Carolina Balthazar demonstrates that those who have reached a comfortable financial position often look for ways to reconnect with their working class upbringing and while doing so engage with the national past in a very tangible manner Contributing to social scientific debates on class dynamics and ethics the book provides a different perspective on nationalist populism one which moves beyond media stereotypes and arguments made about the left behind and longing for empire in post industrial Britain

German Division as Shared Experience Erica Carter, Jan Palmowski, Katrin Schreiter, 2019-06-06 Despite the nearly three decades since German reunification there remains little understanding of the ways in which experiences overlapped across East West divides German Division as Shared Experience considers everyday life across the two Germanies using perspectives from history literary and cultural studies anthropology and art history to explore how interconnections as well as fractures between East and West Germany after 1945 were experienced lived and felt Through its novel approach to historical method the volume points to new understandings of the place of narrative form and lived sensibility in shaping Germans simultaneously shared and separate experiences of belonging during forty years of division from 1945 to 1990

Race Peter Wade, 2015-07-02 Taking a comparative approach this textbook is a concise introduction to race Illustrated with detailed examples from around the world it is organised into two parts Part I explores the historical changes in ideas about race from the ancient world to the present day in different corners of the globe Part II outlines ways in which racial difference and inequality are perceived and enacted in selected regions of the world Examining how humans have used ideas of physical appearance heredity and behaviour as criteria for categorising others the text guides students through provocative questions such as what is race Does studying race reinforce racism Does a colour blind approach dismantle or merely mask racism How does biology feed into concepts of race Numerous case studies photos figures and tables help students to appreciate the different meanings of race in varied contexts and end of chapter research tasks provide further support for student learning

Nationalism, Inequality and England's Political Predicament Charles Leddy-Owen, 2019-03-28 Based on fine grained ethnographic research in an English city this book offers a highly original perspective on England's contemporary political predicament It argues that some of the most influential academic accounts of the country's current political situation particularly those focusing on culture or racism have neglected the key role of nationalism as an often unspoken banal political principle and framing ideology Suggesting that economic inequalities remain the key causal ingredient of English political life and crucially that these are being interpreted by individuals in relation to a nationalist cosmopolitan ideological axis the author argues that any effective progressive political future will require a reinvigorated sense of political community Proposing a politics that will promote both nationhood and cosmopolitanism Nationalism Inequality and England's Political Predicament advocates a seemingly contradictory but necessary approach by which explicitly anti nationalist and anti racist principles coexist expediently alongside short term protectionist and immigration control policies

The Smell of Slavery Andrew Kettler, 2020-05-28 Slavery capitalism and colonialism were understood as racially justified through false olfactory perceptions of African bodies throughout the Atlantic World

Archaeology below the Cliff Matthew C. Reilly, 2019-09-03 First book length archaeological study of a nonelite white population on a Caribbean plantation Archaeology below the Cliff Race Class and Redlegs in Barbadian Sugar Society is the first archaeological study of the poor whites of Barbados the descendants of seventeenth century European indentured servants and small farmers Redlegs is a pejorative to describe the marginalized group who remained after the island transitioned to a sugar monoculture economy dependent on the labor of enslaved Africans A sizable portion of the white minority the Redlegs largely existed on the peripheries of the plantation landscape in an area called Below Cliff which was deemed unsuitable for profitable agricultural production Just as the land on which they resided was cast as marginal so too have the poor whites historically and contemporarily been derided as peripheral and isolated as well as idle alcoholic degenerate inbred and irrelevant to a functional island society and economy Using archaeological historical and oral sources Matthew C Reilly shows how the precarious existence of the Barbadian Redlegs challenged elite hypercapitalistic notions of economics race and class as they were developing in colonial society Experiencing pronounced economic hardship similar to that of the enslaved albeit under very different circumstances Barbadian Redlegs developed strategies to live in a harsh environment Reilly's investigations reveal that what developed in Below Cliff was a moral economy based on community needs rather than free market prices Reilly extensively excavated households from the tenantry area on the boundaries of the

Clifton Hall Plantation which was abandoned in the 1960s to explore the daily lives of poor white tenants and investigate their relationships with island economic processes and networks Despite misconceptions of strict racial isolation evidence also highlights the importance of poor white encounters and relationships with Afro Barbadians Historical data are also incorporated to address how an underrepresented demographic experienced the plantation landscape Ultimately Reilly's narrative situates the Redlegs within island history privileging inclusion and embeddedness over exclusion and isolation

Multiculturalism, Social Cohesion and Immigration Martin Bulmer, John Solomos, 2017-10-02 Multiculturalism Social Cohesion and Immigration brings together original research that addresses key facets of the changing dynamics of race multiculturalism and immigration in contemporary British society The various chapters in this volume tackle important social and political issues such as ethnic diversity and segregation post race politics contact and threat hypotheses national identity anti racist mobilisation and whiteness It provides an important insight into the dynamics of contemporary British society This book was originally published as a special issue of Ethnic and Racial Studies

British Migration Pauline Leonard, Katie Walsh, 2018-12-07 Around 5.6 million British nationals live outside the United Kingdom the equivalent of one in every ten Britons However social science research as well as public interest has tended to focus more on the numbers of migrants entering the UK rather than those leaving This book provides an important counterbalance drawing on the latest empirical research and theoretical developments to offer a fascinating account of the lives experiences and identities of British migrants living in a wide range of geographic locations across Europe Asia Africa and Australasia This collection asks What is the shape and significance of contemporary British migration Who are today's British migrants and how might we understand their everyday lives Contributions uncover important questions in the context of global and national debates about the nature of citizenships the Brexit vote deliberations surrounding mobility and freedom of movement as well as national racial and ethnic boundaries This book challenges conventional wisdoms about migration and enables new understandings about British migrants their relations to historical privileges international relations and sense of national identity It will be valuable core reading to researchers and students across disciplines such as Geography Sociology Politics and International Relations

Spatialized Islamophobia Kawtar Najib, 2021-11-17 This book demonstrates the spatialized and multi scalar nature of Islamophobia It provides ground breaking insights in recognising the importance of space in the formation of anti Muslim racism Through the exploration of complementary data both from existing quantitative databases and directly from victims of Islamophobia applied in two important European capitals Paris and London this book brings new materials to research on Islamophobia and argues that Islamophobia is also a spatialized process that occurs at various interrelated spatial scales globe nation urban neighbourhood and body and mind In so doing this book establishes and advances the new concept of Spatialized Islamophobia by exploring global national urban infra urban embodied and emotional Islamophobias as well as their complex interrelationships It also offers a critical discussion of the geographies of Islamophobia by pointing out the lack of geographical approaches to Islamophobia Studies By using self reflexivity the author raises important questions that may have hampered the study of Spatialized Islamophobia focusing in particular on the favoured methodologies which too often remain qualitative as well as on the whiteness of the discipline of Geography which can disrupt the legitimacy of a certain knowledge The book will be an important reference for those in the fields of Human Geography Sociology Politics Racial Studies Religious Studies and Muslim studies
