Why Muslim Integration Fails in Christian-Heritage Societies Claire L. Adida, David D. Laitin, Marie-Anne Valfort, 2016 Amid mounting fears of violent Islamic extremism many Europeans ask whether Muslim immigrants can integrate into historically Christian countries In a groundbreaking ethnographic investigation of France's Muslim migrant population Why Muslim Integration Fails in Christian Heritage Societies explores this complex question The authors conclude that both Muslim and non Muslim French must share responsibility for the slow progress of Muslim integration Using a variety of resources research methods and an innovative experimental design the authors contend that while there is no doubt that prejudice and discrimination against Muslims exist it is also true that some Muslim actions and cultural traits may at times complicate their full integration into their chosen domiciles This book is timely more so in the context of the current Syrian refugee crisis its insights keen and astute the empirical evidence meticulous and persuasive and the policy recommendations reasonable and relevant A Ahmad Choice Migration and Radicalization Gabriel Rubin, 2021-03-29 This book explores the connections between migration and terrorism and extrapolates with the help of current research and case studies what the future may hold for both issues Migration and Radicalization Global Futures looks at how migrants and terrorists have both been treated as Others outside the body politic how growing migrant flows borne of a rickety state system cause both natives and migrants to turn violent and how terrorist radicalization and tensions between natives and migrants can be reduced As he contemplates potential global futures in the light of migration and radicalization Gabriel Rubin charts a course between contemporary migration and terrorism scholarship exploring their interactions in a methodologically rigorous but theoretically bold investigation Muslim Integration Erich Kolig, Malcolm Voyce, 2016-10-24 In Muslim Integration Pluralism and Multiculturalism in New Zealand and Australia contributors from a range of backgrounds investigate the state of Muslim integration in New Zealand and Australia The growing presence of a Muslim minority has invited these two Pacific settler states to closely consider the question of Muslim integration into Western society This collection discusses the future of religious cultural pluralism multicultural policies and the growing demands for greater emphasis on assimilation Contributors examine issues such as parallel societies Islamophobia radicalization tolerance adaptation and mutual adjustment legal pluralism the role of mosque architecture and media depictions of Muslims are examined Recommended for scholars of anthropology religious studies sociology and political science Invisible Barriers Stephane Carcillo, Marie-Anne Valfort, 2025-05-27 An essential resource for anyone committed to fostering equality and fairness in employment with actionable proposals for public policy that can address these inequities In a world where discrimination against minorities remains a pressing issue even in economically and socially advanced countries Invisible Barriers delves into the multifaceted nature of this pervasive problem Drawing on extensive research from economics management psychology and sociology St phane Carcillo and Marie Anne Valfort present a comprehensive examination of

Patriotic Education in a Global Age Randall Curren, Charles Dorn, 2018-04-30 Should schools attempt to cultivate patriotism If so why And what conception of patriotism should drive those efforts Is patriotism essential to preserving national unity sustaining vigorous commitment to just institutions or motivating national service Are the hazards of patriotism so great as to overshadow its potential benefits Is there a genuinely virtuous form of patriotism that societies and schools should strive to cultivate In Patriotic Education in a Global Age philosopher Randall Curren and historian Charles Dorn address these questions as they seek to understand what role patriotism might legitimately play in schools as an aspect of civic education They trace the aims and rationales that have guided the inculcation of patriotism in American schools over the years the methods by which schools have sought to cultivate patriotism and the conceptions of patriotism at work in those aims rationales and methods They then examine what those conceptions mean for justice education and human flourishing Though the history of attempts to cultivate patriotism in schools offers both positive and cautionary lessons Curren and Dorn ultimately argue that a civic education organized around three components of civic virtue intelligence friendship and competence and an inclusive and enabling school community can contribute to the development of a virtuous form of patriotism that is compatible with equal citizenship reasoned dissent global justice and devotion to the health of democratic institutions and the natural environment Patriotic Education in a Global Age mounts a spirited defense of democratic institutions as it situates an understanding of patriotism in the context of nationalist populist and authoritarian movements in the United States and Europe and will be of interest to anyone concerned about polarization in public life and the future of democracy

Belonging, Citizenship and Muslim Identity Stéphane Hlaimi, 2025-06-10 This book explores belonging among Muslims in Britain and France asking whether British and French Muslims are citizens first or Muslims first Based on in depth interviews with Muslims in both jurisdictions it considers three options open to Muslims assimilation integration or conflict and considers the differences in approach that tend to prevail among Muslims in Britain and France with British Muslims tending to favour a cohabitationist strategy while many French Muslims adopt a more conflictual approach With attention to issues of Islamophobia the author examines the crises multiculturalism and secularism are facing and argues for a more inclusive rhetoric on questions of Islam and citizenship to counter the essentialist othering approach that characterises media coverage and public discourse A call for a new paradigm of articulation between Muslim identity and Western citizenship Belonging Citizenship and Muslim Identity will be of interest to scholars of sociology politics geography and anthropology with interests in inclusion and diasporic communities The Planning Role in Stretching the City Shlomit Flint Ashery, 2023-09-09 This research aims to uncover new insights into minority housing strategies and their impact on densely populated urban areas The study assumes that as space becomes scarce inter and intra groups interactions in the urban space motivate people to maximize the utility of the resources at their disposal This stretch of the built environment provides them with critical selective advantages and a sense of security and belonging Based on two neighbourhoods in London it contributes to our understanding of housing decisions in the context of illegality and shows the capacity of a given urban form for adaptation It creates a new semi private public space partly segregated yet deeply integrated a sphere that on the one hand enables traditional nested places and on the other a fertile environment for integration This manuscript contributes two new ideas to the knowledge base of residential selections and the geography of opportunities The first is a detailed analysis of a hyper segregation integration pattern resulting from complementary residential strategies operating at the individual unit level The second is multidimensional stretching a bottom up initiation that allows individuals to maximize resources through territorial and spatial practices International Migration and Citizenship Today Niklaus Steiner, 2023-03-17 This completely revised and updated textbook explores the moral economic political and cultural dimensions of the movement of people across international borders In style and substance it is designed to spark thoughtful discussions and to challenge readers to draw their own conclusions to questions such as how should democracies balance the rights of immigrants with those of citizens What exactly constitutes persecution and how should we define a refugee How should democracies allocate citizenship Can and should a distinction be made between voluntary and forced migration and does one group of migrants deserve admission more than the other What does a reasonable border policy look like The rise of populism the vote for Brexit and the unprecedented flow of refugees around the world are all evidence that these questions remain highly salient controversial and unresolved The content has been thoroughly updated to cover Migration into Europe since 2015 Climate change as a driver of migration and the concept of environmental refugees Unaccompanied minors fleeing gang violence asylum for victims of domestic violence family separation policies and the building of a wall on the U S Mexican border The controversies surrounding the Danish cartoons Charlie Hebdo and hijabs as examples of the tensions in liberal democracies between free speech individual freedom religious expressions and minority rights The Dream Act and Deferred Action for Childhood Arrivals DACA Demographic shifts and the debates around multiculturalism and diversity Guest worker programs as alternatives to admitting immigrants Intended as the main text for undergraduate classes on international migration the book will also appeal to broad survey courses on world politics comparative politics international relations global history and more specialized courses on human rights citizenship and nationalism Introduction to International Migration Jeannette Money, Sarah Lockhart, 2021-05-30 Introduction to International Migration introduces students to state of the art knowledge on international migration a contemporary issue of central importance to virtually all countries around the globe Original chapters by prominent women migration scholars cover a complex and multifaceted issue area including various types of migration the mechanisms of migration governance the impact of migration on both host and home societies the migrants themselves in a transnational space and the nexus between migration and other aspects of globalization Key topics include labor gender citizenship public opinion development security climate and ethics Refugee flows are tracked from beginning to end Photos figures text boxes with real world examples discussion questions and recommended readings provide pedagogical structure for each chapter Intended as a core text for courses on migration and immigration and a supplement to more general courses in global studies this book is appropriate for both undergraduate and graduate students in the variety of disciplines that deal with the challenges of international migration Special Features Consistently structured original chapters by notable scholars include an Introduction Empirical Overview Theoretical Evolution Continuing Issues and Summary for every chapter Chapter pedagogy includes Discussion Questions Suggested Readings and References as well as a Data Appendix for the book Photos with thematic captions and Text Boxes on hot topics round out the visual and substantive appeal of the text Native Bias Donghyun Danny Choi, Mathias Poertner, Nicholas Sambanis, 2022-10-11 What drives anti immigrant bias and how it can be mitigated In the aftermath of the refugee crisis caused by conflicts in the Middle East and an increase in migration to Europe European nations have witnessed a surge in discrimination targeted at immigrant minorities To quell these conflicts some governments have resorted to the adoption of coercive assimilation policies aimed at erasing differences between natives and immigrants Are these policies the best method for reducing hostilities Native Bias challenges the premise of such regulations by making the case for a civic integration model based on shared social ideas defining the concept and practice of citizenship Drawing from original surveys survey experiments and novel field experiments Donghyun Danny Choi Mathias Poertner and Nicholas Sambanis show that although prejudice against immigrants is often driven by differences in traits such as appearance and religious practice the suppression of such differences does not constitute the only path to integration Instead the authors demonstrate that similarities in ideas and value systems can serve as the foundation for a common identity based on a shared concept of citizenship overcoming the perceived social distance between natives and immigrants Addressing one of the most pressing challenges of our time Native Bias offers an original framework for understanding anti immigrant discrimination and the processes through which it can be overcome Religion and Racial Capitalism Grace Tien, María Eugenia Funes, 2025-10-19 Much of the discourse around diversity equity and inclusion have encountered two blind spots First discourse in the academy and beyond have prioritized the intersectionality of race and gender but neglected the intersectionality of race and class

Secondly the resurgence and now backlash to diversity equity and inclusion have largely benefited cultural and economic elites on the political left and left behind the working class This book suggests that the framework of racial capitalism can help bring attention to these gaps in part due to renewed scholarly interest in racial capitalism across academic disciplines This edited volume is largely motivated by the above gaps in academic and mainstream discourse and makes two primary contributions first we examine the unique intersection of religion and racial capitalism and second we analyze case studies of racial capitalism in country contexts outside of the U S drawing on case studies from North America South America Europe and Asia Scholars particularly historians have largely examined racial capitalism in the U S context Studies in this edited volume highlight how the challenges and manifestations of racial capitalism or the complex intertwined relationship between racial and economic inequality are not particular to America and the West Part I of the book investigates the past or origin stories of religion and racial capitalism Part II the present underscores contemporary empirical studies of religion and racial capitalism like how religious institutions have reinforced justified or even promoted racial and economic injustices Lastly Part III future presents ways forward or potential interventions in response to religion and racial capitalism

Breaking the Exclusion Cycle Ana Bracic,2020 Why does social exclusion persist and what can one do to stop it This book proposes a theory of how individual behavior contributes to social exclusion a novel method for measuring that behavior and solutions to ending it Based on original fieldwork among Central and Eastern European Roma the largest ethnic minority in Europe yet still very understudied and non Roma Ana Bracic develops a theory she calls the exclusion cycle through which anti minority culture gives rise to discrimination by members of the majority and minority members develop survival strategies Members of the majority resent these strategies assuming that they are endemic to the minority group rather than an outcome of their own discriminatory behavior

Liberalism Edmund Fawcett,2018-05-22 A compelling history of liberalism from the nineteenth century to today Despite playing a decisive role in shaping the past two hundred years of American and European politics liberalism is no longer the dominant force it once was In this expanded and updated edition of what has become a classic history of liberalism Edmund Fawcett traces its ideals successes and failures through the lives and ideas of exemplary thinkers and politicians from the early nineteenth century to today Significant revisions including a new conclusion reflect recent changes affecting the world political order that many see as presenting new and very potent threats to the survival of liberal democracy as we know it A richly detailed account of a vulnerable but critically important political creed this book reminds us that to defend liberalism it is vital to understand its character and history

Muslims in a Post-9/11 America Rachel M. Gillum,2018-07-27 Muslims in a Post 9 11 America examines how public fears about Muslims in the United States compare with the reality of American Muslims attitudes on a range of relevant issues While most research on Muslim Americans focuses on Arab Muslims a quarter of the Muslim American population Rachel Gillum includes perspectives of Muslims from various ethnic and national communities from African Americans to those of Pakistani Iranian or Eastern

European descent Using interviews and one of the largest nationwide surveys of Muslim Americans to date Gillum examines more than three generations of Muslim American immigrants to assess how segments of the Muslim American community are integrating into the U S social fabric and how they respond to post 9 11 policy changes Gillum s findings challenge perceptions of Muslims as a homogeneous isolated un American and potentially violent segment of the U S population Despite these realities negative political rhetoric around Muslim Americans persists The findings suggest that the policies designed to keep America safe from terrorist attacks may have eroded one of law enforcement s greatest assets in the fight against violent extremism a relationship of trust and goodwill between the Muslim American community and the U S government Gillum argues for policies and law enforcement tactics that will bring nuanced understandings of this diverse category of Americans and build trust rather than alienate Muslim communities

Religion in the European Refugee Crisis Ulrich Schmiedel, Graeme Smith, 2018-02-15 This book explores the roles of religion in the current refugee crisis of Europe Combining sociological philosophical and theological accounts of this crisis renowned scholars from across Europe examine how religion has been employed to call either for eliminating or for enforcing the walls around Fortress Europe Religion they argue is radically ambiguous simultaneously causing social conflict and social cohesion in times of turmoil Charting the constellations the conflicts and the consequences of the current refugee crisis this book thus answers the need for succinct but sustained accounts of the intersections of religion and migration

Public Spheres of Resonance Anne Fleig, Christian von Scheve, 2019-10-08 To understand the profound changes in the modes of public political debate over the past decade this volume develops a new conception of public spheres as spaces of resonance emerging from the power of language to affect and to ascribe and instill collective emotion Political discourse is no longer confined to traditional media but increasingly takes place in fragmented and digital public spheres At the same time the modes of political engagement have changed discourse is said to increasingly rely on strategies of emotionalization and to be deeply affective at its core This book meticulously shows how public spheres are rooted in the emotional bodily and affective dimensions of language and how language in its capacity to affect and to be affected produces those dynamics of affective resonance that characterize contemporary forms of political debate It brings together scholars from the humanities and social sciences and focuses on two fields of inquiry public politics and media in Part I and language and artistic inquiry in Part II The thirteen chapters provide a balanced composition of theoretical and methodological considerations focusing on highly illustrative case studies and on different artistic practices The volume is an indispensable source for researchers and postgraduate students in cultural studies literary studies sociology and political science It likewise appeals to practitioners seeking to develop an in depth understanding of affect in contemporary political debate
