Guzmán, 2022-03-08 PORCHLIGHT BOOKS JUNE 2022 NONFICTION BESTSELLER Assigned reading for fractured families aspiring to a harmonious Thanksgiving dinner New York Times Anyone who sincerely wants to bridge the gaps in understanding will appreciate this book Manhattan Book Review Learn how to bring curiosity and courage to even the most difficult conversations across America's polarized political divide with these actionable tools for navigating challenging disagreements Journalist Mónica Guzmán is the loving liberal daughter of Mexican immigrants who voted twice for Donald Trump When the country could no longer see straight across the political divide Mónica set out to find what was blinding us and discovered the most eye-opening tool we're not using our own built-in curiosity Partisanship is up trust is down and our social media feeds make us sure we're right and everyone else is ignorant or worse. But avoiding one another is hurting our relationships and our society. In this timely personal guide, Monica, the chief storyteller for the national cross-partisan depolarization organization Braver Angels, takes you to the real front lines of a crisis that threatens to grind America to a halt: broken conversations among confounded people. She shows you how to overcome the fear and uncertainty that surround us to finally do what only seems impossible: understand and even learn from people in your life whose whole worldview is different from or even opposed to yours. Drawing from cross-partisan conversations she's had organized or witnessed everywhere from the echo chambers on social media to the wheat fields in Oregon to raw unfiltered fights with her own family on election night, Monica shows how you can put your natural sense of wonder to work for you immediately finding the answers you need by talking with people rather than about them and asking the questions you want curiously. In these pages you'll learn how to ask what you really want to know even if you're afraid to. How to grow smarter from even the most tense interactions online or off. How to cross boundaries and find common ground with anyone. Whether you're left, right, center or not a fan of labels. If you're ready to fight back against the confusion, heartbreak and madness of our dangerously divided times in your own life at least Monica's got the tools and fresh surprising insights to prove that seeing where people are coming from isn't just possible. It's easier than you think.

Teaching Social Studies in the Early Childhood Classroom Jean Kirshner, Jenny Pettit, 2025-01-23. This textbook develops early childhood teachers' capacity to effectively instruct democratic principles to our youngest citizens. As our world experiences political polarization, pandemics, heightened racial tension and the evolving awareness of gender and LGBTQ issues, this textbook addresses those topics as they show up in the early childhood classroom, offering research-informed practical guidance for pre- and in-service teachers. The book is organized around 12 themes, 10 of which are based on the National Council for Social Studies (NCSS) themes, in addition to the anti-racist, anti-bias curriculum and gender-expansive principles from the National Association for the Education of Young Children (NAEYC), closely following social studies content standards from across the United States. The themes covered are culture and cultural diversity, history, geography, identity, gender roles and gender identity, institutions, power and authority, economics, science and technology, global citizenship and civic ideals and practice. Throughout each chapter, you will come to know 5 early childhood classrooms and including profiles of the teachers, students, communities. These five spaces represent a variety of early childhood teachers, different age groups of students and diverse communities and show how the lesson learned in each chapter can be applied in classroom settings. This book provides developmentally appropriate ways to teach relevant and current social studies content to our very youngest learners, emphasizing the fact that these very children will grow to be the next stewards of our global community.
