Beck, 2006 Using a largely chronological approach Charlotte Beck has carefully traced the evolution of Warren s criticism focusing on seminal examples of the critical books essays and introductions that Warren produced over a period of almost seventy years Her conclusions often run counter to previous evaluations of Warren s criticism especially to those that complacently link Warren to Cleanth Brooks his lifelong friend and collaborator and to New Criticism in general Beck demonstrates that Warren consistently treats writers holistically taking into account biographical as well as historical data to account for their entire body of work rather than focusing on a single literary text Jacket

Reading Fiction with Lucian Karen ní Mheallaigh, 2014-11-10 This book offers a captivating new interpretation of Lucian as a fictional theorist and writer to stand alongside the novelists of the day bringing to bear on his works a whole new set of reading strategies It argues that the aesthetic and cultural issues Lucian faced in a world of mimesis and replication were akin to those found in postmodern contexts the ubiquity of the fake the erasure of origins the focus on the freakish and weird at the expense of the traditional In addition to exploring the texture of Lucian s own writing Dr n Mheallaigh uses Lucian as a focal point through which to examine other fictional texts of the period including Antonius Diogenes The Incredible Things Beyond Thule Dictys Journal of the Trojan War and Ptolemy Chennus Novel History and reveals the importance of fiction s engagement with its contemporary culture of writing entertainment and wonder Why Do We Care about Literary Characters? Blakey Vermeule, 2010-01-01 Blakey Vermeule wonders how readers become involved in the lives of fictional characters people they know do not exist Vermeule examines the ways in which readers experiences of literature are affected by the emotional attachments they form to fictional characters and how those experiences then influence their social relationships in real life She focuses on a range of topics from intimate articulations of sexual desire gender identity ambition and rivalry to larger issues brought on by rapid historical and economic change Vermeule discusses the phenomenon of emotional attachment to literary characters primarily in terms of 18th century British fiction but also considers the postmodern work of Thomas Mann J M Coetzee Ian McEwan and Chinua Achebe From the perspective of cognitive science Vermeule finds that caring about literary characters is not all that different from caring about other people especially strangers The tools used by literary authors to sharpen and focus reader interest tap into evolved neural mechanisms that trigger a caring response This book contributes to the emerging field of evolutionary literary criticism Vermeule draws upon recent research in cognitive science to understand the mental processes underlying human social interactions without sacrificing solid literary criticism People interested in literary theory in cognitive analyses of the arts and in Darwinian approaches to human culture will find much to ponder in Why Do We Care about Literary Characters

The Science of Science Fiction Writing James Gunn,2000-10-31 Written by one of the leading authorities on writing publishing and teaching science fiction The Science of Science Fiction Writing offers the opportunity to share in the knowledge James Gunn has acquired over the past forty years. He reflects on the fiction writing process and how to teach it and the ideas he has shared with his students about how to do it effectively and how to get it published afterwards. The first section discusses why people read fiction, the parts of the short story, the strategy of the science fiction author, scene as the smallest dramatic unit, how to speak well in print, suspense in fiction, how to say the right thing and how to give constructive criticism. The second section takes a more philosophical approach. Here Gunn elaborates on the origins of science fiction, its definition, the worldview of science fiction and the characters that appear in science fiction novels. The third section highlights well-known sci-fi authors: H.G. Wells, Robert A. Heinlein, Isaac Asimov, Henry Kuttner, C.L. Moore and others, and the impact they have had on the development and progression of science fiction.

Understanding Hallyu Hyesu Park, 2020-12-10 This book sheds light on aspects of the Korean Wave and Korean media products that are less discussed: Korean literature, webtoon, and mukbang. It explores the making of these Korean popular cultural products and how they work and engage media recipients regardless of their different national, cultural, and geographical backgrounds. Drawing on narrative theory and cultural studies, the book makes a compelling argument about how to analyze the production and consumption of Korean media within and beyond its national boundary with critical eyes. The author shows how transmedial narrative studies, narrative studies across media, offers analytical and theoretical lenses through which one can interpret new and emerging media forms and contents. Furthermore, she explores how these forms and contents can be better understood when they are contextualized within specific time and place using the cultural, social, and political concepts and precepts of the region. The volume will be of great interest to scholars and researchers of Asian Studies, popular culture, contemporary cyberculture, media and culture studies, and literary theory.

Empathy and the Strangeness of Fiction Maria C. Scott, 2020-03-02 Explores how and why narrative fiction engages empathy including Theory of Mind Offers a broad overview of current scientific work on the effects of fiction reading on empathy including Theory of Mind

Provides an original intervention in the field of literary theory centring on the reflexive properties of the fictional stranger
Includes stand alone close readings of three novels by important French authors
This book studies recent psychological findings which suggest that reading fiction cultivates empathy encouraging us to be critically reflective suspicious readers as well as participatory nave readers
Scott draws on literary theory and close readings to argue that engagement with fictional stories also teaches us to resist uncritical forms of empathy and reminds us of the limitations of our ability to understand other people
The book treats figures of the stranger in Balzac's La Fille aux yeux d'or Stendhal's Le Rouge et le Noir and Sand's Indiana as emblematic of the strangeness of narrative fiction both drawing us in and keeping us at a distance

Why We Read What We Read John Heath, Lisa Adams, 2007-09
The authors examine the best selling books of the past 16 years exploring common thematic threads that resonate with American readers

Novel Sensations Jon Day, 2020-08-18
Concentrating on the work of four major modernist authors Virginia Woolf James Joyce Wyndham Lewis and Samuel Beckett this book examines the close links between modernist literature and the philosophy of mind

Interludes and Irony in the Ancestral Narrative Jonathan A. Kruschwitz, 2020-12-18
The stories of Hagar Dinah and Tamar stand out as strangers in the ancestral narrative They deviate from the main plot and draw attention to the interests and fates of characters who are not a part of the ancestral family
Readers have traditionally domesticated these strange stories They have made them familiar all about the ancestral family
Thus Hagar's story becomes a drama of deselection Shechem and the Hivites become emblematic for ancestral conflict with the people of the land and Tamar becomes a lens by which to read providence in the story of Joseph
This study resurrects the question of these stories strangeness Rather than allow the ancestral narrative to determine their significance it attends to each interlude's particularity and detects ironic gestures made toward the ancestral narrative
These stories contain within them the potential to defamiliarize key themes of ancestral identity the ancestral divine relationship ancestral relations to the land and its inhabitants and ancestral self identity
Perhaps the ancestral family are not the only privileged partners of God the only heirs to the land or the only bloodline fit to bear the next generation
