Sledge, Samuel Hynes, Alvin Kernan, 2022-01-04 In one volume three unforgettable memoirs that capture the brutality fear and heroism of the American land air and sea war in the Pacific Every generation is a secret society former Marine pilot Samuel Hynes wrote The secret that my generation the one that came of age during the Second World War shared was simply the war itself This volume brings together the powerful memoirs of three Americans who came of age fighting in the Pacific and who survived to tell their stories Remarkable literary achievements that capture history with the immediacy of lived experience all three presented here in an illustrated collector's edition are classics of the modern literature of war In With the Old Breed at Peleliu and Okinawa 1981 Marine veteran E B Sledge bears unflinching witness to the horror fear and degradation of prolonged close quarters combat A mortarman serving in a front line rifle company Sledge survived thirty days of nightmarish fighting on the remote coral island of Peleliu where heat thirst filth and fear and hatred of the Japanese eroded the veneer of civilization and made savages of us all On Okinawa he faced an even greater test of endurance amid deep mud driving rain and incessant shelling as men fought and bled in an environment so degrading I believed we had been flung into hell's own cesspool Written with precision and clarity Sledge's memoir is a haunting testament to his struggle to hold on to decency and sanity and a moving tribute to the esprit de corps of the U S Marines Flights of Passage 1988 is Samuel Hynes evocative and elegiac memoir of his fairly ordinary flying war A true believer in the religion of flight he writes with lyricism candor and humor about the joys and dangers of his stateside training as a dive bomber pilot the beauty and excitement he experienced flying in combat over the Ryukyu Islands and his wartime education in the realities of friendship sex love and sudden random death Alvin Kernan enlisted in the Navy in 1941 at age seventeen to escape life on a failing Wyoming ranch Crossing the Line 1994 revised 2007 is a vividly written account of his remarkable service on three aircraft carriers first as an aviation ordnanceman and then as an air gunner A perceptive and thoughtful observer of the sailor's life at sea and on shore Kernan witnessed the aftermath of the Pearl Harbor attack and the launching of the Doolittle Raid armed planes at Midway survived the sinking of the Hornet and flew on the final mission of the fighter ace Butch O'Hare With thirty two pages of photographs and endpaper maps     The "Good War" in American Memory John Bodnar, 2010-10-01 The Good War in American Memory dispels the long held myth that Americans forged an agreement on why they had to fight in World War II John Bodnar's sociocultural examination of the vast public debate that took place in the United States over the war's meaning reveals that the idea of the good war was highly contested Bodnar's comprehensive study of the disagreements that marked the American remembrance of World War II in the six decades following its end draws on an array of sources fiction and nonfiction movies theater and public monuments He identifies alternative strands of memory tragic and brutal versus heroic and virtuous and reconstructs controversies involving veterans minorities and memorials In building this narrative

Bodnar shows how the idealism of President Franklin Roosevelt's Four Freedoms was lost in the public commemoration of World War II how the war's memory became intertwined in the larger discussion over American national identity and how it only came to be known as the good war many years after its conclusion      Victory in Europe, 1945 Arnold A. Offner, Theodore A. Wilson, 2000 In this collection senior scholars explore the transition from war to uneasy peace how and why the war ended as it did whether a different resolution was possible and if the ensuing Cold War was inevitable      U.S. Naval Institute Proceedings United States Naval Institute, 1994      The Old Breed George McMillan, 1949 History of the First Marine Division in World War II      The Father of Us All Victor Davis Hanson, 2010-05-03 Victor Davis Hanson has long been acclaimed as one of our leading scholars of ancient history In recent years he has also become a trenchant voice on current affairs bringing a historian's deep knowledge of past conflicts to bear on the crises of the present from 9/11 to Iran War he writes is an entirely human enterprise Ideologies change technologies develop new strategies are invented but human nature is constant across time and space The dynamics of warfare in the present age still remain comprehensible to us through careful study of the past Though many have called the War on Terror unprecedented its contours would have been quite familiar to Themistocles of Athens or William Tecumseh Sherman And as we face the menace of a bin Laden or a Kim Jong Il we can prepare ourselves with knowledge of how such challenges have been met before The Father of Us All brings together much of Hanson's finest writing on war and society both ancient and modern The author has gathered a range of essays and combined and revised them into a richly textured new work that explores such topics as how technology shapes warfare what constitutes the American way of war and why even those who abhor war need to study military history War is the father and king of us all Heraclitus wrote in ancient Greece And as Victor Davis Hanson shows it is no less so today      Forth to the Mighty Conflict Allen Cronenberg, 1995-01-30 An Alabamian has written what many critics have hailed as the finest memoir to emerge from the Second World War      Hiroshima's Shadow Kai Bird, Lawrence Lifschultz, 1998 Writings on the denial of history and the Smithsonian controversy Cover
