The Encyclopedia of Housing, Second Edition Andrew T. Carswell, 2012-05-31 Since publication of the groundbreaking Encyclopedia of Housing in 1998 many issues have assumed special prominence within this field and indeed within the global economy For instance the global economic meltdown was spurred in large part by the worst subprime mortgage crisis we ve seen in our history On a more positive note the sustainability movement and green development has picked up considerable steam and given the priorities and initiatives of the current U S administration this will only grow in importance and increased attention has been given in recent years to the topic of indoor air quality Within the past decade as well the Baby Boom Generation began its march into retirement and senior citizenship which will have increasingly broad implications for retirement communities and housing assisted living facilities aging in place livable communities universal design and the like Finally within the last twelve years an emerging generation of young scholars has been making significant contributions to the field For all these reasons and more we are pleased to present a significantly updated and expanded Second Edition of The Encyclopedia of Housing Servants of Globalization Rhacel Parreñas, 2015-08-26 Servants of Globalization offers a groundbreaking study of migrant Filipino domestic workers who leave their own families behind to do the caretaking work of the global economy Since its initial publication the book has informed countless students and scholars and set the research agenda on labor migration and transnational families With this second edition Rhacel Salazar Parre as returns to Rome and Los Angeles to consider how the migrant communities have changed Children have now joined their parents Male domestic workers are present in significantly greater numbers And perhaps most troubling the population has aged presenting new challenges for the increasingly elderly domestic workers New chapters discuss these three increasingly important constituencies The entire book has been revised and updated and a new introduction offers a global comparative overview of the citizenship status of migrant domestic workers Servants of Globalization remains the defining work on the international division of reproductive labor Resources in Education , 1997 Women and Austerity Maria

Karamessini, Jill Rubery, 2013-09-11 Austerity has become the new principle for public policy in Europe and the US as the financial crisis of 2008 has been converted into a public debt crisis. However, current austerity measures risk losing past progress towards gender equality by undermining important employment and social welfare protections and putting gender equality policy onto the back burner. This volume constitutes the first attempt to identify how the economic crisis and the subsequent austerity policies are affecting women in Europe and the US, tracing the consequences for gender equality in employment and welfare systems in nine case studies from countries facing the most severe adjustment problems. The contributions adopt a common framework to analyse women in recession which takes into account changes in women's position and current austerity conditions. The findings demonstrate that in the immediate aftermath of the financial crisis, employment gaps between women and men declined but due only to a deterioration in men's employment position rather than any improvements for women. Tables are set to be turned by the austerity policies which are already having a more negative impact on demand for female labour and on access to services which support working mothers. Women are nevertheless reinforcing their commitment to paid work even at this time of increasing demands on their unpaid domestic labour. Future prospects are bleak. Current policy is reinforcing the same failed mechanisms that caused the crisis in the first place and is stalling or even reversing the long-term growth in social investment in support for care. This book makes the case for gender equality to be placed at the centre of any progressive plan for a route out of the crisis. New Books on Women and Feminism, 2006

Homes in Crisis Capitalism Marnie Holborow, 2024-02-22 Homes in Crisis Capitalism explores the core social reproduction role that individual households fulfil in our societies and the class and racial effects of this on gender inequality and discrimination. Women now make up nearly half of the paid workforce globally yet prevailing neoliberal social policy continues to rule out adequate state provision of child and elder care, choosing instead to rely on marketized services to fill the gap. It is mainly women who carry out this little-valued care work, either in a non-paid or paid capacity, and gender inequality is entrenched across society. Official gender parity policies, often expressed in terms of equality of opportunity, have done little to ease the double burden of domestic and care work for the vast majority of women. Competitive labour markets discriminate against those expected to be the primary caregivers of children, the sick and disabled, and older people. In addition, the presence across many societies of an acute housing crisis and soaring inflation have put added pressures on home life. A social reproduction crisis has developed, and it is working-class women and women of colour who are paying the price. Holborow analyses homes in crisis capitalism through a Marxist lens of capitalist social reproduction. This book charts the interwoven social and political effects and outcomes of work and care provided in the home and makes the case for a radical break with capitalism to give social reproduction the material resources and social recognition it deserves. Women's Work, Men's Work National Research Council, Division of Behavioral and Social Sciences and Education, Commission on Behavioral and Social Sciences and Education, 1986-02-01 Even though women have made substantial progress in a number of formerly male occupations sex segregation in the workplace remains a fact of life This volume probes pertinent questions Why has the overall degree of sex segregation remained stable in this century What informal barriers keep it in place How do socialization and educational practices affect career choices and hiring patterns How do family responsibilities affect women s work attitudes And how effective is legislation in lessening the gap between the sexes Amply supplemented with tables figures and insightful examination of trends and research this volume is a definitive source for what is known today about sex segregation on the job Roadblocks to Equality Jeffery Klaehn,2009
