Why Love Matters Values In Governance:

Why Love Matters Scherto Gill, David Cadman, 2016 As our current systems of decision making are increasingly unable to meet the global challenges of climate change resource depletion poverty healthcare economic instability and global violence the contributors in this book make a radical proposal for an innovative form of governance that is based on core human values such as love compassion care justice and dignity Arising from a concern that the old paradigm of alienation consumerism selfishness and exploitation is damaging for humankind and the family of Earth the book postulates that a new way of being must be in place so that intrinsic values of caring for others should underpin the intent of our decisions at personal regional national international and global levels With illustrative references and examples in fields of politics economy health and peace the content of this book argues forcefully that Love with a capital L matters in governance where values can serve as the basis to transform human consciousness about international institutions community relationships and individual actions Why Love Matters provides an important introductory text to students of global governance management studies political economics international relations and peace studies and equally offers illuminating and instructive ideas to leaders managers and practitioners who are interested in what values based governance means and looks like and how to go about it in practice

Why Love Matters Sue Gerhardt, 2014-10-24 Why Love Matters explains why loving relationships are essential to brain development in the early years and how these early interactions can have lasting consequences for future emotional and physical health This second edition follows on from the success of the first updating the scientific research covering recent findings in genetics and the mind body connection and including a new chapter highlighting our growing understanding of the part also played by pregnancy in shaping a baby's future emotional and physical well being The author focuses in particular on the wide ranging effects of early stress on a baby or toddler's developing nervous system When things go wrong with relationships in early life the dependent child has to adapt what we now know is that his or her brain adapts too The brain's emotion and immune systems are particularly affected by early stress and can become less effective This makes the child more vulnerable to a range of later difficulties such as depression anti social behaviour addictions or anorexia as well as physical illness

Education as Humanisation Scherto Gill, Ulrike Niens, 2017-10-02 Over the past decades there has been a consistent and poignant ambiguity with regard to the role of education in the context of post conflict and divided societies working towards building peace Most recently global developments including the after effects of the Arab Spring the devastating wars in Syria and the refugee crisis in Europe have directed our attention once more to the part that education can play in building peace at many levels In this context it is timely to create a space for a focused inquiry and scholarly debate about peace oriented pedagogies and how they might affect the post conflict reconstruction in divergent settings Thus both the subject and the content of this book are important in the light of the current needs in many societies emerging from conflicted community relations In particular they propose a refreshing and transformative view of peace based on a humanising conception of education and dialogic pedagogy as a key avenue for peacebuilding Through both conceptual inquiries and empirical case studies the book will appeal to educational thinkers researchers practitioners policy makers NGO workers and the public in re examining some of the key concepts identifying pivotal underlying issues in the field Furthermore by offering a principled persuasive conceptual framework and by problematising implementations and interventions in practice this book can serve to provoke more appraisals evaluations and constructive critiques of humanisation and dialogic pedagogy in peacebuilding education This book was originally published as a special issue of Compare A Journal of Comparative and International Education Practitioner's Guide to Ethics and Mindfulness-Based Interventions Lynette M. gravest of tragedies profound triumphs of heart and spirit Preeminent physicians in many specialties including deans and department heads on the faculties of the top university medical schools in the country describe in everyday language and with moving testimony their very personal reactions to these remarkable clinical experiences Among the extraordinary cases poignantly recounted by the physicians witnessing them A priest visiting a hospitalized patient went into cardiac arrest on the elevator which opened up on the cardiac floor right at the foot of the cardiac specialist at just the right moment A tiny premature baby dying from irreversible lung disease despite the most intensive care who recovered almost immediately after being taken from his hospital bed and placed on his mother's chest President John F Kennedy's son Patrick who died shortly after birth and whose disease eventually led to research that saved generations of babies A nine year old boy who was decapitated in a horrific car accident but survived without neurological damage A woman who conceived and delivered a healthy baby despite having had both of her fallopian tubes surgically removed A young man whose only hope for survival was a heart transplant but just at the moment he developed a potentially fatal complication making a transplant impossible his own heart began healing itself A teenage girl near death after contracting full blown rabies who became the first patient ever to recover from that disease after an unexpected visit by Timothy Dolan the man who would go on to become the Archbishop of New York A Manhattan window washer who fell 47 stories and not only became the only person ever to survive a fall from that height but went on to make a full recovery Miracles We Have Seen is a book of inspiration and optimism and a compelling glimpse into the lives of physicians their humanity and determined devotion to their patients and their patients families It reminds us that what we don't know or don't understand isn't necessarily cause for fear and can even be reason for hope closely at six distinct genres which have arisen during this time frame the misery memoir the mum's lit popular novel the maternal confessional dad's lit the dysfunctional domestic novel and the family noir Writing the Modern Family will examine the way these burgeoning areas of British and American writing respond to a neoliberal public discourse in which a parenting deficit rather than economic and structural disadvantage is responsible for increasing inequality in child welfare and achievement In evaluating these forms and their relationship to neoliberal culture the book will also consider the complex interrelationship between these genres

The Ethics of "Geoengineering" the Global Climate Stephen M. Gardiner, Catriona McKinnon, Augustin Fragnière, 2020-09-10 In the face of limited time and escalating impacts some scientists and politicians are talking about attempting grand technological interventions into the Earth's basic physical and biological systems geoengineering to combat global warming Early ideas include spraying particles into the stratosphere to block some incoming sunlight or enhancing natural biological systems to withdraw carbon dioxide from the atmosphere at a higher rate

Such technologies are highly speculative and scientific development of them has barely begun Nevertheless it is widely recognized that geoengineering raises critical questions about who will control planetary interventions and what responsibilities they will have Central to these questions are issues of justice and political legitimacy For instance while some claim that climate risks are so severe that geoengineering must be attempted others insist that the current global order is so unjust that interventions are highly likely to be illegitimate and exacerbate injustice Such concerns are rarely discussed in the policy arena in any depth or with academic rigor Hence this book gathers contributions from leading voices and rising stars in political philosophy to respond It is essential reading for anyone puzzled about how geoengineering might promote or thwart the ends of justice in a dramatically changing world The chapters in this book were originally published in the journals Ethics Policy the Environment and Critical Review of International Social and Political Philosophy
