Why We Argue About Climate Change Eric Knight:

Why We Argue about Climate Change Eric Knight, 2013 Global Warming Climate Change The Political Bubble Mark Latham, 2014-08-01 Australians once trusted the democratic process While we got on with our lives we assumed our politicians had our best interests at heart Not anymore That trust has collapsed Mark Latham joined the Labor Party in the late 1970s hoping to improve people s lives through parliamentary service Twenty five years later the Opposition Leader ended up as disillusioned as the rest of us The scorching honesty of The Latham Diaries ensured he d burned his political bridges but ostracism from the Canberra Club has its advantages In The Political Bubble Mark Latham is free to explore how parliamentary democracy has lost touch with the people it s supposed to represent As with most institutions at risk politics has become more tribal with left and right wing fanatics dominating formerly robust mainstream parties After the disappointment of the Rudd Gillard years Tony Abbott promised to restore trust in Australian politics but as with most of his promises it was dispensable The Political Bubble looks at the new government s policies how Abbott is adding to distrust not solving the problem What can be done about this democratic deficit Can our parliamentary system realign itself with community expectations or has politics become one long race to the bottom A brilliant analysis of Australia in the era of Tony Abbott and fanatical right wing politics ROBERT MANNE An Economy is Not a Society Dennis Glover, 2015-08-01 In modern Australia productivity is all that matters our leaders tell us Economic growth above all else But is this really what we the people want Does it make our lives and our communities better If the high priests of economics want the credit for Australia s economic growth over the last three decades they must also wear the blame for the social destruction that has accompanied it the devastation of once prosperous industrial centres and the suburbs they sustained as factories closed and workers were forced to abandon their trades The social costs of this economic modernisation have been immense but today are virtually ignored The fracturing of communities continues apace An Economy Is Not a Society is a passionate and personal J accuse against the people whose abandonment of moral policy making has ripped the guts out of Australia s old industrial communities robbed the country of manufacturing knowhow reversed our national ethos of egalitarianism and broken the sense of common purpose that once existed between rulers and ruled Those in power Dennis Glover argues must abandon the idea that a better society is purely about offering individuals more dollars in their pockets What we desperately need is a conversation about the lives working conditions jobs and communities we want for ourselves and our families and we need to choose a future that is designed to benefit all the Australian people not just some Dennis Glover is the son and brother of Dandenong factory workers He grew up in Doveton before studying at Monash University and King s College Cambridge where he was awarded a PhD in history He has worked for two decades as an academic newspaper columnist political adviser and speechwriter to Labor leaders and senior ministers Climate Justice in a Non-ideal World Jennifer Clare Heyward, Dominic Roser, 2016 This volume seeks to make normative theorising on climate justice more relevant and applicable to political realities and public policy Research Handbook on Climate Change Mitigation Law Geert Van Calster, Wim Vandenberghe, Leonie Reins, 2015-01-30 As well as taking stock of the current and proposed legal instruments the book looks at the wider policy and economic aspects of coping with climate change It provides a comparative overview of key issues across Europe the United States Asia Pacific The SAGE Handbook of Intellectual Property Matthew David, Debora Halbert, 2014-11-18 This Handbook brings together scholars from around the world in addressing the global significance of controversies over and alternatives to intellectual property IP today It brings together over fifty of the leading authors in this field across the spectrum of academic disciplines from law economics geography sociology politics and anthropology This volume addresses the full spectrum of IP issues including copyright patent trademarks and trade secrets as well as parallel rights and novel applications In addition to addressing the role of IP in an increasingly information based and globalized economy and culture it also challenges the utility and viability of IP today and addresses a range of alternative futures European Climate Diplomacy in the USA and China Katrin Buchmann, 2022-08-22 Buchmann analyses the work of UK German Danish and Swedish embassies in the USA and China on climate change in the late 2000s and early 2010s She relates which coalitions and narratives embassies sought to develop to convince China and the United States that a more progressive climate policy was possible to achieve gains supporting an agreement under the UNFCCC This book shows that a key interpretation of climate diplomacy was selling trade Europe selling technology solutions to solve climate change In this narrative Europe has already done what needs to be done and outsourcing of production to China e g is ignored In the USA embassies entered coalitions with states faith groups and the military arguing that a more progressive climate policy was mandated by either God or security concerns State politicians including Democrats often actually didn't implement any climate policies Any gains were reversed through climate denial lobbying funded by corporations Embassies did not address this Supermarket Monsters Malcolm Knox, 2015-05-31 Down down In hardware petrol general merchandise and liquor and above all in groceries Coles and Woolworths jointly rule Australia's retail landscape On average every man woman and child in this country spends 100 a week across their many outlets What does such dominance mean for suppliers And is it good for consumers In Supermarket Monsters journalist and author Malcolm Knox shines a light on Australia's twin mega retailers exploring how they have built and exploited their market power Knox reveals the unavoidable and often intimidating tactics both companies use to get their way In return for cheap milk and bread he argues we as consumers are risking much more quality diversity and community Supermarket Monsters is a valuable primer on the hidden costs of our supermarket duopoly The Age The Innovation Race Andrew Grant, Gaia Grant, 2016-07-01 If innovation is a race Who wins Who loses Who gets eliminated and how is it possible to stay ahead of the game The Innovation Race takes readers on a lively global adventure to explore the current state of innovation Along the way best selling authors Andrew and Gaia Grant search for clues on how to stay ahead in the race and design a more sustainable future Asking the critical questions Why do we innovate

Are we at risk of innovating for the sake of innovation What could we be doing better the Grants reflect on whether if in the race to come up with the next big thing we may be losing the purpose behind the process They then outline how to navigate the key paradoxical challenges that can either frustrate or fuel innovation to change the game By taking the latest academic research and presenting it in an accessible way the Grants present a compelling case for forging a new path for the future The Innovation Race provides concrete strategies to support purpose driven sustainable innovation through deep cultural transformation A unique profiling tool reveals current organisation positioning along with potential opportunities and challenges A practical culture change model then provides clear direction for proactive change With economists estimating that up to 80 per cent of growth comes from new ideas and innovations this thought provoking book provides the strategies and tools to learn how to create an innovation culture for long term success Identify your own sweet spot for innovative thinking Learn the strategies to transform your organisation Engage and motivate employees toward innovative action Excel in implementing a deep cultural shift The Innovation Race will make you reassess what you assumed you knew about innovation help boost the innovation process to new levels and bring your organisation to the forefront Water Accounting Jayne M. Godfrey, Keryn Chalmers, 2012 This groundbreaking book examines the role that water accounting can play in resolving economic environmental and social issues One of the most pressing global issues of the 21st century is the scarcity of water to ensure economic environmental and social sustainability In addressing the issue through policy and management access to high quality information is critically important But water scarcity has many implications and it is possible that different reporting approaches generally called water accounting systems can be appropriate to addressing them In this key book international experts respond to the question what role can water accounting play in resolving economic social and environmental issues at individual organizational industry national and international levels They explore how various forms of water accounting are utilized and the issues that they address Academics and postgraduate students interested in water scarcity and accounting will find this book invaluable Policymakers in all areas relating to water as well as environmentalists water industry managers and water lawyers will find plenty of important insights in this essential resource Anzac's Long Shadow James Brown, 2014-02-15 A century ago we got it wrong We sent thousands of young Australians on a military operation that was barely more than a disaster It s right that a hundred years later we should feel strongly about that But have we got our remembrance right What lessons haven t we learned about war and what might be the cost of our Anzac obsession Defence analyst and former army officer James Brown believes that Australia is expending too much time money and emotion on the Anzac legend and that today s soldiers are suffering for it Vividly evoking the war in Afghanistan Brown reveals the experience of the modern soldier He looks closely at the companies and clubs that trade on the Anzac story He shows that Australians spend a lot more time looking after dead warriors than those who are alive We focus on a cult of remembrance instead of understanding a new world of soldiering and strategy And we make it impossible to criticise the

Australian Defence Force even when it makes the same mistakes over and over None of this is good for our soldiers or our ability to deal with a changing world With respect and passion Brown shines a new light on Anzac s long shadow and calls for change Bold original challenging James Brown tackles the burgeoning Anzac industry and asks Australians to re examine how we think about the military and modern day service Leigh Sales The best book yet written not just on Australia s Afghan war but on war itself and the creator destroyer myth of Anzac John Birmingham James Brown is a former Australian Army officer who commanded a cavalry troop in Southern Iraq served on the Australian taskforce headquarters in Baghdad and was attached to Special Forces in Afghanistan Today he is the Military Fellow at the Lowy Institute for International Policy where he works on strategic military issues and defence policy He also chairs the NSW Government s Contemporary Veterans Forum He lives in Sydney

Corporate Governance Failures James P. Hawley, Shyam J. Kamath, Andrew T. Williams, 2011-04-15 Corporate governance the internal policies and leadership that guide the actions of corporations played a major part in the recent global financial crisis While much blame has been targeted at compensation arrangements that rewarded extreme risk taking but did not punish failure the performance of large supposedly sophisticated institutional investors in this crisis has gone for the most part unexamined Shareholding organizations such as pension funds and mutual funds hold considerable sway over the financial industry from Wall Street to the City of London Corporate Governance Failures The Role of Institutional Investors in the Global Financial Crisis exposes the misdeeds and lapses of these institutional investors leading up to the recent economic meltdown In this collection of original essays edited by pioneers in the field of fiduciary capitalism top legal and financial practitioners and researchers discuss detrimental actions and inaction of institutional investors Corporate Governance Failures reveals how these organizations exposed themselves and their clientele to extremely complex financial instruments such as credit default swaps through investments in hedge and private equity funds as well as more traditional equity investments in large financial institutions The book s contributors critique fund executives for tolerating the pursuit of alpha culture that led managers to pursue risky financial strategies in hopes of outperforming the market The volume also points out how and why institutional investors failed to effectively monitor such volatile investments ignoring relatively well established corporate governance principles and best practices Along with detailed investigations of institutional investor missteps Corporate Governance Failures offers nuanced and realistic proposals to mitigate future financial pitfalls This volume provides fresh perspectives on ways institutional investors can best act as gatekeepers and promote responsible investment

industry lie two profound challenges the delicate balance between income and compassion and the severe threats to the survival of all remaining elephant species Trained elephants exchange hands for staggering sums reaching up to 100 000 each yet the colossal appetites of the herds with each elephant devouring over 100 kilograms of sustenance daily pose formidable economic challenges for camp owners An elephant camp's revenue is dependent on tourism with a complex web of specialist businesses local and international large and small contracted to recruit and enable visitors This results in competition focused mainly on price and profitability considerations The inadequacies of these business networks and of the administrative controls within which they operate were demonstrated during the complete shutdown of elephant tourism venues in early 2020 due to COVID 19 This authoritative text analyses elephants vulnerabilities providing an inspiring call to action for a more compassionate coexistence between elephants and the stakeholders responsible for their individual and herd welfare and survival Elephant Welfare in Global Tourism is intended for managers professionals and administrators of elephant camps refuges and rescue centres and for NGOs providing advice and support Academic researchers on wildlife may find inspiration for suitable topics and examples of current methodologies

Climate Change in Cities Sara Hughes, Eric K. Chu, Susan G. Mason, 2017-09-27 This book presents pioneering work on a range of innovative practices experiments and ideas that are becoming an integral part of urban climate change governance in the 21st century Theoretically the book builds on nearly two decades of scholarships identifying the emergence of new urban actors spaces and political dynamics in response to climate change priorities However it further articulates and applies the concepts associated with urban climate change governance by bridging formerly disparate disciplines and approaches Empirically the chapters investigate new multi level urban governance arrangements from around the world and leverage the insights they provide for both theory and practice Cities both as political and material entities are increasingly playing a critical role in shaping the trajectory and impacts of climate change action However their policy planning and governance responses to climate change are fraught with tension and contradictions While on one hand local actors play a central role in designing institutions infrastructures and behaviors that drive decarbonization and adaptation to changing climatic conditions their options and incentives are inextricably enmeshed within broader political and economic processes Resolving these tensions and contradictions is likely to require innovative and multi level approaches to governing climate change in the city new interactions new political actors new ways of coordinating and mobilizing resources and new frameworks and technical capacities for decision making We focus explicitly on those innovations that produce new relationships between levels of government between government and citizens and among governments the private sector and transnational and civil society actors A more comprehensive understanding is needed of the innovative approaches being used to navigate the complex networks and relationships that constitute contemporary multi level urban climate change governance Debra Roberts Co Chair Working Group II IPCC 6th Assessment Report AR6 and Acting Head Sustainable and Resilient City Initiatives Durban

South Africa Climate Change in Cities offers a refreshingly frank view of how complex cities and city processes really are Christopher Gore Associate Professor and Chair Department of Politics and Public Administration Ryerson University Canada This book is a rare and welcome contribution engaging critically with questions about cities as central actors in multilevel climate governance but it does so recognizing that there are lessons from cities in both the Global North and South Harriet Bulkeley Professor of Geography Durham University United Kingdom This timely collection provides new insights into how cities can put their rhetoric into action on the ground and explores just how this promise can be realised in cities across the world from California to Canada India to Indonesia

How To Do Your Dissertation in Geography and Related Disciplines Tony Parsons, Peter G Knight, 2015-02-20 This book provides undergraduates with a step by step guide to successfully carrying out an independent research project or dissertation The book addresses each stage of the project by answering the questions that a student is likely to ask as the work progresses from choosing the subject area and planning the data collection through to producing illustrations and writing the final report Most undergraduates in geography and related disciplines are required to undertake individual projects as part of their degree course this book is a source of constructive practical advice This new third edition continues the tradition of friendly well informed but informal support and continues to focus on answering the specific questions that students typically ask at each stage of the project The new edition brings the text completely up to date by taking into account changes within the discipline and changes in the ways that students work New digital media social networking mobile technology e journals anti plagiarism software ethics approval rules and risk assessments are among the issues that this new edition takes into account The new edition also broadens the book's appeal by extending its coverage of the wide range of different approaches to geographical research with expanded coverage of qualitative research Geographic Information Systems and new approaches to research design in both physical and human geographies

When We Are No More Abby Smith Rumsey, 2016-03-01 Our memory gives the human species a unique evolutionary advantage Our stories ideas and innovations in a word our culture can be recorded and passed on to future generations Our enduring culture and restless curiosity have enabled us to invent powerful information technologies that give us invaluable perspective on our past and define our future Today we stand at the very edge of a vast uncharted digital landscape where our collective memory is stored in ephemeral bits and bytes and lives in air conditioned server rooms What sources will historians turn to in 100 let alone 1 000 years to understand our own time if all of our memory lives in digital codes that may no longer be decipherable In When We Are No More Abby Smith Rumsey explores human memory from pre history to the present to shed light on the grand challenge facing our world the abundance of information and scarcity of human attention Tracing the story from cuneiform tablets and papyrus scrolls to movable type books and the birth of the Library of Congress Rumsey weaves a compelling narrative that explores how humans have dealt with the problem of too much information throughout our history and indeed how we might begin solve the same problem for our digital future

Serving as a call to consciousness When We Are No More explains why data storage is not memory why forgetting is the first step towards remembering and above all why memory is about the future not the past If we re thinking 1 000 years 3 000 years ahead in the future we have to ask ourselves how do we preserve all the bits that we need in order to correctly interpret the digital objects we create We are nonchalantly throwing all of our data into what could become an information black hole without realizing it Vint Cerf Chief Evangelist at Google at a press conference in February 2015
