#RhodesMustFall Nyamnjoh, Francis B., 2016-04-18 This book on rights entitlements and citizenship in post apartheid South Africa shows how the playing field has not been as levelled as presumed by some and how racism and its benefits persist Through everyday interactions and experiences of university students and professors it explores the question of race in a context still plagued by remnants of apartheid inequality and perceptions of inferiority and inadequacy among the majority black population In education black voices and concerns go largely unheard as circles of privilege are continually regenerated and added onto a layered and deep history of cultivation of black pain These issues are examined against the backdrop of organised student protests sweeping through the country s universities with a renewed clamour for transformation around a rallying cry of Black Lives Matter The nuanced complexity of this insightful analysis of the Rhodes Must Fall movement elicits compelling questions about the attractions and dangers of exclusionary articulations of belonging What could a grand imperialist like the stripling Uitlander or foreigner of yesteryear Sir Cecil John Rhodes possibly have in common with the present day nimble footed makwerekwere from Africa north of the Limpopo The answer Nyamnjoh suggests is to be found in how human mobility relentlessly tests the boundaries of citizenship #RhodesMustFall B.

after the start of the 2015 South African FeesMustFall revolt FeesMustFall the student revolt that began in October 2015 was an uprising against lack of access to and financial exclusion from higher education in South Africa More broadly it radically questioned the socio political dispensation resulting from the 1994 social pact between big business the ruling elite and the liberation movement The 2015 revolt links to national and international youth struggles of the recent past and is informed by black consciousness politics and social movements of the international left Yet its objectives are more complex than those of earlier struggles The student movement has challenged the hierarchical top down leadership system of university management and it s double speak of professing to act in workers and students interests yet entrenching a regressive system for control and governance University managements while on one level amenable to change have also co opted students into their ranks to create co responsibility for the highly bureaucratised university financial aid that stands in the way of their social revolution This book maps the contours of student discontent a year after the start of the FeesMustFall revolt Student voices dissect colonialism improper compromises by the founders of democratic South Africa feminism worker rights and meaningful education In depth assessments by prominent scholars reflect on the complexities of student activism its impact on national and university governance and offer provocative analyses of the power of the revolt The Black Consciousness Reader Baldwin Ndaba, Therese Owen, Masego Panyane, Rabbie Sermula, Janet Smith, 2019-04-25 There is a current revival of Black Consciousness as political and student movements around the world as well as academics and campaigners working in decolonization reconfigure the continued struggle for socio economic revolution Yet the roots of Black Consciousness and its relation to other movements such as Black Lives Matter have only begun to be explored Black Consciousness has deep connections to the struggle against apartheid The Black Consciousness Reader is an essential collection of history culture philosophy and meaning of Black Consciousness by some of the thinkers artists and activists who developed it in order to finally bring revolution to South Africa A contribution to the world s Black cultural archive it examines how the proper acknowledgement of Blackness brings a greater love a broader sweep of heroes and a wider understanding of intellectual and political influences Although the legendary murdered activist Steve Biko is a strong figure within this history the book documents many other significant international Black Consciousness personalities and focuses a predominantly African eye on Black Consciousness in politics land women power art music and religion Onkgopotse Tiro Vuyelwa Mashalaba Winnie Madikizela Mandela Assata Shakur Marcus Garvey Neville Alexander Thomas Sankara Malcolm X Don Mattera Keorapetse Kgotsitsile W E B DuBois Walter Rodney Mongane Wally Serote Ready D and Zola are among the many bold minds included in this amalgam of facts ideas and images Strengthening Argentina's Integration into the Global Economy Martha Martínez Licetti, Mariana Iootty, Tanja Goodwin, José Signoret, 2018-05-14 Integration into global markets can improve the efficiency of the Argentinian economy providing opportunities for private investment to flourish and for the associated benefits to accrue to consumers Among many policies that are important for integrating into the global economy particularly relevant are trade investment and competition policies They all share a common attribute the capacity to shape the incentives of firms to improve resource allocation and to strengthen productivity while integrating into international markets Once properly combined investment trade and competition policies have mutually reinforcing relationships in the sense that growth dividends stemming from reforms in one policy area are reinforced when properly combined with reforms in the other two Against this backdrop this report follows a three pronged approach It presents a set of robust empirical analyses drawing from both general and partial equilibrium exercises to assess the potential impacts from trade competition and investment policy reforms It offers a new comparative review of international experience with structural microeconomic reform programs to bring insights for Argentina s design and sequencing of such reforms Finally it presents individual reform recommendations for each institution in charge of the three respective policy areas in an integrated step by step framework from the firm perspective to illustrate the critical challenges to investment and internationalization for Argentinian firms

Rising Powers, People Rising Alf Gunvald Nilsen, Karl von Holdt, 2021-04-26
Rising Powers People Rising is a pathbreaking volume in which leading international scholars discuss the emerging political economy of development in the BRICS countries centred on neo liberalization precarity and popular struggles The rise of the BRICS countries Brazil Russia India China and South Africa has called into question the future of Western dominance in world markets and geopolitics However the developmental trajectories of the BRICS countries are shot through with socio economic fault lines that relegate large numbers of people to the margins of current growth processes where life is characterized by multiple and overlapping vulnerabilities These socio economic fault lines have in turn given rise to political convulsions across the BRICS countries ranging from single issue protests to sustained social movements oriented towards structural transformation The contributions in this book focus on the ways in and extent to which these trajectories generate distinct forms and patterns of mobilization and resistance and conversely how popular struggles impact on and shape these trajectories The book unearths the economic social and political contradictions that tend to disappear from view in mainstream narratives of the BRICS countries as rising powers in the world system The chapters in this book were originally published as a special issue of Globalizations

The Politics of Negative Emotions Dan

Degerman,2023-04-28 Negative emotions including anger fear and shame have been at the heart of recent political events such as the protests against COVID 19 restrictions These negative emotions can be politically destructive leading people to act rashly without due concern for democratic principles However they can also accurately signal wrongdoing and motivate acts to redress the situation as displayed in the Black Lives Matter and climate change movements This volume brings together perspectives from political science and philosophy to shed new light on the political faces of negative emotions Engaging with real world political events from Europe the US and Africa contributors critically evaluate much discussed emotions such as anger and fear but also less prominent ones such as frustration and discomfort

Unfixable Forms

Katherine Schaap Williams,2021-06-15 Unfixable Forms explores how theatrical form remakes and is in turn remade by early modern disability Figures described as deformed lame crippled ugly sick and monstrous crowd the stage in English drama of the sixteenth and seventeenth centuries In each case such a description distills cultural expectations about how a body should look and what a body should do yet crucially demands the actor s embodied performance In the early modern theater concepts of disability collide with the deforming vulnerable body of the actor Reading dramatic texts alongside a diverse array of sources ranging from physic manuals to philosophical essays to monster pamphlets Katherine Schaap Williams excavates an archive of formal innovation to argue that disability is at the heart of the early modern theater s exploration of what it means to put the body of an actor on the stage Offering new interpretations of canonical works by William Shakespeare Ben Jonson Thomas Dekker Thomas Middleton and William Rowley and close readings of little known plays such as The Fair Maid of the Exchange and A Larum For London Williams demonstrates how disability cuts across foundational distinctions between nature and art form and matter and being and seeming Situated at the intersections of early modern drama disability studies and performance theory Unfixable Forms locates disability on the early modern stage as both a product of cultural constraints and a spark for performance's unsettling demands and electrifying eventfulness You Can't Go to War Without Song Omotayo Jolaosho, 2022-07-26 You Can't Go to War without Song explores the role of public performance in political activism in contemporary South Africa. Weaving together detailed ethnographic fieldwork and an astute theoretical framework, Omotayo Jolaosho examines the cohesive power of protest songs and dances within the Anti-Privatisation Forum (APF), one of many social movements that emerged in the wake of South Africa's democratic transition after 1994. Jolaosho demonstrates the ways APF members adapted anti-apartheid songs and dance to create new expressive forms that informed and commented on their struggles for access to water, electricity, housing, education, and health facilities, the costs of which had been made prohibitive by privatization. You Can't Go to War without Song offers profiles of individual activists to amplify its central point: social movements like the APF are best understood as the coming together of individuals, and it is the songs and dances of the movement that bind these individuals together and create opportunity for community organization. Chapters on women and youth complicate such understandings of community, however, showing how activist lives and experiences are shaped by gender and generation.

Rethinking Higher Education in Post-Apartheid South Africa Emnet Tadesse Woldegiorgis, Logan Govender, Dennis Zami Atibuni, 2025-07-25 This book explores the opportunities and epistemological and structural challenges facing higher education in postcolonial South Africa and argues for a fundamental transformation to meet the needs of the 21st century. Taking the concept of transformation as a unifying thread, this book discusses the evolving trajectories of higher education in South Africa with particular emphasis on the decolonial initiatives that have emerged in the post-Apartheid era. During this time, there have been persistent calls for South Africa to move beyond Eurocentric education programmes and curricula in favour of a system that reflects the continent's culture and identities of all South Africans. The book argues that incremental reforms of existing structures are insufficient and that instead a deeper, more fundamental shift in higher education structures, values, and systems is needed. Overall, the book calls for a comprehensive transformation to expand access for historically disadvantaged communities, enhance quality and competitiveness, address past injustices, and improve the quality and capacity to act together for a more sustainable and just future. Also exploring the digital transformations which have accelerated in the wake of the COVID-19 pandemic, this book will be an essential read for researchers and policymakers working on higher education in South Africa.
