Breaking news notifications	bulletin	headlines round-the-clock reporting	interview	news flash scandal
--------------------------------	----------	--	-----------	-----------------------

Unit 3: Exercise 2

Choose the correct words to complete the text.

What are the main opinions/sources/summaries of news? Where do journalists get their stories from? Well, there's always an element of personal interviewing/reporting/researching, i.e. seeing things with your own eyes and describing what you see. In the same way, journalists interview a lot of articles/reporters/witnesses to events, to find out what happened from the people who actually saw it happening. Journalists can also find their own news stories, through investigation, where they do a lot of research to cause/discover/effect something completely new. They can also find out useful information from account/reaction/social media sites. It's fair to say that a large number of news stories are provided by businesses and other organisations as press archives/images/releases. Organisations also hold press conferences, where a large number of journalists are invited to listen to important discussions/radio/statements and then ask questions.
