Rights-based Litigation, Urban Governance and Social Justice in South Africa Marius Pieterse, 2017-09-08 Rights based Litigation Urban Governance and Social Justice in South Africa considers the overlap between legal and everyday struggles for social and spatial justice in the particular context of Johannesburg South Africa Drawing from literature across disciplines of law urban geography and urban planning as well as from reported case law concerning the invocation of constitutional rights in Johannesburg and other South African cities the book critically examines whether and to what extent the invocation of legal rights before South African courts have contributed to the advancement of social justice in the city It considers the impact of the legal assertion of different constituent aspects of the so called right to the city on the many people simultaneously performing the right the governance structures responsible for enabling and facilitating its enjoyment and thirdly the physical place in which it is performed Drawing broad conclusions on the utility of rights based litigation for the achievement of social change and spatial justice this book will be of interest to students and scholars of South Africa constitutional law human rights law regulatory law sociology of rights studies of law and society urban studies urban geography governance studies and development studies

Urban Transformations: Centres, Peripheries and Systems Daniel P. O'Donoghue, 2016-02-11 Definitions of urban entities and urban typologies are changing constantly to reflect the growing physical extent of cities and their hinterlands These include suburbs sprawl edge cities gated communities conurbations and networks of places and such transformations cause conflict between central and peripheral areas at a range of spatial scales This book explores the role of cities their influence and the transformations they have undertaken in the recent past Ways in which cities regenerate how plans change how they are governed and how they react to the economic realities of the day are all explored Concepts such as polycentricity are explored to highlight the fact that cities are part of wider regions and the study of urban geography in the future needs to be cognisant of changing relationships within and between cities Bringing together studies from around the world at different scales from small town to megacity this volume captures a snapshot of some of the changes in city centres suburbs and the wider urban region In doing so it provides a deeper understanding of the evolving form and function of cities and their associated peripheral regions as well as their impact on modern twenty first century landscapes Unlawful Occupation Marie Huchzermeyer,2004 In the past few years the issue of land invasion and government responses to landlessness in the Southern African region has been at the forefront of international attention By confronting the the questions of exclusion and unlawful occupation this book examines the appropriateness of the informal settlement response in South Africa through a comparison with Brazil This detailed comparison sets forth the difference in the approaches of both countries with South Africa employing the individualised standardised intervention and Brazil a more responsive one

Social Movements in the Global South S. Motta,A. Gunvald Nilsen,2011-03-29 Popular struggles in the global south suggest the need for the development of new and politically enabling categories of analysis and new ways of understanding contemporary social movements This book shows how social movements in Africa South Asia Latin America and the Middle East politicize development in an age of neoliberal hegemony African Urban Economies D. Bryceson,D. Potts,2005-12-16 Are Africa s most populous and economically dominant cities a force to reckon with in the twenty first century This book analyzes the economies of East and Southern Africa s apex cities probing how they have altered structurally over time and their current sources of economic vitality and vulnerability at local national and international levels Case study chapters focusing on Johannesburg Chitungwiza Gaborone Maputo Dar es Salaam Mombasa Nairobi Kampala and Mogadishu shed new light on contemporary African urban prospects and problems Planning World Cities Peter Newman,Andy Thornley,2011-06-21 This major comparative text on urban planning and the global and regional context in which it takes place examines what have been traditionally regarded as world cities New York London Tokyo and also a range of other important cities in America Europe and Asia The authors show the role planning has played in the way cities have responded to the forces of globalization and argue for the importance of diverse rather than one size fits all planning practices This fully revised second edition systematically brings the debates on the impact of globalization right up to date and provides integrated coverage of the latest planning theory and practice It also contains extended analysis of the implications of the rapid growth of Chinese cities such as Shanghai Hong Kong and Beijing New material is included on the impact of globalization on poorer mega cities like Mumbai and Johannesburg Reconsidering Localism Simin Davoudi,Ali

Madanipour,2015-01-09 Localism has been deployed in recent debates over planning law as an anodyne grassroots way to shape communities into sustainable human scale neighborhoods But local is a moving category with contradictory nuanced dimensions Reconsidering Localism brings together new scholarship from leading academics in Europe and North America to develop a theoretically grounded critique and definition of the new localism and how it has come to shape urban governance and urban planning Moving beyond the UK this book examines localism and similar shifts in planning policy throughout Europe and features essays on localism and place making sustainability social cohesion and citizen participation in community institutions It explores how debates over localism and citizen control play out at the neighborhood institutional and city level and has come to effect the urban landscape throughout Europe Reconsidering Localism is a current vital addition to planning scholarship Globalization, Economic Inclusion and African Workers Kate Meagher,Laura Mann,Maxim Bolt,2018-10-03 This book addresses the question of whether greater inclusion in the global economy offers a solution to rising unemployment and poverty in contemporary Africa The authors trace the connection between global demographic change and new mechanisms of economic inclusion via global value chains digital networks labour migration and corporate engagement with the bottom of the pyramid challenging the claim that African workers have become functionally irrelevant to the global economy They expose the shift of global demand for African workers from formal to increasingly informalised labour arrangements mediated by social enterprises labour brokers graduate entrepreneurs and grassroots associations Focusing on global employment connections initiated from above and from below the authors examine whether global labour linkages increase or reduce problems of vulnerable and unstable working conditions within African countries and considers the economic and political conditions needed for African workers to capture the gains of inclusion in the global economy This book was previously published as a special issue of the Journal of Development Studies
