Zora La Vampira:

Zora la vampira, 2024 Le vampire Arianna Conti, Franco Pezzini, 2005 Vampires in Italian Cinema, 1956-1975

Michael Guarneri, 2020-05-28 Positioning itself at the intersection of Italian film history horror studies and cultural studies this fascinating book asks why and how was the protean transnational and transmedial figure of the vampire appropriated by Italian cinema practitioners between 1956 and 1975 The book outlines both the 1945-85 industrial context of Italian cinema and the political economic and sociocultural context of the Italian Republic from post war reconstruction to the austerity of the mid 1970s Using case studies of films by directors such as Mario Bava and Riccardo Freda it also delves into lesser known gems of Italian psychotronic cinema from the 1960s and 1970s like L'amante del vampiro The Vampire and the Ballerina and Riti magiche nere e segrete orge nel Trecento The Reincarnation of Isabel With original research into hitherto unpublished film production data censorship data original screenplays trade papers film magazines and vampire themed paraliterature the book strongly argues for the cultural legitimacy of Italian film genres like horror adventure comedy and erotica whose study has so far been neglected in favour of the Italian auteur cinema of the 1940s neorealists and their later followers The Leopard (Il Gattopardo) David Weir, 2024-04-04 Luchino Visconti's The Leopard Il Gattopardo 1963 tells the story of an aristocratic Sicilian family adjusting to the realities of political and commercial modernity after the unification of Italy during the Risorgimento The film starring Claudia Cardinale Burt Lancaster and Alain Delon met with success upon its initial release winning the Palme d'Or at Cannes and having a successful theatrical run in Europe Despite this however it did not do well with English speaking audiences and eventually even fell out of favour with Italian audiences who took issue with the way Risorgimento history was represented David Weir's study of the film seeks to understand the film's paradoxical place in Italian film history He argues that Visconti's use of artifice narrative and history all aspects that came to be criticised were in fact essential to his cinematic art and can all be understood as strengths of the film Providing a scene by scene analysis of the film as well as illuminating its relationship to the Lampedusa novel from which it was adapted Weir suggests that Visconti's film goes beyond mere adaptation using the form of the novel for cinematic purposes and making The Leopard a cinematic novel in its own right He goes on to situate the film within Visconti's career questioning whether the uneven reception of the film reflects the paradox of Visconti's social status as a Marxist aristocrat and his position as an auteur director whose films borrowed heavily from the decadent tradition while at the same time professing allegiance to the Italian Communist Party

Danger: Diabolik Leon Hunt, 2018-02-20 Danger Diabolik 1968 was adapted from a comic that has been a social phenomenon in Italy for over fifty years featuring a masked master criminal part Fant mas part James Bond and his elegant companion Eva Kant The film partially reinvents the character as a countercultural prankster subverting public officials and the national economy and places him in a luxurious and futuristic underground hideout and Eva in a series of unforgettable outfits A commercial disappointment on its original release Danger Diabolik's reputation has grown along with that of its director Mario Bava the quintessential cult auteur while the pop art glamour of its costumes and sets have caught the imagination of such people as Roman Coppola and the Beastie Boys This study examines its status as a comic book movie including its relation both to the original fumetto and to its sister film Barbarella It traces its production and initial reception in Italy France the U S and the UK and its cult afterlife as both a pop art classic and campy bad film featured in the final episode of Mystery Science Theatre 3000

Migrant Anxieties Aine O'Healy, 2019-01-24 During a period of heightened global concerns about the movement of immigrants and refugees across borders Migrant Anxieties explores how filmmakers in Italy have probed the tensions accompanying the country's shift from an emigrant nation to a destination point for over five million immigrants over the course of three decades In O'Healy traces a phenomenology of anxiety that is not only present at the sociopolitical level but also interwoven into the narrative strategies of over 30 films produced since 1990 throwing into sharp relief the interface between the local and the global in this transnational era Starting with the representation of post communist migrations to Italy from Eastern Europe and subsequent arrivals from Africa through the controversial frontier of Lampedusa O'Healy explores topics as diverse as the configuration of migrant labor affective surrogacy Italian whiteness and the legacy of Italy's colonial history Showing how contemporary filmmaking practices in Italy are linked to changes in the broader media landscape O'Healy analyzes the ways in which both Italian and migrant filmmakers are reimagining Italian society and remapping the nation's borderscape

The Cinemas of Italian Migration Sabine Schrader, Daniel Winkler, 2014-10-17 Italy is more strongly influenced by the experiences of migrants than many other European countries This includes an historically ongoing internal migration from the south to the north which is strongly echoed in neo realism a mass emigration mainly to western Europe and North and South America that is connected with mafia films among others in Italy's collective imaginary as well as a more recent immigration influx from the southwestern Mediterranean which is dealt with at a film level

Rewind, Play, Fast Forward Henry Keazor, Thorsten Wübbena, 2015-07-15 Due to shifts in the contexts of the production and presentation of the music video more and more people start to talk about a possible end of this genre At the same time disciplines such as visual film and media studies art and music history begin to realize that despite the fact that the music video obviously has come of age they still lack a well defined and matching methodical approach for analyzing and discussing videoclips For the first time this volume brings together different disciplines as well as journalists museum curators and gallery owners in order to take a discussion of the past and present of the music video as an opportunity to reflect upon suited methodological approaches to this genre and to allow a glimpse into its future

Reframing Italy Bernadette Luciano, Susanna Scarpato, 2013-11-15 In recent years Italian cinema has experienced a quiet revolution the proliferation of films by women But their thought provoking work has not yet received the attention it deserves Reframing Italy fills this gap The book introduces readers to films and documentaries by recognized women directors such as Cristina Comencini Wilma Labate Alina Marazzi Antonietta De Lillo Marina Spada and

Francesca Comencini as well as to filmmakers whose work has so far been undeservedly ignored Through a thematically based analysis supported by case studies Luciano and Scarpato argue that Italian women filmmakers while not overtly feminist are producing work that increasingly foregrounds female subjectivity from a variety of social political and cultural positions This book with its accompanying video interviews explores the filmmakers challenging relationship with a highly patriarchal cinema industry The incisive readings of individual films demonstrate how women s rich cinematic production reframes the aesthetic of their cinematic fathers re positions relationships between mothers and daughters functions as a space for remembering women s hi stories and highlights pressing social issues such as immigration and workplace discrimination This original and timely study makes an invaluable contribution to film studies and to the study of gender and culture in the early twenty first century

Historical Dictionary of Italian Cinema Gino Moliterno,2020-12-08 Italian cinema is now regarded as one of the great cinemas of the world Historically however its fortunes have varied Following a brief moment of glory in the early silent era Italian cinema appeared to descend almost into irrelevance in the early1920s A strong revival of the industry which gathered pace during the 1930s was abruptly truncated by the advent of World War II The end of the war however initiated a renewal as films such as Roma citt aperta Rome Open City Sciusci Shoeshine 1946 and Ladri di biciclette Bicycle Thieves 1948 flagbearers of what soon came to be known as Neorealism attracted unprecedented international acclaim and a reputation that only continued to grow in the following years as Italian films were feted worldwide Ironically they were celebrated nowhere more than in the United States where Italian films consistently garnered the lion s share of the Oscars with Lina Wertm ller becoming the first woman to ever be nominated for the Best Director award This second edition of Historical Dictionary of Italian Cinema contains a chronology an introduction and an extensive bibliography The dictionary section has over 400 cross referenced entries on major movements directors actors actresses film genres producers industry organizations and key films This book is an excellent resource for students researchers and anyone wanting to know more about Italian Cinema
