Progressive Black Masculinities? Athena D. Mutua, 2006-11-06 In the struggle for pride and political agency the imperative to be a man has been central to the lives of black males Yet what it means to be a black man in terms of both racial and gender identity has been subject to continual debate in public and academic spheres alike Progressive Black Masculinities brings together leading black cultural critics including Michael Eric Dyson Mark Anthony Neal and Patricia Hill Collins to examine an alternatively demonized and mythologized black masculinity Collectively they offer a roadmap for new progressive models of black masculinity that may chart the course for the future of black men

African American Males and Education T. Elon Dancy II, M. Christopher Brown, 2012-10-01 African American Males in Education Researching the Convergence of Race and Identity addresses a number of research gaps This book emerges at a time when new social dynamics of race and other identities are shaping but also shaped by education Educational settings consistently perpetuate racial and other forms of privilege among students personnel and other participants in education For instance differential access to social networks still visibly cluster by race continuing the work of systemic privilege by promoting outcome inequalities in education and society The issues defining the relationship between African American males and education remain complex Although there has been substantial discussion about the plight of African American male participants and personnel in education only modest attempts have been made to center analysis of identity and identity intersections in the discourse Additionally more attention to African American male teachers and faculty is needed in light of their unique cultural experiences in educational settings and expectations to mentor and or socialize other African Americans particularly males

A Fatherless Child Tara T. Green, 2014-02-28 The impact of absent fathers on sons in the black community has been a subject for cultural critics and sociologists who often deal in anonymous data Yet many of those sons have themselves addressed the issue in autobiographical works that form the core of African American literature A Fatherless Child examines the impact of fatherlessness on racial and gender identity formation as seen in black men s autobiographies and in other constructions of black fatherhood in fiction Through these works Tara T Green investigates what comes of abandonment by a father and loss of a role model by probing a son s understanding of his father s struggles to define himself and the role of community in forming the son s quest for self definition in his father s absence Closely examining four works Langston Hughes s The Big Sea Richard Wright s Black Boy Malcolm X s The Autobiography of Malcolm X and Barack Obama s Dreams from My Father Green portrays the intersecting experiences of generations of black men during the twentieth century both before and after the Civil Rights movement These four men recall feeling the pressure and responsibility of caring for their mothers resisting public displays of care and desiring a loving noncontentious relationship with their fathers Feeling vulnerable to forces they may have identified as detrimental to their status as black men they use autobiography as a tool for healing a way to confront that vulnerability and to claim a lost power associated with their lost fathers Through her analysis Green emphasizes the role of community as a father substitute in producing successful black men the impact of fatherlessness on self perceptions and relationships with women and black men s engagement with healing the pain of abandonment She also looks at why these four men visited Africa to reclaim a cultural history and identity showing how each developed a clearer understanding of himself as an American man of African descent A Fatherless Child conveys important lessons relevant to current debates regarding the status of African American families in the twenty first century By showing us four black men of different eras Green asks readers to consider how much any child can heal from fatherlessness to construct a positive self image and shows that contrary to popular perceptions fatherlessness need not lead to certain failure
