Tourism And War Contemporary Geographies Of Leisure Tourism And Mobility:

Tourism and War Richard Butler, Wantanee Suntikul, 2013-05-07 This is the first volume to fully explore the complex relationship between war and tourism by considering its full range of dynamics including political psychological economic and ideological factors at different levels in different political and geographical locations Issues of peace and tourism are dealt with insofar as they pertain to the effects of war on tourism that emerge after the cessation of hostilities The book therefore reveals how not only location but also political strategies accidents of history transportation linkages and economic expediency all have played their role in the development and continuation of tourism before during and after wartime It further shows how the effects of war are seldom if ever simply a negation or reversal of the effects of peace on tourism The volume draws on a range of examples from medieval times to the present to reveal the multi faceted development of tourism amidst and because of conflict in a wide variety of locations including the Pacific Europe the Middle East North America Africa and South East Asia showing the diverse ways in which tourism and war interacts In doing so it explores how some locations have been developed as tourist attractions primarily because of war and conflict e g as resting and training places for troops and others flourished because of the threat of danger from conflicts to more traditional tourist locations This thought provoking volume contributes to the understanding of the interrelationships between war peace and tourism in many different parts of the world at different scales It will be valuable reading for all those interested in this topic as well as dark tourism battlefield tourism and heritage tourism

The Tourism-Disaster-Conflict Nexus Andreas Neef, Jesse Hession Grayman, 2018-11-12 Tourism is often seen as the world's peace industry Yet while tourism may play a major role in post conflict and post disaster recovery the sector can also be a trigger of crisis and disaster This book examines the complex linkages between tourism disaster and conflict through a series of case studies drawn mainly from the Asia Pacific region

Real Tourism Claudio Minca,Tim Oakes,2012 Over the past decade tourism studies has broken out of its traditional institutional affiliation with business and management programs to take its legitimate place as an interdisciplinary social science field of cutting edge scholarship The field has emerged as central to ongoing debates in social theory concerning such diverse topics as postcolonialism mobility and postmodernism to name just a few While there has been a diverse body of empirical research on this transformation the theoretical discussions in tourism studies remain largely attached to theories of modernity and Anglo centric assumptions about tourism There is a need for the field to come to terms theoretically with the contemporary and future realities of tourism as a truly global phenomenon Real Tourism is a significant volume which sets this new theoretical agenda engaging directly with what tourism does in practice and in place and demonstrates the need for a theoretical intervention that moves tourism scholarship beyond the province of Anglophone thinking The volume achieves this by explicitly bridging e western e tm and e non western e tm scholarship on tourism reframing theoretical discussions around e real practices e tm instead of abstract typologies and radically delinking tourism theory from the grand narratives of modernity and assumptions about authenticity identity tradition and development The book brings together leading academics in the field and provides provocative multidisciplinary and multi contextual reflection on the future of tourism This original timely and compelling volume puts forward new post modernist ideas and arguments about tourism today and in the future It is essential reading for students researchers and academics interested in Tourism The British National
