Toward The Geopolitical Novel Us Fiction In The Twenty First Century Literature Now:

Toward the Geopolitical Novel Caren Irr, 2013-12-17 Caren Irr's survey of more than 125 novels outlines the dramatic resurgence of the American political novel in the twenty first century. She explores the writings of Chris Abani, Susan Choi, Edwidge Danticat, Junot Díaz, Dave Eggers, Jeffrey Eugenides, Aleksandar Hemon, Hari Kunzru, Dinaw Mengestu, Norman Rush, Gary Shteyngart and others as they rethink stories of migration, the Peace Corps, nationalism and neoliberalism, revolution and the expatriate experience. Taken together, these innovations define a new literary form: the geopolitical novel. More cosmopolitan and socially critical than domestic realism, the geopolitical novel provides new ways of understanding crucial political concepts to meet the needs of a new century.

Literature in Motion Ellen Jones, 2022-01-18 Literature is often assumed to be monolingual: publishing rights are sold on the basis of linguistic territories and translated books are assumed to move from one original language to another. Yet a wide range of contemporary literary works mix and meld two or more languages, incorporating translation into their composition. How are these multilingual works translated, and what are the cultural and political implications of doing so? In Literature in Motion, Ellen Jones offers a new framework for understanding literary multilingualism, emphasizing how authors and translators can use its defamiliarizing and disruptive potential to resist conventions of form and dominant narratives about language and gender. Examining the connection between translation and multilingualism in contemporary literature, she considers its significance for the theory, practice and publishing of literature in translation. Jones argues that translation does not conflict with multilingual writing's subversive potential. Instead, we can understand multilingualism and translation as closely intertwined creative strategies through which other forms of textual and conceptual hybridity, fluidity and disruption are explored. Jones addresses both well-known and understudied writers from across the American hemisphere who explore the spaces between languages as well as genders, genres and textual versions, reading their work alongside their translations. She focuses on U.S. Latinx authors Susana Chvez, Silverman, Junot Díaz and Giannina Braschi, who write in different forms of Spanglish, as well as the Brazilian writer Wilson Bueno, who combines Portuguese and Spanish or Portuguese with the indigenous language Guarani, and whose writing is rendered into Frenglish by Canadian translator Erin Moure.

Handbook of the American Novel of the Twentieth and Twenty-First Centuries Timo Müller, 2017-01-11 Increasing specialization within the discipline of English and American Studies has shifted the focus of scholarly discussion toward theoretical reflection and cultural contexts. These developments have benefitted the discipline in more ways than one, but they have also resulted in a certain neglect of close reading. As a result, students and researchers interested in such material are forced to turn to scholarship from the 1960s and 1970s, much of which relies on dated methodological and ideological presuppositions. The handbook aims to fill this gap by providing new readings of texts that figure prominently in the literature classroom and in scholarly debate, from James's The Ambassadors to McCarthy's The Road. These readings do not revert naively to a time before theory. Instead, they distill the insights of literary and cultural theory into concise introductions to the historical background the themes the formal strategies and the reception of influential literary texts and they do so in a jargon free language accessible to readers on all levels of qualification Beards and Masculinity in American Literature Peter Ferry,2020-05-14 Beards and Masculinity in American Literature is a pioneering study of the symbolic power of the beard in the history of American writing This book covers the entire breadth of American writing from 18th century American newspapers and periodicals through the 19th and 20th centuries to recent contemporary engagements with the beard and masculinity With chapters focused on the barber and the barbershop in American writing the need for a shave in Ernest Hemingway s fiction Whitman s beard as a sanctuary for poets reaching out to the bearded bard and the contemporary re engagement with the beard as a symbol of Otherness in post 9 11 fiction Beards and Masculinity in American Literature underlines the symbolic power of facial hair in key works of American writing

The Gentrification Plot Thomas Heise,2021-12-21 For decades crime novelists have set their stories in New York City a place long famed for decay danger and intrigue What happens when the mean streets of the city are no longer quite so mean In the wake of an unprecedented drop in crime in the 1990s and the real estate development boom in the early 2000s a new suspect is on the scene gentrification Thomas Heise identifies and investigates the emerging gentrification plot in contemporary crime fiction He considers recent novels that depict the sweeping transformations of five iconic neighborhoods the Lower East Side Chinatown Red Hook Harlem and Bedford Stuyvesant that have been central to African American Latinx immigrant and blue collar life in the city Heise reads works by Richard Price Henry Chang Gabriel Cohen Reggie Nadelson Ivy Pochoda Grace Edwards Ernesto Qui onez Wil Medearis and Brian Platzner tracking their representations of broken windows policing cultural erasure racial conflict class grievance and displacement Placing their novels in conversation with oral histories urban planning and policing theory he explores crime fiction s contradictory and ambivalent portrayals of the postindustrial city s dizzying metamorphoses while underscoring the material conditions of the genre A timely and powerful book The Gentrification Plot reveals how today s crime writers narrate the death or murder of a place and a way of life

Free Indirect Timothy Bewes,2022-07-26 Everywhere today we are urged to connect Literary critics celebrate a new honesty in contemporary fiction or call for a return to realism Yet such rhetoric is strikingly reminiscent of earlier theorizations Two of the most famous injunctions of twentieth century writing E M Forster s Only connect and Fredric Jameson s Always historicize helped establish connection as the purpose of the novel and its reconstruction as the task of criticism But what if connection was not the novel s modus operandi but the defining aesthetic ideology of our era and its most monetizable commodity What kind of thought is left for the novel when all ideas are acceptable as long as they can be fitted to a consumer profile This book develops a new theory of the novel for the twenty first century In the works of writers such as J M Coetzee Rachel Cusk James Kelman W G Sebald and Zadie Smith Timothy Bewes identifies a mode of thought that he calls free indirect in which the novel s refusal of prevailing ideologies can be found It is not situated in a character or a narrator and does not take a subjective or perceptual form Far from heralding the arrival of a new literary genre this development represents the rediscovery of a quality that has been largely ignored by theorists thought at the limits of form Free Indirect contends that this self awakening of contemporary fiction represents the most promising solution to the problem of thought today

Infowhelm Heather Houser, 2020-06-16 How do artists and writers engage with environmental knowledge in the face of overwhelming information about catastrophe What kinds of knowledge do the arts produce when addressing climate change extinction and other environmental emergencies What happens to scientific data when it becomes art In Infowhelm Heather Houser explores the ways contemporary art manages environmental knowledge in an age of climate crisis and information overload Houser argues that the infowhelm a state of abundant yet contested scientific information is an unexpectedly resonant resource for environmental artists seeking to go beyond communicating stories about crises Infowhelm analyzes how artists transform the techniques of the sciences into aesthetic material repurposing data on everything from butterfly migration to oil spills and experimenting with data collection classification and remote sensing Houser traces how artists ranging from novelist Barbara Kingsolver to digital memorialist Maya Lin rework knowledge traditions native to the sciences entangling data with embodiment quantification with speculation precision with ambiguity and observation with feeling Their works provide new ways of understanding environmental change while also questioning traditional distinctions between types of knowledge Bridging the environmental humanities digital media studies and science and technology studies this timely book reveals the importance of artistic medium and form to understanding environmental issues and challenges our assumptions about how people arrive at and respond to environmental knowledge

Worlds Woven Together Vidyan Ravinthiran, 2022-07-29 Writing about poetry follows models provided either by academic scholarship or literary journalism each with its pitfalls The former distances the reader from the poem and effaces the critic's personality In literary journalism the critic is front and center but the discussion is introductory and prioritizes value judgments In either case entrenched practices and patterns of privilege limit one's perspective The situation worsens when it comes to minoritized poets and poets from the Global South where the focus is on restrictive notions of identity the stylistic innovations of literary works get ousted by prefabricated historical narratives In Worlds Woven Together the critic poet and scholar Vidyan Ravinthiran searches for alternatives pursuing close imaginative readings of a variety of writers His essays are open ended attentive and curious unabashedly passionate and subjective yet keenly analytical and investigative Discussing neglected authors and those well known in the West Ravinthiran sees politics as inseparable from literary form and is fascinated by the relation of the creative consciousness to the violences of history The book features essays on writers including Mir Taqi Mir Ana Blandiana A K Ramanujan Marianne Moore Eunice de Souza Czeslaw Milosz Ted Hughes Rae Armantrout Arvind Krishna Mehrotra Galway Kinnell Dawn Lundy Martin and Vahni Capildeo Revealing serendipitous connections between poems and cultures between lines of verse and the lives we lead Worlds Woven Together is for all readers fascinated by the mechanics and politics of poetry Tonal Intelligence Sunny Xiang, 2020-12-15 Why were U S intelligence organizations so preoccupied with demystifying East and Southeast Asia during the mid twentieth century Sunny Xiang offers a new way of understanding the American cold war in Asia by tracing aesthetic manifestations of Oriental inscrutability across a wide range of texts She examines how cold war regimes of suspicious thinking produced an ambiguity between Oriental enemies and Asian allies contributing to the conflict s status as both a real war and a long peace Xiang puts interrogation reports policy memos and field notes into conversation with novels poems documentaries and mixed media work by artists such as Theresa Hak Kyung Cha Kazuo Ishiguro Ha Jin and Trinh T Minh ha She engages her archive through a reading practice centered on tone juxtaposing Asian diasporans who appear similar in profile yet who differ in tone Tonal Intelligence considers how the meaning of race war and empire came under pressure during two interlinked periods of geopolitical transition American nation building in East and Southeast Asia during the mid twentieth century and Asian economic modernization during the late twentieth century By reading both state records and aesthetic texts from these periods for their tone rather than their content Xiang shows how bygone threats of Asian communism and emergent regimes of Asian capitalism have elicited distinct yet related anxieties about racial intelligibility Featuring bold methods unlikely archives and acute close readings Tonal Intelligence rethinks the marking and making of race during the long cold war

Extraterritorial Matthew Hart, 2020-08-25 The future of fiction is neither global nor national Instead Matthew Hart argues it is trending extraterritorial Extraterritorial spaces fall outside of national borders but enhance state power They cut across geography and history but do not point the way to a borderless new world They range from the United Nations headquarters and international waters to CIA black sites and the departure zones at international airports The political geography of the present Hart shows has come to resemble a patchwork of such spaces Hart reveals extraterritoriality s centrality to twenty first century art and fiction He shows how extraterritorial fictions expose the way states construct global space in their own interests Extraterritorial novels teach us not to mistake cracks or gradations in political geography for a crisis of the state Hart demonstrates how the unstable character of many twenty first century aesthetic forms can be traced to the increasingly extraterritorial nature of contemporary political geography Discussing writers such as Margaret Atwood J G Ballard Amitav Ghosh Chang rae Lee Hilary Mantel and China Mi ville as well as artists like Hito Steyerl and Mark Wallinger Hart combines lively critical readings of contemporary novels with historical and theoretical discussions about sovereignty globalization cosmopolitanism and postcolonialism Extraterritorial presents a new theory of literature that explains what happens when dreams of an open connected world confront the reality of mobile elastic and tenacious borders
