Towards Democracy Edward Carpenter (Social Reformer.), 1885

Doing Democracy Darren E. Lund, Paul R. Carr, 2008 In this provocative collection of essays with a distinctly critical and nuanced approach to how democracy is taught learned understood and lived authors from four continents share their visions on how democracy needs to be cultivated critiqued demonstrated and manifested throughout the educational experience The collective concern is how we actually do democracy in education The essays argue that democracy must be infused in everything that happens at school curriculum extra curricular activities interaction with parents and communities and through formal organization and structures One of the book s central questions is Are educators merely teaching students skills and knowledge to prepare them for the world of work or is education more about encouraging students to thrive within a pluralistic society This book reveals that democracy is an ethos an ideology a set of values a philosophy and a complex and dynamic terrain that is a contested forum for debate From seasoned veterans to emerging scholars these writers challenge the idea that there is only one type of democracy or that democracy is defined by elections Using a range of theoretical conceptual and methodological approaches each essay makes a compelling case for how education can advance a more critical engagement in democracy that promotes social justice and political literacy for all Diverse examples illustrate the theme of doing democracy With its numerous models for teaching and learning to encourage critical thinking and engagement this book is certain to be an invaluable resource to educators researchers students and anyone with a passion for democratic ideals Democracy and discontent Walter D. Young,1978 Democracy and Reaction L. T. Scott,2008 More Power Than We Know David T. Dellinger,1975 The Education of Radical Democracy Sarah Amsler,2015 The Education of Radical Democracy explores why radical democracy is so necessary difficult and possible and why it is important to understand it as an educative activity The book draws on critical social theory and critical pedagogy to explain what enables and sustains work for radical democratization and considers how we can begin such work in neoliberal societies today Exploring examples of projects from the nineteenth century to the present day the book sheds light on a wealth of critical tools research studies theoretical concepts and practical methods It offers a critical reading of the crisis of hope in neoliberal capitalist societies focusing on the problem of the contraction of possibilities for democratic agency resistance to domination and practices of freedom It argues that radically democratic thinking practice and forms of social organization are vital for countering and overcoming systemic hegemonies and that these can be learned and cultivated This book will be of interest to academics practitioners researchers and students in education and critical theory and to those interested in the sociology philosophy and politics of hope It also invites new dialogues between theorists of neoliberal power and political possibility those engaged in projects for radical democratization and teachers in formal and informal educational settings Reclaiming Democracy Albena Azmanova,Mihaela Mihai,2015 Democracy is in shambles economically and politically The recent economic meltdown in Europe and the U S has substituted democratic deliberation with technocratic decisions In Athens Madrid Lisbon New York Pittsburgh or Istanbul protesters have denounced the incapacity and unwillingness of elected officials to heed to their voices While the diagnosis of our political economic illness has been established remedies are hard to come What can we do to restore our broken democracy Which modes of political participation are likely to have an impact And what are the loci of political innovation in the wake of the crisis It is with these questions that Reclaiming Democracy engages We argue that the managerial approach to solving the crisis violates a right to politics that is a right that our collective life be guided by meaningful politics by discussion of and decision among genuinely alternative principles and policies The contributors to this volume are united in their commitment to explore how and where this right can be affirmed in a way that resuscitates democracy in the wake of the crisis Mixing theoretical reflection and empirical analysis the book offers fresh insights into democracy's current conundrum and makes concrete proposals about how the right to politics can be protected

Democracy and Social Change (Classic Reprint) Harry Frederick Ward, 2018-03-09 Excerpt from Democracy and Social Change In this rapidly changing world the American people like those of the other democracies do not yet know which way they are going They are beginning dimly to realize that the period of stability for capitalist civilization is ended that they are now caught in the swiftly moving currents produced by the breakup of an historic period If they are to make headway it is high time for them to get their bearings and chart their course Otherwise they will get the war they do not want and more of the unemployment they need not have and these things as the experience of Europe shows will destroy the democracy they wish to preserve About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work Forgotten Books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy In rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition We do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works Towards Democracy Complete in Four Parts, Vol. 1 of 4 (Classic Reprint)

Edward Carpenter, 2015-07-11 Excerpt from Towards Democracy Complete in Four Parts Vol 1 of 4 Edward Carpenter was born at Brighton England August 29 1844 He was educated at Brighton College and a Trinity Hall Cambridge taking his degree as tenth wrangler in the mathematical tripos in 1868 For some time fellow and lecturer at Trinity Hall he seemed contented to follow the conventional course adapting himself quietly to the system of compromises and contradictions supposed to represent the ideals of Christianity and civilization He was duly ordained and held a curacy under the Rev Frederick D Maurice But a nature so elemental in its need for light air and truth could not long be confined in a mould Carpenter began to realize that he could not do his daily living satisfactorily either In 1874 he relinquished his orders and fellowship and left Cambridge For some years he lectured in connection with the University Extension Movement in northern towns incidentally studying social and economic conditions and coming close to the raw human material which feeds those busy grimy manufacturing centres He contracted the habit of thinking and also the habit of dreaming About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work Forgotten Books uses state of the art
