Whitaker's Book List, 1988 Durban 1942 G. R. Rubin, 1992-01-01 On 13 January 1942 hundreds of army and air force servicemen due to sail from Durban on the British troopship City of Canterbury refused to board the vessel in defiance of their commanders and of the British Military and Naval authorities in South Africa Gerry Rubin sees this unusual and dramatic incident in the round Besides examining the legal case itself its precedents and its outcome he looks at both the human factors involved and at the wider background In so doing he deals with a little mentioned aspect of the war but one familiar to hundreds of thousands of servicemen the journey by troopship via the Cape to the Middle and Far East Sea Breezes, 1989 Whitaker's Books in Print, 1998 The Penguin Dictionary of Twentieth-century History Alan Warwick Palmer, Alan Palmer, 1990 An Historical Atlas of Kent Terence Lawson, David Killingray, 2004 Kent can probably claim to have more unique features in its history than most other counties all fully reflected in this Atlas The Cathedral at Canterbury with its medieval shrine to St Thomas Becket requires the general subject of pilgrimage to be covered in detail the Cinque Ports the echoes of their ancient privileges still apparent by the early 19th century are another Kentish phenomenon Romney Marsh although not quite the separate continent that some claim is nevertheless well worthy of the detailed account of its medieval history Kent's perennial role as a gateway is perfectly illustrated by the Strangers from the near Continent who settled widely here in the 16th and 17th centuries Kent's industrial history is dominated by the unique concentration of royal dockyards while the story of Kent's coalfield isolated from its cousins in the North and Midlands is yet another remarkable chapter Finally being located between the Capital and the shortest crossing to the Continent Kent's relationship with London has been exceptionally close since medieval times and is a recurring theme in this Atlas This comprehensive new Historical Atlas based on current research fills a notable gap in the published histories of the County and will serve for many years as an important work of reference for the history of Kent The 250 newly drawn and reader friendly maps cover topics ranging from the earliest Stone Age occupation to such modern developments as the growth of leisure industries Several topics not usually covered in county historical atlases are included for example the introduction of public water and gas supplies in the 19th century together with the expansion of banking services and the local press Virtually every aspect of Kent s history is clearly mapped and explained in this new work Though Kent has seen much in its time it has never before seen a book like this which will be welcomed well beyond the Kentish borders Book Jacket The Guinness Book of Records 1989 N. D. McWhirter,1988 People of Today ,2006 Engineering and Mining Journal ,1941
