Inside Animal Hearts and Minds Belinda Recio, 2017-08-01 As Charles Darwin suggested more than a century ago the differences between animals and humans are of degree and not of kind Not long ago ethologists denied that animals had emotions or true intelligence Now we know that rats laugh when tickled magpies mourn as they cover the departed with greenery female whales travel thousands of miles for annual reunions with their gal pals seals navigate by the stars bears hum when happy and crows slide down snowy rooftops for fun In engaging text photographs and infographics Inside Animal Hearts and Minds showcases fascinating and heart warming examples of animal emotion and cognition that will foster wonder and empathy Learn about an orangutan who does macram monkeys that understand the concept of money and rats that choose friendship over food Even language math and logic are no longer exclusive to humans Prairie dogs have their own complex vocabularies to describe human intruders parrots name their chicks sea lions appear capable of deductive thinking akin to a ten year old child s and bears lemurs parrots and other animals demonstrate numerical cognition In a world where a growing body of scientific research is closing the gap between the human and non human Inside Animal Hearts and Minds invites us to change the way we view animals the world and our place in it Law and New Media Delage Christian Delage, 2019-05-03 Will social media lead to social law The force of legal remediation Virtual courts and online judges Paperless trials Electronic discovery All of these novel legal developments impact how we conceive of the practice of law Here international specialists from new and established domains of law media film and virtual studies address the emergence of the jurist in the era of digital transmission From the cinema of the early 20th century to social media this volume explores the multiple intersections of these visual technologies and the law from the theoretical insight they generate to the nature of law to the impact they have on doctrinal development The Aesop's Fable Paradigm K. Brandon Barker, Daniel J. Povinelli, 2021-12-07 The Aesop s Fable Paradigm is a collection of essays that explore the cutting edge intersection of Folklore and Science From moralizing fables to fantastic folktales humans have been telling stories about animals animals who can talk feel think and make moral judgments just as we do for a very long time In contrast scientific studies of the mental lives of animals have professed to be investigating the nature of animal minds slowly cautiously objectively with no room for fanciful tales fables or myths But recently these folkloric and scientific traditions have merged in an unexpected and shocking way scientists have attempted to prove that at least some animal fables are actually true These interdisciplinary chapters examine how science has targeted the well known Aesop s fable The Crow and the Pitcher as their starting point They explore the ever growing set of experimental studies which purport to prove that crows possess an understanding of higher order concepts like weight mass and even Archimedes insight about the physics of water displacement The Aesop s Fable Paradigm explores how these scientific studies are doomed to accomplish little more than to mirror anthropomorphic representations of animals in human folklore and reveal that the problem of folkloric projection extends far beyond the Aesop's Fable Paradigm into every nook and cranny of research on animal cognition Animal Ethics and Philosophy Elisa Aaltola, John Hadley, 2014-11-24 Debate in animal ethics needs reenergizing To date philosophers have focused on a relatively limited number of specific themes whilst leaving metaphilosophical issues that require urgent attention largely unexamined This timely collection of essays brings together new theory and critical perspectives on key topics in animal ethics foregrounding questions relating to moral status moral epistemology and moral psychology Is an individualistic approach based upon capacities the best way to ground the moral status of non human animals or should philosophers pursue relational perspectives What does it mean to know animals and speak for them What is the role of emotions such as disgust empathy and love in animal ethics and how does emotion inform the rationalism inherent in analytic animal ethics theory The collection aims to broaden the scope of animal ethics rendering it more inclusive of important contemporary philosophical themes and pushing the discipline in new directions Exploring Awesome Animal Bodies with Math Robyn Hardyman, 2016-12-15 Super strength invisibility and the power of flight these traits aren't just for superheroes Readers will discover incredible creatures with awesome abilities from camouflage to constructing cocoons Amazing photographs of these bizarre animals will fascinate readers while fact boxes overflowing with interesting tidbits will keep them turning pages Fun quiz questions pop up throughout the book to show readers the relationship between science and math A helpful answer key lets readers check their answers at the end making the math problems feel like a game Social Emotional Stories Barbara A. Lewis, 2021-08-30 Make social emotional learning fun and engaging with 24 ready to use lessons about phenomenal plants and astonishing animals Storytelling is a learning device used by humans for centuries and for good reason storytelling is one of the best ways to increase critical thinking skills and social emotional learning SEL The award winning Social Emotional Stories combines storytelling with thought provoking lessons and activities to help elementary students improve their self esteem increase their engagement with school and give them a sense of empowerment The book contains 24 individual lessons that include An SEL objective with specific keywords like inner strength problem solving and responsibility An engaging story that focuses on a distinctive quality of either a plant like the inner strength of bamboo or an animal like the courage of a pig Multiple activities that are quick easy and require few supplies to help kids identify and dive deeper into the specific SEL concepts represented Educators can use these lessons individually with students in small groups or with an entire class The lessons are interdisciplinary and flexible with only minimal prep time required allowing educators to adapt them for their situation Extensive digital content supports the lessons with reproducible forms and a full color photo of each plant and animal Enter the Animal Teya Brooks Pribac, 2021-02-01 Historically grief and spirituality have been jealously guarded as uniquely human experiences Although non human animal grief has been acknowledged in recent times its potency has not been recognised as equal to human grief Anthropocentric philosophical questions still underpin both academic and popular discussions In Enter the Animal Teya

Brooks Pribac examines what we do and don't know about grief and spirituality. She explores the growing body of knowledge about attachment and loss and how they shape the lives of both human and non-human animals. A valuable addition to the vibrant interdisciplinary conversation about animal subjectivity. Enter the Animal identifies conceptual and methodological approaches that have contributed to the prejudice against nonhuman animals. It offers a compelling theoretical base for the consideration of grief and spirituality across species and highlights important ethical implications for how humans treat other animals.

Booktalking Nonfiction Jennifer Bromann-Bender, 2013-12-20. Booktalking Nonfiction 200. Sure Fire Winners for Middle and High School Readers will provide an introduction to selecting and writing booktalks for nonfiction books with a focus on unique informational texts and biographies and autobiographies. A booktalk is a summary of a book presented in a way that would interest someone in reading the book described. Why non-fiction? Because the Common Core Standards Initiative, which most states have adopted, requires that 70% of the materials students read be from the category of informational texts. It is especially important to focus on nonfiction when sharing books with students. Here's everything you need to do just that. Chapters cover selecting, writing, preparing, and presenting booktalks, special tips for high interest, low level books, and using non-fiction in the library and the classroom. Two hundred ready to present booktalks arranged by genre are also included. Genres include animals, famous people, sports, crime, and serial killers, movies, and television, religion, war, history, and the supernatural.

How Animals Grieve Barbara J. King, 2013-03-28. A touching and provocative exploration of the latest research on animal minds and animal emotions from the renowned anthropologist and author. The Washington Post: Scientists have long cautioned against anthropomorphizing animals, arguing that it limits our ability to truly comprehend the lives of other creatures. Recently, however, things have begun to shift in the other direction, and anthropologist Barbara J. King is at the forefront of that movement, arguing strenuously that we can and should attend to animal emotions. With How Animals Grieve, she draws our attention to the specific case of grief and relates story after story from fieldsites, farms, homes, and more of animals mourning lost companions, mates, or friends. King tells of elephants surrounding their matriarch as she weakens and dies, and in the following days attending to her corpse as if holding a vigil. A housecat loses her sister from whom she's never before been parted and spends weeks pacing the apartment wailing plaintively A baboon loses her daughter to a predator and sinks into grief In each case King uses her anthropological training to interpret and try to explain what we see to help us understand this animal grief properly as something neither the same as nor wholly different from the human experience of loss The resulting book is both daring and down to earth strikingly ambitious even as it is careful to acknowledge the limits of our understanding Through the moving stories she chronicles and analyzes so beautifully King brings us closer to the animals with whom we share a planet and helps us see our own experiences attachments and emotions as part of a larger web of life death love and loss

What a Fish Knows Jonathan Balcombe, 2024-09-04 The New York Times bestselling exploration of the world from a piscine perspective makes a persuasive case that what fish know is quite a lot Elizabeth Kolbert The New York Review of Books Do fishes think Do they really have three second memories And can they recognize the humans who peer back at them from above the surface of the water In What a Fish Knows ethologist Jonathan Balcombe addresses these questions and more revealing the surprising capabilities of fishes Upending our assumptions about fishes Balcombe portrays them not as unfeeling dead eyed feeding machines but as sentient aware social and even Machiavellian in other words much like us What a Fish Knows draws on the latest science to present a fresh look at these remarkable creatures Fishes conduct elaborate courtship rituals and develop lifelong bonds with shoalmates They also plan hunt cooperatively use tools curry favor deceive one another and punish wrongdoers Highlighting breakthrough discoveries from around the world and pondering his own encounters with fishes Balcombe examines the fascinating means by which fishes gain knowledge of the places they inhabit from shallow tide pools to the deepest reaches of the ocean Teeming with insights and exciting discoveries What a Fish Knows will forever change how we see our aquatic cousins the pet goldfish included Longlisted for the PEN E O Wilson Literary Science Writing Award Balcombe vividly shows that fish have feelings and deserve consideration and protection like other sentient beings The Dalai Lama An exhaustively researched and elegantly written argument for the moral claims of ichthyofauna Nathan Heller The New Yorker Engrossing Nature With the vivacious energy of a cracking good storyteller Balcombe makes a convincing case Publishers Weekly

Is Anyone Listening? Denise L. Herzing, 2024-11-14 From a leading researcher on dolphin communication a deep dive into the many ways animal species communicate with their kin their neighboring species and us If you could pose one question to a dolphin what would it be And what might a dolphin ask you For forty years researcher and author Denise L Herzing has investigated these and related questions of marine mammal communication With the assistance of a friendly community of Atlantic spotted dolphins in the Bahamas Herzing studies two way communication between different dolphin species and between humans and dolphins using a variety of cutting edge experiments But the dolphins are not the only ones talking and in this wide ranging and accessible book Herzing explores the astonishing realities of interspecies communication a skill that humans currently lack Is Anyone Listening connects research on dolphin communication to findings from Jane Goodall on chimpanzees Dian Fossey on mountain gorillas Cynthia Moss on African elephants and others driving today's exploration of possible animal languages Although humans have long attempted to crack animal communication codes only now do we have the advanced machine learning tools to help As Herzing reveals researchers are finding fascinating hints of language in nonhuman species including linguistic structures vowel equivalents and complex repeated sequences By looking at the many ways animals use and manipulate signals we see that we've only just begun to appreciate the diversity of animal intelligence and the complicated and subtle aspects of animal communication Considering dolphins and other nonhuman animals as colleagues instead of research subjects Herzing asks us to meet animals as both speakers and listeners as mutually curious beings and to listen to what they are saying
