From "The Collected Shorter Fiction"](#) Anthony Trollope, 1992 Inspired by Trollope's visit to Egypt in 1858 this is the story of a romance between an American traveller and an Englishman's daughter Tales of All Countries Anthony Trollope, 1867 Tales of all countries. [1st] Anthony Trollope, 1861 Model Women of the Press Teja Varma Pusapati, 2024-02-28 This book offers the first extended account of the mid century rise of model women of the press women who not only stormed the male bastions of social and political journalism but also presented themselves as upholders of the highest standards of professional journalistic practice They broke the codes of anonymity in several ways including signing

articles in their own names and developing distinctly female personae They proved by example women's fitness for conventionally masculine lines of journalism By placing Victorian women's serious high minded journalism firmly within the context of the widening sphere of female professions in mid nineteenth century England the book shows how a wide range of women writers including leading Victorian feminists and female reformers contributed to the professionalization of women's authorship Drawing on extensive archival research and close analysis of a wide range of printed texts from Victorian newspapers and periodicals to autobiographies memoirs and fiction this book elucidates several aspects of Victorian women's journalism that have been previously ignored the market interest of the feminist English Woman's Journal the ability of women like Eliza Meteyard and Frances Power Cobbe to write consistently on serious social and political issues in mainstream periodicals Harriet Ward's astonishing reportage from the war fields of South Africa and Harriet Martineau's reports on Famine devastated Ireland and her role as a transatlantic commentator on American abolitionism The study also offers the first focused account of the figure of the female professional journalist in Victorian novels showing how these texts move away from the dominant myth of the author as a solitary genius to present the female journalist as a collaborator who adapts her writing to fit various newspapers and periodicals and works closely with male editors and peers In examining the rise of the Victorian woman writer as a serious social and political journalist this book adds to current critical understanding of female political expression authorial agency and cultural authority in nineteenth century England

A daughter of Jehu

Laura Elizabeth Howe Richards, 2019-12-19 In her compelling novel A Daughter of Jehu Laura Elizabeth Howe Richards weaves a rich tapestry of adventure and identity against the backdrop of a post World War II society grappling with its modernity With a vivid and engaging literary style Richards crafts a narrative that explores themes of empowerment and self discovery through the eyes of its audacious protagonist The author's intricate portrayal of character combined with her sharp social commentary reflects the growing consciousness of the era making the book not just a tale of personal growth but also a significant cultural artifact of its time Laura Elizabeth Howe Richards an accomplished author and an advocate for women's rights was steeped in a literary tradition where strong female characters emerge as beacons of strength Her background growing up in a family of intellectuals including her father the notable author and editor James R Richards provided her with a unique perspective on the struggles and triumphs of women This upbringing greatly influenced her desire to write stories that challenge societal norms and empower readers particularly women to find their own voices For anyone interested in an inspiring narrative that deftly combines adventure with social insight A Daughter of Jehu is a must read Richards powerful storytelling and thought provoking themes invite readers to reflect on their own identities and roles in society making this book not only an enjoyable literary experience but also a meaningful exploration of the complexities of womanhood

An Unprotected Female at the Pyramids (Esprios Classics) Anthony Trollope, 2021-12-27 Anthony Trollope 1815 1882 was one of the most successful prolific and respected English novelists of the Victorian era He wrote penetrating novels on political social and gender issues and conflicts of his day In 1867 Trollope left his position in the British Post Office to run for Parliament as a Liberal candidate in 1868 After he lost he concentrated entirely on his literary career While continuing to produce novels rapidly he also edited the St Paul s Magazine which published several of his novels in serial form His first major success came with The Warden 1855 the first of six novels set in the fictional county of Barsetshire The comic masterpiece Barchester Towers 1857 has probably become the best known of these Fiction & Books for the Young Denver Public Library, 1903 Finding List of Books Except Fiction Denver Public Library, 1903 Golden Cables of Sympathy Margaret H. McFadden, 2021-10-21 An intricate network of contacts developed among women in Europe and North America over the course of the nineteenth century These women created virtual communities through communication support and a shared ideology Forged across boundaries of nationality language ethnic origin and even class these connections laid the foundation for the 1888 International Council of Women and formed the beginnings of an international women s movement This matrix extended throughout England and the Continent and included Scandinavia and Finland In a remarkable display of investigative research Margaret McFadden describes the burgeoning avenues of communication in the nineteenth century that led to an explosion in the number of international contacts among women This network blossomed because of increased travel opportunities advances in women s literacy and education increased activity in the temperance abolitionist and peace reform movements and the emergence of female evangelicals political revolutionaries and expatriates Particular attention is paid to five women whose decades of work helped give birth to the women s movement by century s end These mothers of the matrix include Lucretia Mott and Elizabeth Cady Stanton of the United States Anna Doyle Wheeler of Ireland Fredrika Bremer of Sweden and Frances Power Cobbe of England Despite their philosophic differences these leaders recognized the value of friendship and advocacy among women and shared an affinity for bringing together people from different cultural settings McFadden demonstrates without question that the traditions of transatlantic female communication are far older than most historians realize and that the women s movement was inherently international No other scholar has painted so complete a picture of the golden cables that linked the women who saw the Atlantic and the borders within Europe as bridges rather than barriers to improving their status An Unprotected Female at the Pyramids Illustrated Anthony Trollope, 2020-11-19 The Library of Alexandria is an independent small business publishing house We specialize in bringing back to live rare historical and ancient Books This includes manuscripts such as classical fiction philosophy science Religion folklore mythology history literature politics and sacred texts in addition to Secret and esoteric subjects such as occult freemasonry alchemy hermetic shamanism and ancient knowledge Our Books are available in digital format We have approximately 50 thousand titles in 40 different languages and we work hard every single day in order to
