Networked, Scaled, and Agile Amy Kates, Greg Kesler, Michele DiMartino, 2021-03-03 While technology and geopolitical forces change the face of business today the patterns and challenges of organizing humans to work together across organization culture language and time zone boundaries remain. To face these challenges all organizations need to be agile networked and scalable. Networked Scaled and Agile reveals how to shape organizations that will enable people to make faster and better decisions in a more complex world. By outlining the tension between the need for agility differentiation and scale integration the book offers a new way to think about this debate using the models of the Tower vertical integration and the Square horizontal integration. It addresses the role of the leadership team and how the organization design process can build C suite leaders and successors. Each chapter concludes with a series of reflection questions for leaders as well as a summary of key concepts and tips. Including case studies from global organizations. Networked Scaled and Agile reveals how organization design can address three of the biggest business challenges organizations face today: how to build a new capability across the entire enterprise, how to make the entire organization more customer centric and how to allow for faster innovation.

Information Literacy in the Workplace Marc Forster, 2017-04-03 This book explains how information literacy (IL) is essential to the contemporary workplace and is fundamental to competent ethical and evidence based practice. In today's information driven workplace information professionals must know when research evidence or relevant legal business personal or other information is required, how to find it, how to critique it and how to integrate it into one's knowledge base. To fail to do so may result in defective and unethical practice which could have devastating consequences for clients or employers. There is an ethical requirement for information professionals to meet best practice standards to achieve the best outcome possible for the client. This demands highly focused and complex information searching assessment and critiquing skills.
