Around the World in Eighty Days Jules Verne, 2023-04-04 A classic tale of adventure from renowned French author Jules

Verne Originally published in 1872 Around the World in Eighty Days imagined for readers the possibility of circumnavigating the world when the prospect of such a feat was still in its infancy After an argument with colleagues at London's Reform Club the wealthy Phileas Fogg wagers 20 000 that he can circumnavigate the globe in eighty days and then sets out that very evening with his servant Passepartout A series of adventures on the seas and rails as well as the presence of a detective from Scotland Yard who mistakes Fogg for a wanted criminal provide readers with intriguing plot twists along the way Will Fogg make it back to London in time

Spatial Boundaries, Abounding Spaces Mohit Chandna, 2021-06-30 Colonialism advanced its project of territorial expansion by changing the very meaning of borders and space The colonial project scripted a unipolar spatial discourse that saw the colonies as an extension of European borders In his monograph Mohit Chandna engages with narrations of spatial conflicts in French and Francophone literature and film from the nineteenth to the early twenty first century In literary works by Jules Verne Ananda Devi and Patrick Chamoiseau and film by Michael Haneke Chandna analyzes the depiction of ever changing borders and spatial grammar within the colonial project In so doing he also examines the ongoing resistance to the spatial legacies of colonial practices that act as omnipresent enforcers of colonial borders Literature and film become sites that register colonial spatial paradigms and advance competing narratives that fracture the dominance of these borders Through its analyses Spatial Boundaries Abounding Spaces shows that colonialism is not a finished project relegated to our past Colonialism is present in the here and now and exercises its power through the borders that define us

Transcultural History Madeleine Herren, Martin Rüesch, Christiane Sibille, 2012-06-19 For the 21st century the often quoted citation past is prologue reads the other way around The global present lacks a historical narrative for the global past Focussing on a transcultural history this book questions the territoriality of historical concepts and offers a narrative which aims to overcome cultural essentialism by focussing on crossing borders of all kinds Transcultural History reflects critically on the way history is constructed asking who formed history in the past and who succeeded in shaping what we call the master narrative Although trained European historians the authors aim to present a useful approach to global history showing first of all how a Eurocentric but universal historiography removed or essentialised certain topics in Asian history As an empirical discipline history is based on source material analysed according to rules resulting from a strong methodological background This book accesses the global past after World War I looking at the well known stage of the Paris Peace Conferences observing the multiplication of new borders and the variety of transgressing institutions concepts actors men and women inventing themselves as global subjects but sharing a bitter experience with almost all local societies at this time namely the awareness of having relatives buried in far distant places due to globalised wars

World Literature Reader Theo D'haen, César Domínguez, Mads Rosendahl Thomsen, 2012-06 World Literature is an increasingly influential subject in literary studies which has led to the re framing of contemporary ideas of national literatures language and translation World Literature A Reader brings together thirty essential readings which display the theoretical foundations of the subject as well as showing its conceptual development over a two hundred year period The book features an illuminating introduction to the subject with suggested reading paths to help readers navigate through the materials texts exploring key themes such as globalization cosmopolitanism post trans nationalism and translation and nationalism writings by major figures including J W Goethe Karl Marx Friedrich Engels Longxi Zhao David Damrosch Gayatri Chakravorty Spivak Pascale Casanova and Milan Kundera The early explorations of the meaning of Weltliteratur are introduced while twenty first century interpretations by leading scholars today show the latest critical developments in the field The editors offer readers the ideal introduction to the theories and debates surrounding the impact of this crucial area on the modern literary landscape
