Peter Geoghegan

Tourism Tattler December 2015 9:

The Diaspora's Role in Africa Stella-Monica N. Mpande, 2021-11-07 Africans living in the diaspora have a unique position as potential agents of change in helping to address Africa's political and socioeconomic challenges. In addition to sending financial remittances, their multiple hybrid identities in and out of geographical and psychocultural spaces allow them to play a role as cultural and political ambassadors to foster social change and sustainable development back in their African homelands. However, this hybrid position is not without challenges, and this book reflects some of the conundrums faced by members of the diaspora as they negotiate their relationships with their home countries. The author uses her lived experiences and empirical research to ask: are members of the diaspora conduits of Western cultural hegemony at the cost of their traditional preservation and meaningful development in Africa? How does the Western media's portrayal of Africa as the Dark Continent in the 21st century influence their decision-making process to invest back home? How could African nations' governments manage their relationships with citizens abroad to motivate them to invest in their home countries? How do some citizen residents in Africa and African Diaspora communities perceive each other in the context of Africa's development? How could the African Diaspora collaborate with citizen residents across growth sectors to impact Africa's development? The book hopes to inspire agents of change within the diaspora and features diverse African entrepreneurs' success stories and their experiences of tackling these challenges. The book will be of interest to aspiring entrepreneurs, researchers across African studies, and the expanding and vibrant field of diaspora research.

Democracy for Sale Peter Geoghegan, 2020-05-14 The Sunday Times bestseller. A compulsively readable, carefully researched account of how a malignant combination of rightwing ideology, secretive money, much of it from the US, and weaponisation of social media have shaped contemporary British and to a limited extent European politics. Remarkable Observer Book of the Week. Democracy is in crisis, and unaccountable and untraceable flows of money are helping to destroy it. This is the story of how money, vested interests, and digital skulduggery are eroding trust in democracy. Antiquated electoral laws are broken with impunity; secretive lobbying is bending our politics out of shape; and Silicon Valley tech giants collude in selling out democracy. Politicians lie gleefully, making wild claims that can be shared instantly with millions on social media. Peter Geoghegan is a diligent, brilliant guide through the shadowy world of dark money and digital disinformation, stretching from Westminster to Washington and far beyond. Praise for Democracy for Sale: Thorough, gripping, and vitally important. Oliver Bullough. A brilliant description of the dark underbelly of modern democracy. Everyone should read it. Anne Applebaum. A compelling and very readable story of the ongoing corruption of our government and therefore ourselves. Anthony Barnett. As urgent as it is illuminating. Fintan O'Toole. This urgent, vital book is essential reading for anyone who wants to make sense of our politics. Carole Cadwalladr. This forensic and highly readable book shows how so many of our democratic processes have moved into the murky, unregulated spaces of globalisation and digital innovation. Peter Pomerantsev. A call to arms for all those who value democracy The Herald Geoghegan's words are those of someone who is prepared to keep fighting to defend and revitalise what shadows of democracy still remain Scotsman
