TOY STORY

The Art and Making of the Animated Film

by John Lasseter and Steve Daly

With the premiere of Toy Story in November 1995, a new era in the history of feature film animation has dawned. The first-ever computer animated full-length motion picture, Toy Story is the extraordinary result of a unique collaboration between the Walt Disney Company, the leader in traditional animation, and Pixar, the award-winning computer animation studio.

In Toy Story: The Art and Making of the Animated Film, author Steve Daly teams with director John Lasseter to tell the tale of how these two visionary companies joined together and set out to do what had never been done before. At the heart of their journey lies the collaboration and sense of discovery that went into developing this computer animated "buddy movie," in which a rag doll cowboy named Woody and high-tech space toy Buzz Lightyear compete for the affections of a boy named Andy.

The authors explain and illuminate how Toy Story achieved its pioneering look while taking the elements of animation entertainment—humor, heart, and the creation of a world both real and fantastic—to new three-dimensional horizons. Richly illustrated with concept and storyboard art as well as images from the film, Toy Story: The Art and Making of the Animated Film provides an in-depth review of the amazing technology, creativity, and artistry that went into the making of this breakthrough motion picture.

JOHN LASSETER, the director of Toy Story, has created numerous computer animated shorts and commercials for which he has received worldwide recognition, including an Academy Award in 1998 for Tin Toy, the first-ever computer animated film to receive the prestigious honor.

STEVE DALY writes frequently about animation for Entertainment Weekly.
