Transformational Leadership Styles for Global

Leaders: Management and Communication Strategies Roache, Darcia Ann Marie, 2023-09-26 The impact of transformational leadership styles management strategies and communication for organizational effectiveness and employee performance within organizations cannot be overemphasized Leadership as a concept has evolved over the years based on situations practices and change management approaches in organizations The evolution of transformational leadership in organizations is imperative to examine in order to motivate and encourage others to collectively support and work to achieve organizational effectiveness or vision and mission Leadership needs a paradigm shift to influence opportunities and challenges in organizations such as organizational behavior motivation communication and management functions Transformational Leadership Styles Management Strategies and Communication for Global Leaders aims to provide relevant theoretical conceptual and procedural frameworks and the latest empirical research findings that critically examine the areas of leadership leadership styles management studies and communication for leaders globally It is ideal for multi sectoral interests in business and educational organizations chief executive officers executive members team leaders industry leaders human resource directors and personnel leadership and management and practitioners Organic Amendments and Soil Suppressiveness in Plant Disease Management Mukesh K. Meghvansi, Ajit Varma, 2015-11-05 This book provides a timely review of concepts in plant disease management involving microbial soil suppressiveness and organic amendments Topics discussed include the impact of suppressive soils on plant pathogens and agricultural productivity the enhancement of soil suppressiveness through the application of compost and the development of disease suppressive soils through agronomic management Further chapters describe diseases caused by phytopathogens such as Pythium Fusarium and Rhizoctonia interaction of rhizobia with soil suppressiveness factors biocontrol of plant parasitic nematodes by fungi and soil suppressive microorganisms Territorial Governance and Spatial Transformation in Post-apartheid South Africa Daniel du Plessis, 2025-07-05 The book provides a reflective account of the evolution of the territorial governance structures and processes in South Africa over a period of 30 years after the transition to a post apartheid society in 1994 It also considers the role and influence of these changing governance institutions and processes and their associated outputs in the form of policies and plans on several priority dimensions of urban spatial transformation The synthesis of the experiences and lessons learnt provides the bases for contemplating important future focus areas for territorial governance such as spatial transformation towards smart cities an African perspective for future South African cities and transitioning towards a streamlined integrated territorial governance system The lessons and experiences are not only of local significance in South Africa but also globally in countries and regions faced with territorial governance and spatial transformation challenges Social Work in Social Change Nicci Earle, 2008 This study forms part of a series of studies on professions and professional education being conducted by the HSRC s research programme on Education Science Skills Development It follows a pilot study on medical doctors published in 2006 entitled Doctors in a Divided Society The profession and education of medical practitioners in South Africa Like the other studies in the series this study involved developing an understanding of the professional milieu and professional labour market of social workers As the implementers of government social policy social work professionals have been at the forefront of grappling with the practicalities of the changes in focus approach and methods of social security and social service delivery since 1994 It examines developments in the education and training of social workers within the democratic dispensation the most significant of which is the development of a national standardised Bachelor of Social Work degree The study also reveals that the dominant profile in student enrolment and graduation statistics has changed from white female to African female and that enrolment has increased significantly However the study also shows that graduation trends have been negative and losses due to emigration are an additional concern Given the scarcity of these professionals against the demand for their services understanding the factors that contribute to this picture are critical to effective intervention

Methodology

The methodology used varies from researcher to researcher but are suitable for the studies conducted. Thus on the one hand studies that were subjective in nature used the interpretive paradigm where the qualitative approach adopted made use of the interview method to collect data. On the other hand studies that were objectively inclined adopted the positivist philosophy and used survey questionnaires to collect data. However there were some academic papers which used mixed methodology because of the nature of the study. Whatever methodology used adhered to the ethos of the philosophies underpinning the methodology.

Contribution made to scholarship

The articles come from individual researchers and each article in the proceedings is unique. Mostly there is no general argument leading from one contribution to the next. However it is interesting to note that in the area of economic performance it was evident that real exchange rate and net foreign direct investment contribute more towards innovations in economic growth. With regard to human capital development papers presented evidence that there exists a definite need to explore the phenomenon of personal branding as limited scientific academic research has been done within the field of personal branding or on elements of the topic. Thus the outcome argues that personal branding has an influence on leadership style which in turn impacts on organisational performance and related hygiene factors. Furthermore it was demonstrated that current methods or strategies for enforcing institutionalisation of knowledge sharing within an organisation have not been successful and as such new strategies are needed to reinforce efforts to nurture and invigorate the institutionalisation of knowledge sharing within an organisation. With regard to technology and big data impact on organisational performance it was evident that system performance, memory consumption and CPU utilisation can be used as criteria to compare and evaluate big data technologies to improve organisational performance. Most of the articles contribution reemphasised technology education and training as a means of digitising business and improving effectiveness.

Target audience

The target readership is academic researchers and business leaders who require access to the latest developments in the fields of economics, information management, business education, development studies, social sciences and technology. It is also for policymakers and other stakeholders who need a better understanding of the impact of new developments on existing policies and regulations for their review or amendment.
