Unmaking The Bomb A Fissile Material Approach To Nuclear Disarmament And Nonproliferation:

Unmaking the Bomb Harold A. Feiveson, Alexander Glaser, Zia Mian, Frank N. Von Hippel, 2016-09-02 A new approach to nuclear disarmament nonproliferation and the prevention of nuclear terrorism that focuses on controlling the production and stockpiling of nuclear materials Achieving nuclear disarmament stopping nuclear proliferation and preventing nuclear terrorism are among the most critical challenges facing the world today Unmaking the Bomb proposes a new approach to reaching these long held goals Rather than considering them as separate issues the authors physicists and experts on nuclear security argue that all three of these goals can be understood and realized together if we focus on the production stockpiling and disposal of plutonium and highly enriched uranium the fissile materials that are the key ingredients used to make nuclear weapons The authors describe the history production national stockpiles and current military and civilian uses of plutonium and highly enriched uranium and propose policies aimed at reducing and eventually eliminating these fissile materials worldwide These include an end to the production of highly enriched uranium and plutonium for weapons an end to their use as reactor fuels and the verified elimination of all national stockpiles Unmaking the Bomb ,2014 Nuclear Disarmament Bård Steen, Olav Njølstad, 2019-03-14 This volume Nuclear Disarmament provides a comprehensive overview of nuclear disarmament and a critical assessment of the way forward Comprising essays by leading scholars on nuclear disarmament the book highlights arguments in favour and against a world without nuclear weapons global zero In doing so it proposes a new baseline from which an everchanging nuclear arms control and disarmament agenda can be assessed Numerous paths to nuclear disarmament have been proposed and scrutinized and with an increasing number of countries signing off on the Treaty on the Prohibition of Nuclear Weapons it is vital to ask which path is the most likely and realistic to succeed The chapters here also address the rapid pace of technological political and climatic developments in relation to nuclear disarmament and how they add to the complexity of the issue Taking care to unite the different tribes in the debate this book provides a community of dissent at a time when academic tribalism all too often prevents genuine debates from taking place This book will be of interest to students of nuclear proliferation arms control security studies and International Relations The 2017 Nuclear Ban Treaty Joseph A. China and International Nuclear Weapons Proliferation Henrik Stålhane Hiim, 2018-07-24 This book explores China s approach to the nuclear programs in Pakistan Iran and North Korea A major power with access to nuclear technology China has a significant impact on international nuclear weapons proliferation but its attitude towards the spread of the bomb has been inconsistent China s mixed record raises a broader question why when and how do states support potential nuclear proliferators This book develops a framework for analyzing such questions by putting forth three factors that are likely to determine a state s policy 1 the risk of changes in the nuclear status or military doctrines of competitors 2 the recipient s status and strategic value and 3 the extent of pressure from third parties to halt nuclear assistance It then demonstrates how these factors help explain China s policies towards Pakistan Iran and North Korea Overall the book finds that China has been a selective and strategic supporter of nuclear proliferators While nuclear proliferation is a security challenge to China in some settings in others it wants to help its friends build the bomb This book will be of much interest to students of international security nuclear proliferation Chinese foreign policy and International Relations in general

Reducing the Use of Highly Enriched Uranium in Civilian Research Reactors National Academies of Sciences, Engineering, and Medicine, Division on Earth and Life Studies, Nuclear and Radiation Studies Board, Committee on the Current Status of and Progress Toward Eliminating Highly Enriched Uranium Use in Fuel for Civilian Research and Test Reactors, 2016-02-12 The continued presence of highly enriched uranium HEU in civilian installations such as research reactors poses a threat to national and international security Minimization and ultimately elimination of HEU in civilian research reactors worldwide has been a goal of U S policy and programs since 1978 Today 74 civilian research reactors around the world including 8 in the United States use or are planning to use HEU fuel Since the last National Academies of Sciences Engineering and Medicine report on this topic in 2009 28 reactors have been either shut down or converted from HEU to low enriched uranium fuel Despite this progress the large number of remaining HEU fueled reactors demonstrates that an HEU minimization program continues to be needed on a worldwide scale Reducing the Use of Highly Enriched Uranium in Civilian Research Reactors assesses the status of and progress toward eliminating the worldwide use of HEU fuel in civilian research and test reactors Disarmament and Decommissioning in the Nuclear Domain Jean-Claude Amiard,2021-08-19 Following the acquisition of the atomic bomb by five states the United Nations began drafting several treaties to limit nuclear proliferation These efforts failed as four more states also acquired nuclear weapons In a similar vein an attempt to limit atomic weapons primarily within the two superpowers was initiated While the number of weapons has decreased the new bombs now being manufactured are more powerful and more precise negating any reduction in numbers In the field of civil nuclear use all nuclear facilities reactors factories etc have a limited lifespan Once a plant is permanently shut down these facilities must be decommissioned and dismantled These operations are difficult time consuming and costly In addition decommissioning generates large volumes of radioactive waste of various categories including long lived and high activity waste Risks to the environment and to health are not negligible during decommissioning The International Atomic Energy Agency IAEA and the Nuclear Energy Agency NEA of the Organisation for Economic Co operation and Development OECD have produced numerous publications with recommendations Each state has its own decommissioning strategy immediate or delayed and final plan for the site whether it be returning it to greenfield status or obtaining a nuclear site license with centuries long monitoring World Politics Jeffrey Haynes,Peter Hough,Shahin Malik,Lloyd Pettiford,2017-03-20 Praised for achieving significant breadth and depth of coverage of all the key themes of IR this introduction is also full of a range of features and techniques including a wide range of contemporary case studies and reflection boxes to help students become adept at the subject quickly and easily Nuclear Decisions Lisa Langdon Koch,2023 For decades countries have pursued nuclear weapons by taking many different paths toward or away from the bomb Those paths have been difficult to predict because they are defined not by security or wealth but by the decisions leaders make to accelerate or reverse their nuclear weapons programs Nuclear decisions are made within a complex political information environment that affects how security concerns and the value of a nuclear weapons program are understood By examining nine fascinating country case histories this book elucidates the key factors that shape the decision making environment Radical Transformation Imants Barušs,2021-01-28 In Radical Transformation Imants Barušs leads the reader out of the receding materialist paradigm into an emerging post materialist landscape in which new questions present themselves If consciousness has nonlocal properties then how are boundaries between events established If consciousness directly modulates physical manifestation then what is the scope of such modulation If consciousness continues after physical death then how much interference is there from non physical entities As we face the threat of extinction on this planet is there anything in recent consciousness research that can help us Are there effective means of self transformation that can be used to enter persistent transcendent states of consciousness that could resolve existential and global crises The author leads the reader through discussions of meaning radical transformation and subtle activism revealing the unexpected interplay of consciousness and reality along the way Defense 101 Michael E.
