Historic Sites and Landmarks That Shaped America Mitchell Newton-Matza, 2016-09-06 Exploring the significance of places that built our cultural past, this guide is a lens into historical sites spanning the entire history of the United States from Acoma Pueblo to Ground Zero. Historic Sites and Landmarks That Shaped America From Acoma Pueblo to Ground Zero encompasses more than 200 sites from the earliest settlements to the present, covering a wide variety of locations. It includes concise yet detailed entries on each landmark that explain its importance to the nation. With entries arranged alphabetically according to the name of the site and the state in which it resides, this work covers both obscure and famous landmarks to demonstrate how a nation can grow and change with the creation or discovery of important places. The volume explores the ways different cultures viewed, revered, or even vilified these sites. It also examines why people remember such places more than others. Accessible to both novice and expert readers, this well-researched guide will appeal to anyone from high school students to general adult readers.

Uncle Tom's Cabin as Visual Culture Jo-Ann Morgan, 2007 Examines the artwork of Hammatt Billings, George Cruikshank, Winslow Homer, Eastman Johnson, Henry Ossawa Tanner, and Thomas Satterwhite Noble to show how, as Uncle Tom's Cabin gained popularity, visual strategies were used to coax the subversive potential of Stowe's work back within accepted boundaries that reinforced social hierarchies. Racial Formation in the Twenty-First Century Daniel Martinez HoSang, Oneka LaBennett, Laura Pulido, 2012-09-01 Michael Omi and Howard Winant's Racial Formation in the United States remains one of the most influential books and widely read books about race. Racial Formation in the 21st Century, arriving twenty-five years after the publication of Omi and Winant's influential work, brings together fourteen essays by leading scholars in law, history, sociology, ethnic studies, literature, anthropology, and gender studies to consider the past, present, and future of racial formation. The contributors explore far-reaching concerns: slavery and land ownership, labor and social movements, torture and war, sexuality and gender formation, indigeneity and colonialism, genetics and the body. From the ecclesiastical courts of seventeenth-century Lima to the cell blocks of Abu Gharib, the essays draw from Omi and Winant's influential theory of racial formation and adapt it to the various criticisms, challenges, and changes of life in the twenty-first century.

Teaching History in an Uncivilized World Philip Bigler, 2012-10-15 Teaching History in an Uncivilized World is the latest book by National Teacher of the Year Philip Bigler It is a fascinating chronicle of his 23 year odyssey as a high school history and humanities teacher Widely recognized for his innovative and exciting methods Bigler explains how as a novice teacher he discovered the power of using historical simulations to motivate students and to help them become active participants in their own learning These inspiring lessons proved highly effective in teaching important curricular content as President Bill Clinton would later acknowledge Through these historic simulations his students have learned lessons about democracy and the meaning of citizenship lessons we want every American to know Despite Bigler's success as a history teacher he was laid off twice early in his career due to school budgetary crises Growing frustrated and increasingly disillusioned Bigler eventually quit teaching and during this three year hiatus he received an advanced degree at the College of William and Mary and served as an Army historian at Arlington National Cemetery. It was while working at Arlington that Bigler discovered that he missed the daily excitement of teaching history as well as the interaction with his students. In 1985 he returned to the high school classroom a far wiser and better educator. At BCC and McLean High Schools Bigler taught a variety of history courses and was actively involved in implementing the latest computer technology into his instruction. As the yearbook advisor at McLean he aggressively upgraded the publication's limited computer resources and introduced the editors and staff to desktop publishing. Widely respected by both staff and students, Philip Bigler was twice selected by the McLean High School senior class as their most influential teacher and was chosen as the school's Teacher of the Year in 1996. In order to pursue his avid interest in the potential of educational technology to improve student learning, Bigler transferred to Thomas Jefferson High School for Science and Technology in the fall of 1996. There he was selected as the Fairfax County and the Virginia Teacher of the Year. In 1998 Philip Bigler was named the National Teacher of the Year by President Bill Clinton, who remarked, "We need more teachers like Philip Bigler in every classroom in America today for it is they who can make our schools the best in the world." As the National Teacher of the Year, Bigler was granted a one-year sabbatical and traveled extensively speaking to various educational groups and organizations about the importance of teaching. He persuasively argues that civilization begins anew with each child and that if we fail to teach and educate our young people, we are just one generation removed from barbarism. Bigler advocates for a return of academic rigor to our nation's classrooms and the need for strong content standards. Bigler has appeared as a featured guest on The Late Show with David Letterman, Nightline, and the History Channel. Teaching History in an Uncivilized World is an essential book for all of those interested in improving the quality of American education. It is highly readable and contains numerous useful appendices for history teachers. The book is supported by a regularly updated website where additional educational resources and lesson plans are available.
