Urban Economics and Urban Policy Paul C. Cheshire,Max Nathan,Henry G. Overman,2014-05-30 This groundbreaking book will prove to be an invaluable resource and a rewarding read for academics practitioners and policymakers interested in the economics of urban policy urban planning and development as well as international studies and innov Urban Economics and Urban Policy Paul C. Cheshire,Max Nathan,Henry G. Overman,2014-01-01 Developing England's North Craig Berry,Arianna Giovannini,2017-11-03 This book explores the politics of local economic development in Northern England Socio economic conditions in the North and its future prospects have become central to national debates in the UK The status of Northern regions and their local economies is intimately associated with efforts to rebalance the economy away from the South East London and the finance sector in the wake of the 2008 financial crisis The contributors to this volume focus in particular on the coalition and Conservative governments Northern Powerhouse agenda They also analyse associated efforts to devolve power to local authorities across England which promise to bring both greater prosperity and autonomy to the deindustrialized North Several chapters critically interrogate these initiatives and their ambitions by placing them within their wider historical geographical institutional and ideological contexts As such Berry and Giovannini seek to locate Northern England within a broader understanding of the political dimension of economic development and outline a series of ideas for enhancing the North s prospects Economics of Planning Policies in China Wen-jie Wu,2016-12-08 Implications of this study Conclusion Notes References Chapter 7 Geographical evolution of railway network development Introduction China s railway speed up and HSR development Implications of railway speed ups on regional development Implications for local accessibility Conclusion Note References Chapter 8 Market reform land development and urban vibrancy Introduction Economic implications of land and housing marketization Urban vibrancy pattern in a modern day Chinese city Mechanisms Conclusion Notes References PART IV Conclusions Chapter 9 Concluding remarks Transformation of Chinese cities in politically biased urban hierarchies Planning for spatial agglomeration Planning for infrastructure development Planning for city vibrancy Planning for reshaping the economic geography References Index Whose Housing Crisis? Nick Gallent,2019-04-24 At the root of the housing crisis is the problematic relationship that individuals and economies share with residential property Housing s social purpose as home is too often relegated behind its economic function as asset able to offer a hedge against weakening pensions or source of investment and equity release for individuals or guarantee rising public revenues sustain consumer confidence and provide evidence of growth for economies The refunctioning of housing in the twentieth century is a cause of great social inequality as housing becomes a place to park and extract wealth and as governments do all they can to keep house prices on an upward track Time, Space and Capital Åke E. Andersson,David Emanuel Andersson,2017-07-28 In this challenging book the authors demonstrate that economists tend to misunderstand capital Frank Knight was an exception as he argued that because all resources are more or less durable and have uncertain future uses they can consequently be classed as capital Thus capital rather than labor is the real source of creativity innovation and accumulation But capital is also a phenomenon in time and in space Offering a new and path breaking theory they show how durable capital with large spatial domains infrastructural capital such as institutions public knowledge and networks can help explain the long term development of cities and nations

New Geographies of the Globalized World Marcin Wojciech Solarz,2018-01-29 Globalization has essentially come to an end It is already a victorious revolution It has profoundly restructured the relationships between people and the world often recreating them in a new geographical image This book discovers and describes these relationships of new geographies providing a comprehensive spatial guide to the globalized world of the 21st century It considers a number of timely and important themes and insights for the present and future world exploring topics such as population trends and migration development the urban transportation religion our endangered planet wars conflicts and terrorism and disease As such it offers a cross cutting synthesis of the modern world It will be of interest to students and researches in humanities and social sciences including geographers economists political scientists and IR specialists

Political Entrepreneurship Charlie Karlsson,Charlotte Silander,Daniel Silander,2016-10-28 Political Entrepreneurship explores the role of political entrepreneurs in regional growth and entrepreneurial diversity The authors define a political entrepreneur as a politician bureaucrat or officer within the publicly funded sector who encourages entrepreneurship for growth and employment using innovative approaches This book aims to enrich the established research on entrepreneurship with in depth knowledge of the conditions conducive for political entrepreneurship in Sweden

The Geography of Mobility, Wellbeing and Development in China Wenjie Wu,Yiming Wang,2020-02-25 Big data is increasingly regarded as a new approach for understanding urban informatics and complex systems Today there is unprecedented data availability with detailed remote sensed data on the built environment and rich mineable web based sources in the form of social media web mapping information services and other sources of unstructured big data This book brings together a group of international contributors to consider the geographical implications of mobility wellbeing and development within and across Chinese cities through location based big data perspectives The degree of urban sprawl productive density and vibrancy can be reflected from location based social media big data The challenge is to identify map and model these relationships to develop cities at different places in the urban hierarchical system that are more sustainable This edited book aims to tackle these issues through two inter related geographical scales inter city level and intra city level The text is designed for graduate courses in planning geography public policy and administration and for international researchers who are involved in urban and regional economics and economic geography

Contemporary South Africa and the Political Economy of Regional Development Methembe Mdlalose, Isaac Khambule, Nene Ernest Khalema, 2025-02-21 South Africa's struggle in balancing its domestic needs while playing a dynamic developmental role in the African region and global context exposes a complex web of relations shaped by its geostrategic location on the continent and the world and the staggering legacies of colonialism and apartheid As such understanding the complexities of the global economy and of South Africa's place in it is of great importance This book builds upon an existing body of literature which has demonstrated that while the post apartheid South African state has recast its nation building goals with advances having been made notably in the area of a stellar post apartheid constitution policy directives and democratic political integration economic integration and policy implementation presents a projection of captured interests where big business concerns are entrenched in the post apartheid state's apparent neo liberal turn The main focus of the book is to contextualise issues relating to three main trends in global discourses on development which are significant for South Africa and indeed for the study of the political economy of regional development in the country from the prism of South Africa as a global capitalist state These trends include the impact of globalisation regionalisation and the marginalisation of South Africa and indeed the African continent in the global economy thus unpacking the possible role that South Africa might play in regional development This volume will be a valuable resource to academics researchers and students in the fields of regional studies economics and political theory as well as policymakers planners and local economic development practitioners

Cities in a World Economy Saskia

Sassen, 2018-05-30 Cities in a World Economy examines the emergence of global cities as a new social formation. As sites of rapid and widespread developments in the areas of finance, information, and people, global cities lie at the core of the major processes of globalization. The book features a cross-disciplinary approach to urban sociology using global examples and discusses the impact of global processes on the social structure of cities. The Fifth Edition reflects the most current data available and explores recent debates such as the role of cities in mitigating environmental problems, the global refugee crisis, Brexit, and the rise of Donald Trump in the United States.

The New Enclosure Brett Christophers, 2019-01-29 How public land has been stolen from us. Much has been written about Britain's trailblazing post-1970s privatization program, but the biggest privatization of them all has until now escaped scrutiny: the privatization of land. Since Margaret Thatcher took power in 1979 and hidden from the public eye, about 10 per cent of the entire British land mass, including some of its most valuable real estate, has passed from public to private hands: Forest land, defence land, health service land, and above all else, local authority land for farming and school sports for recreation and housing has been sold off en masse. Why? How? And with what social, economic, and political consequences? The New Enclosure provides the first ever study of this profoundly significant phenomenon, situating it as a centrepiece of neoliberalism in Britain and as a successor programme to the original eighteenth-century enclosures. With more public land still slated for disposal, the book identifies the stakes and asks what, if anything, can and should be done.

Planning Practice Jessica Ferm, John Tomaney, 2018-06-13 Planning Practice: Critical Perspectives from the UK provides the only comprehensive overview of contemporary planning practice in the UK. Drawing on contributions from leading researchers in the field, it examines the tools, contexts, and outcomes of planning practice. Part I examines planning processes and tools and the extent to which theory and practice diverge, covering plan making, Development Management, planning gain, public engagement, and place making. Part II examines the changing contexts within which planning practice takes place, including privatisation and deregulation, devolution, and multi-level governance, increased ethnic and social diversity, growing environmental concerns, and the changing nature of commercial real estate. Part III focuses on how planning practice produces outcomes for the built environment in relation to housing, infrastructure, economic progress, public transport, and regeneration. The book considers what it means to be a reflective practitioner in the modern planning system, the constraints and opportunities that planners face in their daily work, and the ethical and political challenges they must confront.

Why Can't You Afford a Home? Josh Ryan-Collins, 2018-11-26 Throughout the Western world, a whole generation is being priced out of the housing market. For millions of people, particularly millennials, the basic goal of acquiring decent, affordable accommodation is a distant dream. Leading economist Josh Ryan-Collins argues that to understand this crisis, we must examine a crucial paradox at the heart of modern capitalism: The interaction of private home ownership and a lightly regulated commercial banking system leads to a feedback cycle. Unlimited credit and money flows into an inherently finite supply of property, which causes rising house prices, declining home ownership, rising inequality, and debt stagnant growth and financial instability Radical reforms are needed to break the cycle This engaging and topical book will be essential reading for anyone who wants to understand why they can't find an affordable home and what we can do about it Designing Smart and Resilient Cities for a Post-Pandemic World Anthony Larsson, Andreas

Hatzigeorgiou, 2022-08-31 Are pandemics the end of cities Or do they present an opportunity for us to reshape cities in ways making us even more innovative successful and sustainable Pandemics such as COVID 19 and comparable disruptions have caused intense debates over the future of cities Through a series of investigative studies Designing Smart and Resilient Cities for a Post Pandemic World Metropandemic Revolution seeks to critically discuss and compare different cases innovations and approaches as to how cities can utilise nascent and future digital technology and or new strategies in order to build stronger resilience to better tackle comparable large scale pandemics and or disruptions in the future The authors identify ten separate societal areas where future digital technology can impact resilience These are discussed in individual chapters Each chapter concludes with a set of proposed action points based on the conclusions of each respective study These serve as solid policy recommendations of what courses of action to take to help increase the resilience in smart cities for each designated area Securing resilience and cohesion between each area will bring about the metropandemic revolution This book features a foreword by Nobel laureate Peter C Doherty and an afterword by Professor of Urban Technologies Carlo Ratti It provides fresh and unique insights on smart cities and futures studies in a pandemic context offers profound reflections on contemporary societal functions and the needs to build resilience and combines lessons learned from historical pandemics with possibilities offered by future technology Planning in a Failing State Olivier Sykes, John Sturzaker, 2023-11-23

This topical edited collection analyses the state of the planning system in England and offers a robust evidence based review of over a decade of change since the Conservative led coalition government came to power With a critique of ongoing planning reforms by the UK government the book argues that the planning system is often blamed for a range of issues caused by ineffective policy making by government Including chapters on housing localism design zoning and the consequences of Brexit for environmental planning the contributors unpick a complicated set of recent reforms and counter the claims of the think tank led assault on democratic planning Handbook of Research on Comparative Human Resource Management Chris Brewster, Wolfgang Mayrhofer, Elaine Farndale, 2018-04-27 This second updated and extended edition of the Handbook of Research on Comparative Human Resource Management draws on the work of many of the world's leading researchers in the field to present the state of the art to scholars students and practitioners The Handbook provides a detailed focus on the theoretical underpinnings of Comparative HRM on comparative studies of specific areas of HRM practice and on the unique features of HRM in all the main regions of the world Inequalities in

Geographical Space Clementine Cottineau, Julie Vallee, 2022-12-28 Inequalities are central to the public debate and social science research They are inextricably linked to geographical space shaping human mobility and migration patterns creating diverse living environments and changing individuals perceptions of the society they live in and the inequalities that endure within it Geographical space contributes to the emergence and perpetuation of inequalities between individuals according to their socioeconomic position gender ethno racial origin or even their age Inequalities in Geographical Space examines inequalities in education in the workplace in public and private spaces and those related to migration Written by geographers sociologists and economists this book draws on a variety of theoretical and methodological approaches and compares different spatial and temporal scales It highlights the importance of geographical space as a vehicle for the expression creation and reproduction of social racial economic and gender inequalities The UK Regional-National Economic Problem

Philip McCann, 2016-03-10 In recent years the United Kingdom has become a more and more divided society with inequality between the regions as marked as it has ever been In a landmark analysis of the current state of Britain s regional development Philip McCann utilises current statistics examines historical trends and makes pertinent international comparisons to assess the state of the nation The UK Regional National Economic Problem brings attention to the highly centralised top down governance structure that the UK deploys and demonstrates that it is less than ideally placed to rectify these inequalities The North South divide in the UK has never been greater and the rising inequalities are evident in almost all aspects of the economy including productivity incomes employment status and wealth Whilst the traditional economic dominance of London and its hinterland has continued along with relative resilience in the South West of England and Scotland in contrast the Midlands the North of England Northern Ireland and Wales lag behind by most measures of prosperity This inequality is greatly limiting national economic performance and the fact that Britain has a below average standard of living by European and OECD terms has been ignored The UK s economic and governance inequality is unlikely to be fundamentally rebalanced by the current governance and connectivity trends although this definitive study suggests that some areas of improvement are possible if they are well implemented This pivotal analysis is essential reading for postgraduate students in economics and urban studies as well as researchers and policy makers in local and central government
