Tick Tock J. Robert Kennedy, 2012. Crime Scene tech Frank Brata digs deep and finds the courage to ask his colleague Sarah out for coffee after work. Their good time turns into a nightmare when Frank wakes up the next morning covered in blood with no recollection of what happened and Sarah's body floating in the tub. Determined not to go to prison for a crime he's horrified he may have committed, he scrubs the crime scene clean and, tormented by text messages from the real killer, begins a race against the clock to solve the murder before his own co-workers, his own friends, solve it first and find him guilty. Billionaire Richard Tate is the toast of the town, loved by everyone but his wife. His plans for a romantic weekend with his mistress end in disaster, waking the next morning to find her murdered floating in the tub. After fleeing in a panic, he returns to find the hotel room spotless and no sign of the body. An envelope found at the scene contains not the expected blackmail note but something far more sinister. Two murders with the same MO targeting both the average working man and the richest of society sets a rejuvenated Detective Shakespeare and his new reluctant partner Amber Trace after a murderer whose motivations are a mystery and who appears to be aided by the very people they would least expect: their own.
