Tideland David Batchelder:

Tideland David Batchelder, David Company, 2015 After five years of looking closely through his camera at a small beach David Batchelder no longer sees the shores as we know them His vision now is of a private reality within the tideland In Tideland Batchelder invites you to join him in his visual journey into a tideland like none that has yet been photographed Batchelder uses the camera not to picture more clearly that which we already know but to discover and capture the unsung beauty of our land He shares with us an inexplicable ambiguous imaginative and odd world of magical visions landscapes spaces creatures and curious objects disfigured and eroded by the ocean Although Batchelder uses digital processes his approach to creative camera work has its origin very much in the era of film using a digital camera and Photoshop as one would have used a film camera and a darkroom David Company's essay introduces Batchelder's tideland world where the viewer's imagination and memory take over and you too leave the beach as you now know it David Batchelder

Christiane Stahl, 2019 David Batchelder's images are labyrinths of wondrous forms surprising colors and shifting layers They give us the impression of flying over landscape formations snowy mountain ranges or meandering rivers or alternately we seem to be in the midst of choppy seascapes where unfamiliar creatures are rising up out of the blue green depths However the photographs depict nothing more than banal segments of a beach in Charleston South Carolina The abstract quality of these natural motifs bring out hidden ideas Suddenly we see faces ghosts animals and plants Batchelder's work is an homage to Alfred Ehrhardt's series Das Watt The Tidelands 1933 1936 In contrast to the German avant garde photographer from the 1930s Batchelder an American born in 1939 is not interested in the laws of structure but the chaotic strange surreal and irrational in short the world of dreams and the imagination Merchant Vessels of the United States... United States.

Coast Guard, 1989 Merchant Vessels of the United States, 1989 The Corporate Finance Bluebook, 1990 Journal of Petroleum Technology, 1955 Business Directory San Diego Chamber of Commerce, 1981 Who's who in Finance and Industry, 1987 The American Journal of International Law American Society of International Law, 1968 Vols for 1970 include American Society of International Law Proceedings no 64 The Standard Value Guide, 1979

As recognized, adventure as well as experience more or less lesson, amusement, as without difficulty as union can be gotten by just checking out a ebook Tideland David Batchelder also it is not directly done, you could say you will even more on the subject of this life, with reference to the world.
