

PLAN 2

A closer look reveals breaks and distortions of the one-mile grid in the area adjacent to the figure of the whale.

The contrast between the complex configuration of the jagged contour lines and the limited effects on the one-mile grid express the power of the latter as an ordering device.

PLAN 4

The abstract fictional representation of the thirty-foot drop dramatizes the antagonism between geography and the one-mile grid.

X Urbanism Architecture And The American City:

X-Urbanism Mario Gandelsonas,1999 Examines configurations of urban space analyzing them in ways that blur the traditional opposition between figure and ground Bracket 3 Lola Sheppard,2022-03-18 Bracket at Extremes includes critical articles and unpublished design projects that investigate architecture infrastructure and technology as they operate in conditions of imbalance negotiate tipping points and test limit states We are conditioned as designers of the built environment towards the organization of people programs and movement Indeed the history of modern urbanism architecture and building science has been predicated on an anti entropic notion of programmatic and social order But are there scenarios in which a state of extremity or imbalance is productive Bracket at Extremes seeks to understand what new spatial orders emerge in this liminal space How might it be leveraged as an opportunity for invention What are the limits of wilderness and control of the natural and artificial the real and the virtual What new landscapes networks and urban models might emerge in the wake of destabilized economic social and environmental conditions Shaping the City Rodolphe El-Khoury,Edwards Robbins,2015-06-23 Taking on the key issues in urban design Shaping the City examines the critical ideas that have driven these themes and debates through a study of particular cities at important periods in their development As well as retaining crucial discussions about cities such as Los Angeles Atlanta Chicago Detroit Philadelphia and Brasilia at particular moments in their history that exemplified the problems and themes at hand like the mega city the post colonial city and New Urbanism in this new edition the editors have introduced new case studies critical to any study of contemporary urbanism China Dubai Tijuana and the wider issues of informal cities in the Global South The book serves as both a textbook for classes in urban design planning and theory and is also attractive to the increasing interest in urbanism by scholars in other fields Shaping the City provides an essential overview of the range and variety of urbanisms and urban issues that are critical to an understanding of contemporary urbanism The EcoEdge Esther Charlesworth,Rob Adams,2013-09-13 Presenting diverse case studies of contemporary sustainable urban practice from Europe Africa India South America the USA and Australia this book offers the reader a fantastic wealth of practical material from a range of internationally renowned authors Each practical case study has addressed issues and then offered solutions to implement sustainable cities across a range of urban scales and cultures Urgent design challenges explored include population density recreating infrastructure that supports carbon neutral or low carbon emission intensive urban activities and retrofitting for sustainability Highly illustrated thematically focused and with superb global coverage this book presents a multi voiced and yet highly cohesive reference for anyone interested in green issues in urban design and architecture Museum Making Suzanne Macleod,Laura Hourston Hanks,Jonathan Hale,2012-03-15 Over recent decades many museums galleries and historic sites around the world have enjoyed an unprecedented level of large scale investment in their capital infrastructure in building refurbishments and new gallery displays This period has also seen the creation of countless new purpose built museums and galleries suggesting a fundamental re evaluation of the processes of designing and shaping of museums Museum Making Narratives Architectures Exhibitions examines this re making by exploring the inherently spatial character of narrative in the museum and its potential to connect on the deepest levels with human perception and imagination Through this uniting theme the chapters explore the power of narratives as structured experiences unfolding in space and time as well as the use of theatre film and other technologies of storytelling by contemporary museum makers to generate meaningful and it is argued here highly effective and affective museum spaces Contributions by an internationally diverse group of museum and heritage professionals exhibition designers architects and artists with academics from a range of disciplines including museum studies theatre studies architecture design and history cut across traditional boundaries including the historical and the contemporary and together explore the various roles and functions of narrative as a mechanism for the creation of engaging and meaningful interpretive environments From Realism to "realicism" Rosa Maria Perez-Teran

Mayorga,2007-01-01 From Realism to Realicism is a unique critical study of Peirce s metaphysics and his repeated insistence on the realism of the medieval schoolman as the key to understanding his own system By tracing the problem of universals beginning with its Greek roots Rosa Maria Perez Teran Mayorga provides the necessary yet underrepresented background of moderate realism and Peirce s eventual revision of metaphysics Surface and Apparition Yeseung Lee,2020-11-12

Surface is one of the most intensely debated topics in recent arts humanities and social science scholarship The changing technologies which manufacture the actual and virtual surfaces of today are radically altering our perception of thresholds and borders In contrast to the responses to preceding industrial revolutions contemporary concerns with surface seem preoccupied with its function of mediation or passage rather than with that of separation or boundary In Surface and Apparition each chapter explores a different meaning and function of the material and immaterial qualities of surface Case studies include various surfaces from computer screens artisanal engines and glass architecture to gauzy veils the planetary surface of supply chain capitalism and spatial embodiment in street markets International scholars of design architecture film media fine art fashion textiles silversmithing woodworking and archival practices account for how the material and the immaterial draw attention to each other in both their everyday and artistic practice Each chapter addresses particular systems from the human body to manually operated tools and machines materials for instance cloth wood and light modes of attention movement and engagement Surface therefore functions in this book as a multidisciplinary method for attending to critical issues concerning human creative and technological endeavours Splintering Urbanism Steve Graham,Simon

Marvin,2002-09-11 Splintering Urbanism makes an international and interdisciplinary analysis of the complex interactions between infrastructure networks and urban spaces It delivers a new and powerful way of understanding contemporary urban change bringing together discussions about globalization and the city technology and society urban space and urban networks infrastructure and the built environment developed developing and post communist worlds With a range of case studies illustrations and boxed examples from New York to Jakarta Johannesburg to Manila and Sao Paolo to Melbourne Splintering Urbanism demonstrates the latest social urban and technological theories which give us an understanding of our contemporary metropolis

Sprawling Places David Kolb, 2010-01-25 People often bemoan the spread of malls suburban strips subdivisions and other sprawling places in contemporary America But are these places as bad as critics claim In Sprawling Places David Kolb questions widely held assumptions about our built environments Kolb agrees there is a lot not to like about many contemporary places but to write them off simply as commodified nonplaces does not treat them critically Too often Kolb says aesthetic character and urban authenticity are the focus of critics when it is more important to understand a place's complexity and connectedness Kolb acknowledges that the places around us increasingly have banal exteriors yet they can be complex and can encourage their inhabitants to use them in multiple nonlinear ways Ultimately Kolb believes human activity within a place is what defines it Even our most idealized classical places he shows change over the course of history when subjected to new linkages and different flows of activity Engaging with the work of such writers and critics as Henri Lefebvre Manuel Castells Karsten Harries and Christian Norberg Schulz Kolb seeks to move discussions about sprawl away from the idea that we must choose between being rooted in the local Black Forest soil or wandering in directionless space By increasing our awareness of complexity and other issues Kolb hopes to broaden and deepen people's thinking about the contemporary built environment and to encourage better designs in the future

Growing Compact Joo Hwa P. Bay, Steffen Lehmann, 2017-07-06 Growing Compact Urban Form Density and Sustainability explores and unravels the phenomena links and benefits between density compactness and the sustainability of cities It looks at the socio climatic implications of density and takes a more holistic approach to sustainable urbanism by understanding the correlations between the social economic and environmental dimensions of the city and the challenges and opportunities with density The book presents contributions from internationally well known scholars thinkers and practitioners whose theoretical and practical works address city planning urban and architectural design for density and sustainability at various levels including challenges in building resilience against climate change and natural disasters capacity and integration for growth and adaptability ageing community and security vegetation food production compact resource systems and regeneration

The Social Imperative H. Koon Wee, 2021-07-21 This book contains multiple short critiques reflections and manifestos affording each contributing architect and intellectual the time and space to imagine new social paradigms in China Emerging from a tumultuous history of high culture and complex territorial conditions there is nothing straightforward about the social development of China The complexity of the social practices developed by architects and shapers of the built environment can be explained in part by the last three decades of an intensified adoption of the market economy by the Communist Party of China after an equally short three decades of closed door communist control There is no political meltdown like the democratization of the former Communist Bloc but there is a constant managing of discontent and resistance across China At the apex of the many creative and intellectual forces in China architects harbor and give form to many tactics of resistance Unfortunately architects are also the instruments and minds complicit with profit mongering developers and governments pursuing unchecked urbanization degradation of the environment exploitation of the marginalized and the creation of a very inequitable China This book begins with an introduction that defines the forms and tendencies of China s society as it stands today and it positions the work of a small number of architects and intellectuals who are at the forefront of reforming rethinking and even revolutionizing the Chinese society Beneath the veneer of a very successful China that the world readily acknowledges a quiet revolution is taking place within the realms of architecture and the city The social architectural and urban theories documented in this book are organized around the established canons of social actions from mobilizing laboring resisting and mediating to networking controlling rationalizing and aestheticizing This book aims to put the social agenda squarely back in the rapid development of the built environment in China This publication is the culmination of a three year study of social issues in the architecture and cities of China It involved visits to sites undergoing massive change discussions and debates among architects and critics reflections by practitioners about their own work and activists lobbying for social change Supported by the non profit AA Asia the edition of the contents relied heavily on original input and exchanges between architects and theorists committed to China from Asia and beyond Since the 1990s AA Asia remains one of a few unique think tanks committed to the study of architecture and cities in Asia As an advocacy with strong academic roots it seeks to establish the differences across various postcolonial and Asian contexts and recalibrate the role of architecture in a technocratic era dominated by the global economy With Contributions of Robert Adams Lee Ambrozy Yung Ho Chang Chen Ling Jeremy Chia Cui Kai Dong Gong Dong Yugan Mario Gandelsonas Han Tao Andrei Harwell He Jianxiang Hu Yan Hua Li Huang Weiwen Huang Wenjing Jiang Jun Jeffrey Johnson Michael Kokora Kengo Kuma Andrew Lee Joan Leung Lye Li Han Li Hu Li Shiqiao Nartano Lim William S W Lim Liu Jiakun Liu Kecheng Liu Yichun Long Ying Ma Qingyun Robert Mangurian Meng Yan Ou Ning Alan Plattus Mary Ann Ray Daan Roggeveen Ruan Hao Eunice Seng Shi Jian Victor Su Sun Yimin Wang Fei Wang Shu Wang Yan H Koon Wee Shirley Woo Wu Gang Wu Liangyong Xu Tiantian Rocco Yim Yu Kongjian Zhang Ke Zhao Liang Zhou Yi Zhu Tao Zhu

IAUS, the Institute for Architecture and Urban Studies Suzanne Frank, Suzanne Shulof Frank, 2010 The book is a combined memoir and impressionistic history of the Institute for Architecture and Urban Studies At first affiliated with New York s Museum of Modern Art and Cornell University the Institute housed architects artists and historians who worked on creative design and intellectual projects and would become world renown Its creation and direction was in the hands of its able leader Peter Eisenman Besides a documentary study of the work that went on there among an international clearing house the book is laced with impressions of the author s experience there It has been in the works for over 12 years and was originally financed by the Graham Foundation for the Study of the Fine Arts and has subsequently been aided by Dr Jenny Kaufmann The photographs of the Institute at the height of its activity are included and so does an original ground plan of its West 40th Street office done by Scott Brandi who also designed the book It ends with 27 interviews of prominent members of the Institute who comment on it and their experiences The book should appeal to architecture students and those interested in architecture and urbanism of the seventies when the government in the United States was more reasonable in economic and political equity

E40° Jack Williams, 2006 The Appalachian mountain chain once contained the highest and most dramatic mountains on earth Worn down over time these mountains still hold some of the most diverse climactic zones and singular geological formations in existence In East 40 Degrees An Interpretive Atlas Jack Williams examines a succession of beautiful but little known towns along this cordillera a term descended from the Latin chorda meaning braided rope revealing in their layers of history and geography how both their diverse cultural and social circumstances and their geological history were instrumental in forming each town's distinctive character Referring to the spatial orientation of the Appalachian mountain chain the east 40 degrees of the title runs from Alabama through fifteen states to the coast of Maine Each town Williams examines sits within the folds of these mountains or beside a river nourished in their moist uplands Beginning his record with the continental collisions that shaped each town's history more than 300 million years ago Williams allows us to see the tenuous web of connections between ourselves and the natural processes that shape this earth Featuring a wealth of beautiful and significant illustrations and maps this unique work brings into focus the critical issues of environmental and cultural sustainability confronting us today Elegant poetic and erudite East 40 Degrees will appeal to architects and landscape architects planners environmental historians ecologists geographers and anyone interested in the history and origins of our modern landscapes and towns Publication of this volume was assisted by a grant from Furthermore a program of the J M Kaplan Fund

Analogical City Cameron McEwan, 2024-01-18 In Analogical City Cameron McEwan argues for architecture's status as a critical project McEwan revisits architect Aldo Rossi as a paradigmatic figure of the critical rational tradition studying a neglected aspect of his thought the analogical city to excavate its potential McEwan develops a grammar of the analogical city under the headings of Imagination Transformation City Multitude and Project McEwan argues that the analogical city is critical collective and emancipatory Analogical thought and understanding cities as analogical might open the conditions of possibility for rethinking the critical project in architecture At a time when the humanities and the sciences are threatened by irrational thought from climate denial to post truth narratives and when architecture has seemingly disavowed its critical capacity and political possibility through its commodification as an instrument of the neoliberal city McEwan offers critical strategies conceptual tools figures of thought and knowledge practices to articulate modes of thinking and acting differently within architectural criticism and practice Today knowledge is a common terrain of struggle and thought requires constant reinvention The task of architecture and critique more broadly

must be to interpret the world in order to change it Consequently Analogical City proposes modes for imagining the city the subject and the world otherwise towards a more egalitarian and critical architecture of the city Ultimately the analogical city is not a fully developed theory nor is it only an intuitive poetic or purely formal practice as some critics propose McEwan argues that the analogical city is poetic and political it always refers beyond itself towards a collective and critical project of the city and yet it invites a series of formal spatial and graphic operations comprising erasure and negativity followed by substitution and remontage The European City European Association for Architectural Education. 2000 Architects Aisha Hasanovic,2006 Doctor Haydock the resident GP of St Mary Mead hopes to cheer up Miss Marple as she recovers from the flu with a little story The tale revolves around the return of the prodigal son of Major Laxton the devilishly handsome Harry Laxton Harry after leading a life of childish indiscretions and falling head over heels for the village tobacconist s daughter has made good and returned to lay claim to his tumbling childhood home and introduce the village to his beautiful new wife But the villagers are prone to gossip about young Harry s past and one person in particular cannot forgive him for tearing down the old house Will Miss Marple s acumen be up to the task of solving the story

Weird-Fictional Narratives in Art, Architecture, and the Urban Domain Andrew Gipe-Lazarou,Konstantinos Moraitis,2024-08-22 Tales of terror mythoi of the macabre phobic fantasies and numinous narratives have played an integral role in collective cultural expression since antiquity It was however in 19th century Europe that weird fiction reached its first apogee as a cultural and political antithesis to the adverse conditions of modern life It expressed Western society s collective disappointment with the Enlightenment s unrealized promises for a better world capturing the agony of urban populations in suffocating industrial cities the suffering caused by centuries of ongoing military confrontation and the hopelessness of the common citizen in the wake of rapid and complex technological and political change This volume presents a rational demystification of irrational cultural expressions with the dual intention of being used as both an academic reference and a popular guide into the realm of chimeric cultural visions It analyzes the correlation of urban mythologies and their concurrent cultural paradigms tracing the impact of the collective subconscious through literature comic strips cinematography music architecture and art

Reimagined Leon van Schaik,Nigel Bertram,2018-07-16 Worldwide more and more people are living in cities with suburbs conceived as appendages to the city rather than being part of the city system which is densely populated and offers a full range of services But suburbs are not the city spread too thin and in fact hold potential for a lived complexity as satisfying as that assumed to be available in inner cities Just as the ecological function of wetlands was ignored by modernist planning and swamps once drained are now recognised as vital to water cycles suburbs are increasingly recognised as part of a city's wellbeing with their own alternative ideology and opportunities for urbanity and ecological sustainability Suburbia Reimagined shows how such subdivision structures can offer new possibilities for sustainably integrating living between generations and between established and arriving migrant communities The authors worked locally and internationally with university campuses shopping centres hospitals airports and other large entities spread through suburbia to identify a broad range of suburban situations that have been modified to ensure that residents have a full access to amenities and services The book addresses the history and design of suburbia from the post war soldier settlements of the 40s and 50s to the university hinterlands of Silicon Valley in order to reappraise the locked potential within such subdivision patterns The authors propose a new model forward examining case studies ranging from repurposed malls and railways for ecological sustainability to cul de sacs as social units and post industrial factory conversions ultimately showing the nascent patterns in suburbia that have the potential to support a rich life for all age groups
