Council says

Residents to have say on building

Recalling complaints that a previous design did not take public opinion into consideration, members of the City Council voted Wednesday night that the public will have a say in designing a proposed municipal building.

A citizens' committee will be appointed by the council soon to provide the public input lacking in the design which was defeated in the April bond election.

Concern for public opinion in the design has been a key factor each time the council has discussed the project, but Monday night's meeting has taken some a step closer to the first reading of an ordinance authorizing the city manager to contract for architectural services based on a unanimous vote vote.

In response to questions from the council, City Manager Tom Hart explained that the contract will provide the necessary plans and cost estimates on which to base a bond election. He noted that the city would be liable for the services only if the bond issue passes. Failure of the bond program would void the contract, thus costing the city nothing.

Should the bond issue pass, the architect's fee will range between $17,500 and $33,500, plus the cost of any additional consultants required. The fee would then be paid from bond funds, as a part of the total bond figure.

Proposing a tight time table for putting the proposal together, Hart expressed hope that a citizens' committee could be appointed and begin functioning within "the next couple of weeks." He added that applications from residents willing to serve on the committee are being accepted, but the appointments must be made soon.

In other action, the council learned additional details of the proposed middle school. Hart and Councilman Chris Feltus reported on a joint meeting between Lawrenceville Independent School District officials, the city, and Fox & Jacobs.

According to the report, LISD has proposed use of land near Peters Colony Elementary School, which is presently dedicated to park use. The LISD plan calls for purchase of the land from Fox & Jacobs, Inc., then a cooperative agreement under which the remaining park land would be developed by the city. The school would utilize city athletic facilities and maintain them in return.

Feltus noted that the meeting was "highly productive, and the school board has expressed an they are deeply concerned over the schools in the Colony and are determined to meet our needs."

Some concern was voiced over the loss of park land and associated grant funds, but Fox & Jacobs has told LISD they will reimburse the city approximately $20,000 to compensate for the loss in grant money.

Rabies vaccinations planned

The City of The Colony Animal Control Department will hold another rabies vaccination clinic from 9 a.m. until noon on Oct. 27.

The clinic will be held at City Hall and will give residents an opportunity to have pets vaccinated against rabies and register them with the city.

The clinic is for rabies vaccinations only. The charge will be $4 for the vaccination and $3 for city registration.

These darn decisions!

The Colony's city government took on a youthful look Friday as 12 fourth and fifth grade students from Camery and Peters Colony schools assumed the roles of key city officials. The students wrote winning essays on "The Colony of the Future" and were rewarded with the opportunity to be a part of the government for a day. Mayor John Schmidt, Camery, (center) and councilmen Michelle Vachonis, Peters Colony, Jeff Mahoney, Camery, Thomas Gorynski and Chris Tait, Peters Colony, are shown considering a bicycle ordinance. In photo below, City Manager Mark Hunt of Peters Colony School reflects on the responsibilities of his office after the City Council meeting. More photos on Page 8.

Advisory group to be appointed

The City Council has requested interested residents to write on a committee to provide a degree of taxpayer liaison with the architect during the planning stages of the proposed municipal building.

City Manager Tom Hart expects the committee to be appointed and functioning within the next two weeks, and he noted that little time remains for filing applications. Volunteers should apply at City Hall.

Baptists to use new structure

Oct. 28 will be a big day for members of the Colony Baptist Church. That's the day they will begin holding Sunday School classes in the new Educational Building.

Rev. Bill Smiley, pastor, said the goal is to have 345 persons attending classes Oct. 28. When construction begins in January there were about 250 members in the congregation.

The $200,000 two-story building has a capacity of 400 persons.

Portable potties to be tried

Soccer and softball players and fans may find the Colony fields more pleasant after Nov. 1. At the request of the city Parks and Recreation Board portable toilets will be installed at the field on a trial basis.

If the results are satisfactory the service will be continued in the spring sports season.

Thursday October 18 1979 Introduction

In today's digital age, the availability of Thursday October 18 1979 books and manuals for download has revolutionized the way we access information. Gone are the days of physically flipping through pages and carrying heavy textbooks or manuals. With just a few clicks, we can now access a wealth of knowledge from the comfort of our own homes or on the go. This article will explore the advantages of Thursday October 18 1979 books and manuals for download, along with some popular platforms that offer these resources. One of the significant advantages of Thursday October 18 1979 books and manuals for download is the cost-saving aspect. Traditional books and manuals can be costly, especially if you need to purchase several of them for educational or professional purposes. By accessing Thursday October 18 1979 versions, you eliminate the need to spend money on physical copies. This not only saves you money but also reduces the environmental impact associated with book production and transportation. Furthermore, Thursday October 18 1979 books and manuals for download are incredibly convenient. With just a computer or smartphone and an internet connection, you can access a vast library of resources on any subject imaginable. Whether you're a student looking for textbooks, a professional seeking industry-specific manuals, or someone interested in self-improvement, these digital resources provide an efficient and accessible means of acquiring knowledge. Moreover, PDF books and manuals offer a range of benefits compared to other digital formats. PDF files are designed to retain their formatting regardless of the device used to open them. This ensures that the content appears exactly as intended by the author, with no loss of formatting or missing graphics. Additionally, PDF files can be easily annotated, bookmarked, and searched for specific terms, making them highly practical for studying or referencing. When it comes to accessing Thursday October 18 1979 books and manuals, several platforms offer an extensive collection of resources. One such platform is Project Gutenberg, a nonprofit organization that provides over 60,000 free eBooks. These books are primarily in the public domain, meaning they can be freely distributed and downloaded. Project Gutenberg offers a wide range of classic literature, making it an excellent resource for literature enthusiasts. Another popular platform for Thursday October 18 1979 books and manuals is Open Library. Open Library is an initiative of the Internet Archive, a non-profit organization dedicated to digitizing cultural artifacts and making them accessible to the public. Open Library hosts millions of books, including both public domain works and contemporary titles. It also allows users to borrow digital copies of certain books for a limited period, similar to a library lending system. Additionally, many universities and educational institutions have their own digital libraries that provide free access to PDF books and manuals. These libraries often offer academic texts, research papers, and technical manuals, making them invaluable resources for students and researchers. Some notable examples include MIT OpenCourseWare, which offers free access to course materials from the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, and the Digital Public Library of America, which provides a vast collection of digitized books and historical documents. In conclusion, Thursday October 18 1979 books and manuals for download have transformed the way we access information. They provide a cost-effective and convenient means of acquiring knowledge, offering the ability to access a vast library of resources at our fingertips. With platforms like Project Gutenberg, Open Library, and various digital libraries offered by educational institutions, we have access to an ever-expanding collection of books and manuals. Whether for educational, professional, or personal purposes, these digital resources serve as valuable tools for continuous learning and self-improvement. So why not take advantage of the vast world of Thursday October 18 1979 books and manuals for download and embark on your journey of knowledge?
