Convivial Urban Spaces Henry Shaftoe, 2012-05-04 Despite developments in urban design during the last few decades architects urban planners and designers often continue to produce areas of bland commercially led urban fabric that deliver the basic functional requirements of shelter work and leisure but are socially unsustainable and likely generators of future problems Convivial Urban Spaces demonstrates that successful urban public spaces are an essential part of a sustainable built environment Without them we are likely to drift into an increasingly private and polarized society with all the problems that would imply Taking a multidisciplinary approach this book draws on research and the literature and theory of environmental psychology and urban design to advance our understanding of what makes effective public spaces Practical guidance is illustrated with case studies from the UK Spain Germany and Italy The result is a practical and clearly presented guide to urban public space for planners architects and students of the urban environment

Fundamentals of Plan Making Edward J. Jepson, Jr., Jerry Weitz, 2020-12-14 Urban and regional planning programs aspire to prepare practitioners to write and implement comprehensive plans Yet academic planning programs often place greater emphasis on theory than practice To help address this gap Fundamentals of Plan Making gives planning students an understanding of research and methods of analysis that apply to comprehensive planning Its informative text and examples will help students develop familiarity with various data sources and acquire the knowledge and ability to conduct basic planning analyses such as population projections housing needs assessments development impact analyses and land use plans Students will also learn how to implement the various citizen participation methods used by planners and develop an appreciation of the values and roles of practicing planners In this revised second edition Edward Jepson and Jerry Weitz bring their extensive experience as practicing planners and teaching faculty to give planning students the practical hands on tools they need to create and implement real plans and policies With an entirely new census data set expanded discussions of sustainability and other topics as well as new online resources including a companion website the book is now more accessible and more informative and its updated chapters on transportation housing environment economic development and other core planning elements also make it a handy reference for planning practitioners Living Architecture, Living Cities Christopher Day, Julie Gwilliam, 2019-11-08 It is widely accepted that our environment is in crisis Less widely recognized is that three quarters of environmental damage is due to cities the places where most of us live As this powerful new book elucidates global sustainability is therefore directly dependent on urban design In Living Architecture Living Cities Christopher Day and Julie Gwilliam move beyond the current emphasis on technological change They argue that eco technology allows us to continue broadly as before and only defers the impending disaster In reality most negative environmental impacts are due to how we live and the things we buy Such personal choices often result from dissatisfaction with our surroundings As perceived environment has a direct effect on attitudes and motivations improving this can achieve more sustainable lifestyles more effectively than drastic building change with its notorious performance gap limitations As it is in places that our inner feelings and material reality interact perceived environment is place based Ultimately however as the root cause of unsustainability is attitude real change requires moving from the current focus on buildings and technology to an emphasis on the non material Featuring over 400 high quality illustrations this is essential reading for anyone who believes in the value and power of good design Christopher Day's philosophy will continue to inspire students with an interest in sustainable architecture urban planning and related fields Ritual House Ralph Knowles, 2006-02-02 Celebrated architect Ralph Knowles Distinguished Emeritus at USC's School of Architecture has carefully crafted a book for architects designers planners anyone who yearns to reconnect to the natural world through the built environment He shows us how to re-examine a shadow a wall a window a landscape as they respond to the natural cycles of heat light wind and rain Analyzing methods of sheltering that range from a Berber tent to a Spanish courtyard to the cityscape of contemporary Los Angeles Ritual House shows us the future by coining the concept of solar access zoning he introduces a radical yet increasingly viable solution for tomorrow's mega cities
