WTO Domestic Regulation and Services Trade Aik Hoe Lim, 2009 Domestic regulation of services sectors has a significant impact on services trade liberalization which is why General Agreement on Trade in Services GATS disciplines are negotiated in the WTO With the help of analyses and case studies from academics regulators and trade experts this book explores the scope and limits of WTO legal principles to promote domestic regulatory reform Case studies discuss country specific challenges and experiences of regulating important service sectors such as finance telecommunications distribution legal education health postal and logistics services as well as the role of regulatory impact assessments The findings will interest trade officials policy makers regulators think tanks and businesses concerned with the implications of domestic regulation on access to services markets and with the opportunities for formulating trade disciplines in this area It is also a useful resource for academics and students researching regulatory approaches and practices in services sectors

Research Handbook on Trade in Services Pierre Sauvé, Martin Roy, 2016-09-30 This Research Handbook explores the latest frontiers in services trade by drawing on insights from empirical economics law and global political economy The world's foremost experts take stock of the learning done to date in services trade explore policy questions bedevilling analysts and direct attention to a host of issues old and new confronting those interested in the service economy and its rising salience in cross border exchange The Handbook's 22 chapters shed informed analytical light on a subject matter whose substantive remit continues to be shaped by rapid evolutions in technology data gathering market structures consumer preferences approaches to regulation and by ongoing shifts in the frontier between the market and the state

China's Implementation of the Rulings of the World Trade Organization Weihuan Zhou, 2019-10-03 Amid the ongoing crisis surrounding the WTO China's role and behaviour in the multilateral trading system has attracted overwhelming attention This timely monograph provides the first comprehensive and systemic analysis of China's compliance with the rulings of the WTO's dispute settlement mechanism DSM It covers all the disputes in which China has been a respondent during its 17 year WTO membership and offers a detailed discussion of China's implementation of adverse WTO rulings its approaches to settling WTO disputes the possible explanations for such approaches and post compliance issues The book shows how China has utilised the limitations and flexibilities of WTO rulings to ensure that its implementation of the rulings not only delivers adequate compliance but also maintains its own interests Overall this book argues that the issues relating to the quality of China's compliance and post compliance practices concern the loopholes within the DSM itself which may be utilised by all WTO Members However despite the loopholes China's record of compliance suggests that the DSM has been largely effective in inducing compliance and influencing domestic policy making It is therefore in the interest of all WTO Members and other stakeholders to protect the DSM as the crown jewel of the multilateral trading system

Digital Trade and Data Privacy Roman Pascal Kalin, 2024-11-26 This monograph provides a comprehensive examination of the intricate legal challenges arising at the intersection of digital trade and data privacy It argues in favour of an integrated approach to understanding the dynamic interaction between digital trade and data privacy with the aim of building a bridge between these two fields of law Cross border data flows are paramount for the operational efficiency and productivity of companies across diverse industries The ongoing economic transformation characterized by the perception of data as both a commodity and currency exacerbates the tension between the push for economic liberalization of cross border transfers of personal data under a trade rationale and the limitations imposed on such transfers for non-economic reasons Given that the regulation of cross border personal data transfers is profoundly influenced by both international trade law and national data privacy laws a complex relationship has developed between the normative values that underpin these legal frameworks This publication centers on the resulting interdependence of digital trade and data privacy in a global digital economy It provides a contribution to the debate on a re-contextualisation of trade law against the background of the advent of digital trade

WTO Dispute Settlement and the TRIPS Agreement Matthew Kennedy, 2016-04-21 The TRIPS Agreement was implemented in the WTO to gain access to a functioning dispute settlement mechanism that could authorize trade sanctions Yet TRIPS and the WTO Dispute Settlement Understanding are based on systems that developed independently in WIPO and GATT In this book Matthew Kennedy exposes the challenges created by the integration and independence of TRIPS within the WTO by examining how this trade organization comes to grips with intellectual property disputes He contrasts the way intellectual property disputes between governments have been handled before and after the establishment of the WTO Based on practical experience this book provides a comprehensive review of the issues that arise under the DSU TRIPS GATT 1994 and other WTO agreements in intellectual property matters These range from procedural pitfalls to substantive treaty interpretation and conflicts as well as remedies including cross retaliation

Internet Regulation and the International Trade Regime Sun Nanxiang, 2022-06-30 In the age of information an open Internet is a key component for modern economic development This book analyses the World Trade Organization Agreement for virtual society and explores key questions regarding internet regulation and trade barriers Information and communication technology has introduced a transformational element to international trade in the shape of e commerce Although internet technology is conceptually neutral it can be used as a medium that poses severe threats to individual rights public morals public order and national security World Trade Organization law and jurisprudence which are the basis of global economic and trade rules can be applied in cyberspace but internet regulatory measures can also pose a threat to free trade This book thus explores the following questions whether internet regulation constitutes a trade barrier if so what form does that take and whether WTO members can invoke exception clauses to justify their internet regulatory measures The research provides deep interpretations on treaty law and case law and draws on additional interdisciplinary approaches to answer these questions This book will be of great interest to Scholars and Students of law with a focus on international trade and internet regulation as well as anyone interested in Chinese cyber law

Screening Foreign Direct Investment in the EU Jens Velten, 2022-07-19 Foreign Direct Investment FDI from third countries a desirable form of investment to boost the EU s economy or a threat to important EU and Member State interests that must be mitigated via FDI screening mechanisms FDI screening is a complex controversial and highly topical subject at the intersection of law politics and economics This book analyzes the political rationale behind FDI screening in the EU reveals the legal limitations of current FDI screening mechanisms based on security and public order and identifies legislative options for broader screening mechanisms in accordance with EU and international economic law In particular the book identifies the four main concerns in the EU regarding FDI from third countries distortive competition effects the lack of reciprocity on FDI treatment between the EU and the investor s home country objectives of the investor or their home country that may be detrimental to EU interests and safety of private information On this basis the book analyzes the Screening Regulation Regulation EU 2019 452 and its newly introduced screening ground security or public order and asks whether this and other similar screening grounds based on the notions of security public order and public policy can address these concerns with regard to foreign investors Based on an analysis of WTO law and EU primary law it argues that they cannot Thus the question arises Do the EU and Member States have the flexibility to adopt broader FDI screening mechanisms To answer this question the book examines the freedoms of capital movement and establishment in EU primary law as well as various sources of international economic law such as first and foremost the WTO s General Agreement on Trade in Services but also other bi and plurilateral trade and investment treaties including the EU China Comprehensive Agreement on Investment In closing the book identifies various legislative options for broader FDI screening mechanisms and their shortcomings

Trade Policy and Gender Equality

Amrita Bahri,Dorotea López,Jan Remy,2023-10-19 Trade policies create both winners and losers as some actors stand to benefit and others are left behind More often than not it has been women who have borne the negative impacts of international trade policy and it is thus imperative that future trade policy is negotiated and implemented with an eye toward women s interests This collection represents an innovative systematic evaluation of the debate relating to international trade law policy and gender equality It analyses the role of WTO as a trade policy setter current debates and possibilities for gender inclusive trade agreements and emerging topics such as e commerce and gender responsive standards With a range of interdisciplinary contributions and national and regional case studies this collection offers a comprehensive up to date analysis of the intersections between trade law and gender and is vital to ensuring that both men and women win from trade policy in the future This title is also available as Open Access on Cambridge Core
