A Companion to Chinese Art Martin J. Powers, Katherine R. Tsang, 2022-04-26 Exploring the history of art in China from its earliest incarnations to the present day this comprehensive volume includes two dozen newly commissioned essays spanning the theories genres and media central to Chinese art and theory throughout its history Provides an exceptional collection of essays promoting a comparative understanding of China's long record of cultural production Brings together an international team of scholars from East and West whose contributions range from an overview of pre modern theory to those exploring calligraphy fine painting sculpture accessories and more Articulates the direction in which the field of Chinese art history is moving as well as providing a roadmap for historians interested in comparative study or theory Proposes new and revisionist interpretations of the literati tradition which has long been an important staple of Chinese art history Offers a rich insight into China's social and political institutions religious and cultural practices and intellectual traditions alongside Chinese art history theory and criticism

The Art of the Chinese Picture-Scroll Shane McCausland, 2023-10-25 The first extended history of the Chinese picture scroll The Chinese picture scroll a long horizontal painting or calligraphic work has been China's pre eminent aesthetic form throughout the last two millennia This first history of the picture scroll explores its extraordinary longevity and adaptability to social political and technological change The book describes what the picture scroll demands of a viewer how China's artists grappled with its cultural power and how collectors and connoisseurs left their marks on scrolls for later generations to judge

Art of the Yellow Springs Wu Hung, 2015-02-15 We might think the Egyptians were the masters of building tombs but no other civilization has devoted more time and resources to underground burial structures than the Chinese For at least five thousand years from the fourth millennium B C E to the early twentieth century the Chinese have been building some of the world's most elaborate tombs and furnishing them with exquisite objects It is these objects and the concept of the tomb as a treasure trove that The Art of the Yellow Springs seeks to critique drawing on recent scholarship to examine memorial sites the way they were meant to be experienced not as a mere store of individual works but as a work of art itself Wu Hung bolsters some of the new trends in Chinese art history that have been challenging the conventional ways of studying funerary art Examining the interpretative methods themselves that guide the study of memorials he argues that in order to understand Chinese tombs one must not necessarily forget the individual works present in them as the beautiful color plates here will prove but consider them along with a host of other art historical concepts These include notions of visibility viewership space analysis function and context The result is a ground breaking new assessment that demonstrates the amazing richness of one of the longest running traditions in the whole of art history

Teaching Confucianism Jeffrey L. Richey, 2008-02-05 Even the most casual observer of Chinese society is aware of the tremendous significance of Confucianism as a linchpin of both ancient and modern Chinese identity Furthermore the Confucian tradition has exercised enormous influence over the values and institutions of the other cultures of East Asia an influence that continues to be important in the global Asian diaspora If forecasters are correct in labeling the 21st century the Chinese century teachers and scholars of religious studies and theology will be called upon to illuminate the history character and role of Confucianism as a religious tradition in Chinese and Chinese influenced societies The essays in this volume will address the specifically pedagogical challenges of introducing Confucian material to non East Asian scholars and students Informed by the latest scholarship as well as practical experience in the religious studies and theology classroom the essays are attentive to the various settings within which religious material is taught and sensitive to the needs of both experts in Confucian studies and those with no background in Asian studies who are charged with teaching these traditions The authors represent all the arenas of Confucian studies from the ancient to the modern Courses involving Confucius and Confucianism have proliferated across the disciplinary map of the modern university This volume will be an invaluable resource for instructors not only in religious studies departments and theological schools but also teachers of world philosophy non Western philosophy Asian studies and world history

Chinese Views of Childhood Anne B. Kenney, 1995-10-01 Chinese in the twentieth century intent on modernizing their country condemned their inherited culture in part on the grounds that it was oppressive to the young The authors of this pioneering volume provide us with the evidence to re examine those charges Drawing on sources ranging from art to medical treatises fiction and funerary writings they separate out the many complexities in the Chinese cultural construction of childhood and the ways it has changed over time Listening to how Chinese talked about children whether their own child the abstract child in need of education or medical care the ideal precocious child or the fictional child lets us assess in concrete terms the structures and values that underlay Chinese life

The Imperial Patronage of Labor Genre Paintings in Eighteenth-Century China Roslyn Lee Hammers, 2021-03-30 This book examines the agrarian labor genre paintings based on the Pictures of Tilling and Weaving that were commissioned by successive Chinese emperors Furthermore this book analyzes the genre's imagery as well as the poems in their historical context and explains how the paintings contributed to distinctively cosmopolitan Qing imagery that also drew upon European visual styles Roslyn Lee Hammers contends that technologically informed imagery was not merely didactic imagery to teach viewers how to grow rice or produce silk The Qing emperors invested in paintings of labor to substantiate the permanence of the dynasty and to promote the well being of the people under Manchu governance The book includes English translations of the poems of the Pictures of Tilling and Weaving as well as other documents that have not been brought together in translation The book will be of interest to scholars working in art history Chinese history Chinese studies history of science and technology book history labor history and Qing history

Modeling Peace Jie Shi, 2020-03-24 Among hundreds of thousands of ancient graves and tombs excavated to date in China the Mancheng site stands out for its unparalleled complexity and richness It features juxtaposed burials of the first king and queen of the Zhongshan kingdom dated late second century BCE The male tomb occupant King Liu Sheng d 113 BCE was sent by his father Emperor Jing r 157-141 BCE to rule the Zhongshan kingdom near the northern frontier of the Western Han Empire neighboring the nomadic Xiongnu confederation Modeling Peace interprets Western Han royal burial as a political ideology by closely reading the architecture and funerary content of this site and situating it in the historical context of imperialization in Western Han China Through a study of both the archaeological materials and related received and excavated texts Jie Shi demonstrates that the Mancheng site was planned and designed as a unity of religious gender and intercultural concerns The site was built under the supervision of the future occupants of the royal tomb who used these burials to assert their political ideology based on Huang Lao and Confucian thought a good ruler is one who pacifies himself his family and his country This book is the first scholarly monograph on an undisturbed and fully excavated early Chinese royal burial site

Mirror of Morality Julia K. Murray, 2007-01-31 Mirror of Morality takes an interdisciplinary look at an important form of pictorial art produced during two millennia of Chinese imperial rule Ideas about individual morality and state ideology were based on the ancient teachings of Confucius with modifications by later interpreters and government institutions Throughout the imperial period members of the elite made sponsored and inscribed or used illustrations of themes taken from history literature and recent events to promote desired conduct among various social groups This dimension of Chinese art history has never before been broadly covered or investigated in historical context The first half of the study examines the nature of narrative illustration in China and traces the evolution of its functions conventions and rhetorical strategies from the second century BCE through the eleventh century Under the stimulus of Buddhism sophisticated techniques developed for representing stories in visual form While tracing changes in the social functions and cultural positions of narrative illustration the second half of the book argues that narrative illustration continued to play a vital role in elite visual culture 黃山,1990 Picturing the True Form Shih-shan Susan Huang,2020-03-17 Picturing the True Form investigates the long neglected visual culture of Daoism China's primary indigenous religion from the tenth through thirteenth centuries with references to both earlier and later times In this richly illustrated book Shih-shan Susan Huang provides a comprehensive mapping of Daoist images in various media including Dunhuang manuscripts funerary artifacts and paintings as well as other charts illustrations and talismans preserved in the fifteenth century Daoist Canon True form zhenxing the key concept behind Daoist visuality is not static but entails an active journey of seeing underlying and secret phenomena This book's structure mirrors the two part Daoist journey from inner to outer Part I focuses on inner images associated with meditation and visualization practices for self cultivation and longevity Part II investigates the visual and material dimensions of Daoist ritual Interwoven through these discussions is the idea that the inner and outer mirror each other and the boundary demarcating the two is fluid Huang also reveals three central modes of Daoist symbolism aniconic immaterial and ephemeral and shows how Daoist image making goes beyond the traditional dichotomy of text and image to incorporate writings in image design It is these particular features that distinguish Daoist visual culture from its Buddhist counterpart Archives of Asian Art ,1995 The Wu Liang Shrine Wu Hung,1992 Subject Guide to Books in Print ,2001 中國圖書分類法 ,1990 China Review International ,1998 Choice ,1992 Journal of Asian Culture ,1997
