X-Urbanism Mario Gandelsonas,1999 Examines configurations of urban space analyzing them in ways that blur the traditional opposition between figure and ground Beginning Design Technology Mike Christenson,2015-12-22 Beginning Design Technology introduces how design technologies work together including tools materials and software such as Adobe Photoshop Adobe Illustrator Autodesk AutoCAD and others It teaches you how to think about each design tool whether a software program or physical modelmaking so that you will select one for its strengths for a specific task and know when and how to combine it with other tools Topics include working with building information texturing digital and physical artifacts translating information from one form or file format to another constructing at full scale and making digital and physical models Chapter Summaries exercises discussion questions a glossary an appendix of common software commands and an annotated bibliography will help you find what you need quickly and put the information into practice The EcoEdge Esther Charlesworth,Rob Adams,2013-09-13 Presenting diverse case studies of contemporary sustainable urban practice from Europe Africa India South America the USA and Australia this book offers the reader a fantastic wealth of practical material from a range of internationally renowned authors Each practical case study has addressed issues and then offered solutions to implement sustainable cities across a range of urban scales and cultures Urgent design challenges explored include population density recreating infrastructure that supports carbon neutral or low carbon emission intensive urban activities and retrofitting for sustainability Highly illustrated thematically focused and with superb global coverage this book presents a multi voiced and yet highly cohesive reference for anyone interested in green issues in urban design and architecture 306090 05 Alexander F. Briseño,2003 306090 05 Teaching Building focuses on emerging trends in design build curricula through the work of young educators throughout the world with essays on the effects of practice on education and vice versa It features the built work of design instructors alongside the studio projects of their students among other revealing juxtapositions Students and professors profiled include Yvan pier Cazabon Margot Krasojevic Aleksandr Mergold emerymcclure Architects Jose Salinas SYSTEMarchitects M1 and others IAUS, the Institute for Architecture and Urban Studies Suzanne Frank,Suzanne Shulof Frank,2010 The book is a combined memoir and impressionistic history of the Institute for Architecture and Urban Studies At first affiliated with New York s Museum of Modern Art and Cornell University the Institute housed architects artists and historians who worked on creative design and intellectual projects and would become world renown Its creation and direction was in the hands of its able leader Peter Eisenman Besides a documentary study of the work that went on there among an international clearing house the book is laced with impressions of the author s experience there It has been in the works for over 12 years and was originally financed by the Graham Foundation for the Study of the Fine Arts and has subsequently been aided by Dr Jenny Kaufmann The photographs of the Institute at the height of its activity are included and so does an original ground plan of its West 40th Street office done by

Scott Brandi who also designed the book It ends with 27 interviews of prominent members of the Institute who comment on it and their experiences The book should appeal to architecture students and those interested in architecture and urbanism of the seventies when the government in the United States was more reasonable in economic and political equity Shanghai Reflections Mario Gandelsonas, M. Ackbar Abbas, M. Christine Boyer, 2002 Student projects sponsored by Princeton Hong Kong and Tongji universities and reviewed by critics The Social Imperative H. Koon Wee, 2021-07-21 This book contains multiple short critiques reflections and manifestos affording each contributing architect and intellectual the time and space to imagine new social paradigms in China Emerging from a tumultuous history of high culture and complex territorial conditions there is nothing straightforward about the social development of China The complexity of the social practices developed by architects and shapers of the built environment can be explained in part by the last three decades of an intensified adoption of the market economy by the Communist Party of China after an equally short three decades of closed door communist control There is no political meltdown like the democratization of the former Communist Bloc but there is a constant managing of discontent and resistance across China At the apex of the many creative and intellectual forces in China architects harbor and give form to many tactics of resistance Unfortunately architects are also the instruments and minds complicit with profit mongering developers and governments pursuing unchecked urbanization degradation of the environment exploitation of the marginalized and the creation of a very inequitable China This book begins with an introduction that defines the forms and tendencies of China's society as it stands today and it positions the work of a small number of architects and intellectuals who are at the forefront of reforming rethinking and even revolutionizing the Chinese society Beneath the veneer of a very successful China that the world readily acknowledges a quiet revolution is taking place within the realms of architecture and the city The social architectural and urban theories documented in this book are organized around the established canons of social actions from mobilizing laboring resisting and mediating to networking controlling rationalizing and aestheticizing This book aims to put the social agenda squarely back in the rapid development of the built environment in China This publication is the culmination of a three year study of social issues in the architecture and cities of China It involved visits to sites undergoing massive change discussions and debates among architects and critics reflections by practitioners about their own work and activists lobbying for social change Supported by the non profit AA Asia the edition of the contents relied heavily on original input and exchanges between architects and theorists committed to China from Asia and beyond Since the 1990s AA Asia remains one of a few unique think tanks committed to the study of architecture and cities in Asia As an advocacy with strong academic roots it seeks to establish the differences across various postcolonial and Asian contexts and recalibrate the role of architecture in a technocratic era dominated by the global economy With Contributions of Robert Adams Lee Ambrozy Yung Ho Chang Chen Ling Jeremy Chia Cui Kai Dong Gong Dong Yugan Mario Gandelsonas Han Tao Andrei Harwell He Jianxiang Hu Yan Hua Li

Suburbia Reimagined Leon van Schaik, Nigel Bertram, 2018-07-16

Worldwide more and more people are living in cities with suburbs conceived as appendages to the city rather than being part of the city system which is densely populated and offers a full range of services But suburbs are not the city spread too thin and in fact hold potential for a lived complexity as satisfying as that assumed to be available in inner cities Just as the ecological function of wetlands was ignored by modernist planning and swamps once drained are now recognised as vital to water cycles suburbs are increasingly recognised as part of a city's wellbeing with their own alternative ideology and opportunities for urbanity and ecological sustainability Suburbia Reimagined shows how such subdivision structures can offer new possibilities for sustainably integrating living between generations and between established and arriving migrant communities The authors worked locally and internationally with university campuses shopping centres hospitals airports and other large entities spread through suburbia to identify a broad range of suburban situations that have been modified to ensure that residents have a full access to amenities and services The book addresses the history and design of suburbia from the post war soldier settlements of the 40s and 50s to the university hinterlands of Silicon Valley in order to reappraise the locked potential within such subdivision patterns The authors propose a new model forward examining case studies ranging from repurposed malls and railways for ecological sustainability to cul de sacs as social units and post industrial factory conversions ultimately showing the nascent patterns in suburbia that have the potential to support a rich life for all age groups

Theories and Practices of Architectural Representation Mike Christenson, 2019-03-25

Theories and Practices of Architectural Representation focuses on the study of architectural knowledge approached through the lens of representation the making of things about buildings Architectural knowledge systems continue to shift away from traditional means such as books and photographs into modes dominated by digital technologies This shift parallels earlier ones developed by craftspeople into the knowledge of painters and writers or shifts from manually produced knowledge into the mode of photography and film These historical shifts caused profound disruptions to established patterns and in general the shift currently underway is no different This book considers essential questions including How does architecture become known How is knowledge about architecture produced structured disseminated and consumed How in particular do historical patterns of knowledge production persist within contemporary culture and society How are these patterns affected by changes in technology and how does technology create new opportunities These questions are examined through five chapters dealing with exemplary buildings and representational methods selected from worldwide locations including the United States Japan and Italy Theories and Practices of Architectural Representation proposes that historical theories and practices of architectural representation remain distinct robust and uniquely viable within the context of rapidly changing technologies It is an essential read for students of architectural theory of representation Digital Dreams, Urban

Surface and Apparition Yeseung Lee,2020-11-12 Surface is one of the most intensely debated topics in recent arts humanities and social science scholarship The changing technologies which manufacture the actual and virtual surfaces of today are radically altering our perception of thresholds and borders In contrast to the responses to preceding industrial revolutions contemporary concerns with surface seem preoccupied with its function of mediation or passage rather than with that of separation or boundary In Surface and Apparition each chapter explores a different meaning and function of the material and immaterial qualities of surface Case studies include various surfaces from computer screens artisanal engines and glass architecture to gauzy veils the planetary surface of supply chain capitalism and spatial embodiment in street markets International scholars of design architecture film media fine art fashion textiles silversmithing woodworking and archival practices account for how the material and the immaterial draw attention to each other in both their everyday and artistic practice Each chapter addresses particular systems from the human body to manually operated tools and machines materials for instance cloth wood and light modes of attention movement and engagement Surface therefore functions in this book as a multidisciplinary method for attending to critical issues concerning human creative and technological endeavours The Mutiara Masterplan Ken Yeang,2007 This book examines the competition submissions for a new suburban centre located on the edge of World Architecture ,1999 Source Book of American Architecture George Everard Kidder Smith,1996 Scorched Earth is the first book to chronicle the effects of chemical warfare on the Vietnamese people and their environment where even today more than 3 million people including 500 000 children are sick and dying from birth defects cancer and other illnesses that can be directly traced to Agent Orange dioxin exposure Weaving first person accounts with original research Vietnam War scholar Fred A Wilcox examines long term consequences for future generations laying bare the ongoing monumental tragedy in Vietnam and calls for the United States government to finally admit its role in chemical warfare in Vietnam Wilcox also warns readers that unless we stop poisoning our air food and water supplies the cancer epidemic in the United States and other countries will only worsen and he urgently demands the chemical manufacturers of Agent Orange to compensate the victims of their greed and to stop using the Earth s rivers lakes and oceans as toxic waste dumps Vietnam has chosen August 10 the day that the US began spraying Agent Orange on Vietnam as Agent Orange Day to commemorate all its citizens who were affected by the deadly chemical Scorched Earth will be released upon the third anniversary of this day in honor of all those whose families have suffered and continue to suffer from this tragedy Source Book of American Architecture G.E. Kidder Smith,2000-09 This comprehensive and insightful illustrated survey of 500 of America s most distinguished buildings provides a unique overview of the thousand year architectural development of the United States It examines our nation s architecture from its earliest days to the present ranging from cliff dwellings in Mesa Verde to Frank Lloyd Wright s Robie House in Chicago to James Ingo Freed s Holocaust Museum in Washington Indispensable in any library it also serves as a general introduction to American architecture or as a splendid guide for tourists American Book Publishing Record ,1999 The Great Inversion and the Future of the American City Alan Ehrenhalt,2013-01-22 Eye opening and thoroughly engaging this is an indispensable look at American urban suburban society and its future In The Great Inversion Alan Ehrenhalt one of our leading urbanologists reveals how the roles of America s cities and suburbs are changing places young adults and affluent retirees moving in while immigrants and the less affluent are moving out and addresses the implications of these shifts for the future of our society Ehrenhalt shows us how the commercial canyons of lower Manhattan are becoming residential neighborhoods and how mass transit has revitalized inner city communities in Chicago and Brooklyn He explains why car dominated cities like Phoenix and Charlotte have sought to build twenty first century downtowns from scratch while sprawling postwar suburbs are seeking to attract young people with their own form of urbanized experience Paradise Planned Robert A.M. Stern,David Fishman,Jacob Tilove,2013-12-03 Paradise Planned is the definitive history of the development of the garden suburb a phenomenon that originated in England in the late eighteenth century was quickly adopted in the United State and northern Europe and gradually proliferated throughout the world These bucolic settings offered an ideal lifestyle typically outside the city but accessible by streetcar train and automobile Today the principles of the garden city movement are once again in play as retrofitting the suburbs has become a central issue in planning Strategies are emerging that reflect the goals of garden suburbs in creating metropolitan communities that embrace both the intensity of the city and the tranquility of nature Paradise Planned is the comprehensive encyclopedic record of this movement a vital contribution to architectural and planning history and an essential recourse for guiding the repair of the American townscape

Nurturing Dreams Fumihiko Maki,2012-09-21 Unavailable as a collection until now these essays document both the intellectual journey of one of the world s leading architects and a critical period in the evolution of architectural thought Born in Tokyo educated in Japan and the United States and principal of an internationally acclaimed architectural practice celebrated architect Fumihiko Maki brings to his writings on architecture a perspective that is both global and uniquely Japanese Influenced by post Bauhaus internationalism sympathetic to the radical urban architectural vision of Team X and a participant in the avant garde movement Metabolism Maki has been at the forefront of his profession for decades This collection of essays documents the evolution of architectural modernism and Maki s own fifty year intellectual journey during a critical period of architectural and urban history Maki s treatment of his two overarching themes the contemporary city and modernist architecture demonstrates strong and sometimes unexpected linkages between urban theory and architectural practice Images and commentary on three of Maki s own works demonstrate the connection between his writing and his designs Moving through the successive waves of modernism postmodernism neomodernism and other isms these essays reflect how several generations of architectural thought and expression have been resolved within one career
