Transcendental Utopias Individual And Community At Brook Farm Fruitlands And Walden:

Transcendental Utopias Richard Francis,1997 Francis suggests that at the heart of Transcendentalism was a belief that all phenomena are connected in a repetitive sequence The task was to explain how human society could be reordered to benefit from this seriality Some members of the movement believed in evolutionary progress whereas others hoped to be the agents of a sudden millennial transformation They differed as well in their views on whether the fundamental social unit was the individual the family the phalanstery or the community The story of the three communities was inevitably also the story of particular individuals and Francis highlights the lives and ideas of such leaders as George Ripley W H Channing Bronson Alcott Charles Lane and Theodore Parker
