Transformative Lutheran Theologies Feminist Womanist And Mujerista Perspectives:

Transformative Lutheran Theologies Mary J. Streufert, 2010 The first of its kind this book is a systematic presentation of Lutheran feminist womanist and mujerista theologies systematic in that it addresses classical loci of systematic theology contemporary in that it is resoundingly constructive and relevant for the contemporary church and feminist in that the contributors write from a feminist perspective although they reflect a variety of positions within feminist discourse The contributors to this multi authored work share a common commitment to Lutheran theology as a continual process of reform Luther is a partner in the conversation because of his theological insights and commitment to faithful criticism which the writers seek to continue not because his voice settles a debate The book focuses on central themes that Luther addressed and that are representative of Lutheranism today including justification by grace through faith and Luther's theology of the cross From diverse contexts these Lutheran theologians like Luther seek reformation by giving voice to new perspectives in theology that continue to transform the church and the world Along with Mary J Streufert contributors include Krista E Hughes Kathryn A Kleinhans Kristen E Kvam L DeAne Lagerquist Mary E Lowe Lois Malcolm Anna Mercedes Cynthia Moe Lobeda Cheryl M Peterson Mary Joy Philip Caryn D Riswold Deanna A Thompson Marit Trelstad Alicia Vargas and Beverly Wallace A remarkable addition to the rich history of Lutheran theology Not only have these theologians opened doors to fresh new worlds of Lutheran thought they've done so in a way that honors the past by extending it forward I can't wait to use Transformative Lutheran Theologies in class I've been waiting twenty years for a text like this Imagine teaching Luther's thought and placing it by side with these cutting edge essays Luther would no doubt be proud maybe even a bit envious Serene Jones President and Roosevelt Professor of Systematic Theology Union Theological Seminary New York

A Christian Exploration of Women's Bodies and Rebirth in Shin Buddhism Kristin Johnston Lagen, 2020-10-05 Jodo Shinshu Buddhism inherited many negative doctrines around women's bodies which in some early Buddhist texts were presented as an obstacle to rebirth and a hindrance to awakening in general Beginning with an examination of these doctrines the book explores Shin teachings and texts as well as the Japanese context in which they developed with a focus on women and rebirth in Amida's Pure Land. These doctrines are then compared to similar doctrines in Christianity and used to suggest fruitful avenues of Christian theological reflection. Sex, Gender, and Christianity Priscilla Pope-Levison, John R.

Levison, 2012-10-08 Should women be priests? Should women submit to their husbands? Is premarital sex okay? Inflammatory questions such as these have splintered Christianity and polarized the church. In Sex, Gender, and Christianity, a cadre of seasoned college professors offers the modest proposal that honest, fruitful conversations about these questions will take place only if we develop the ability to deal with sex, gender, and the Christian faith with the academic rigor and perspectives of our various disciplines. This volume contributes an unprecedented collection of first-rate articles from a variety of disciplines, from the social sciences to history, from literary criticism to theology, that will challenge college administrators, professors, and students to address fractious questions in an atmosphere of scholarly inquiry. Language for God Mary J. Streufert, 2022-06-07 Language for God draws readers into the necessity of language and images for God that are expansive and inclusive of all genders. People hunger for scriptural and theological explanations that adequately answer criticisms and support dialogue. Using Lutheran perspectives as a compass, Mary J. Streufert offers scriptural, theological, and historical insights that advance Christianity's ongoing reformation of androcentric images and language for God. This book is for a variety of people, including those who are unsure of why language and images for God matter, those who need assurance that language and images for God include all genders, including people who identify as queer, and those who want language for God to be faithful to the Scriptures and to the witness of the Christian theological tradition. It is also for people who need convincing that God is Mother as much as Father, pregnant Christ as much as crucified Christ, and Godhead beyond all gendered appellations. The book is pastoral in that it explores the deeply personal, communal, and social ways language and images influence who we are and how we live. It takes seriously the hunger for more for God beyond the Father. This book is also intellectual in that it challenges contemporary arguments for Father and Son as exclusive names for the first two persons of the Trinity by exploring historical developments in the ways people define sex, gender, and sexuality. Without a rigorous assessment of how these views affect Christianity, Christian language and images for God will remain androcentric. Insights from the Reformation, most pointedly from Martin Luther and the Lutheran tradition, offer points on a compass toward the reformation of Christian language and images for God in our day. ReEngaging ELCA Social Teaching on Faith, Sexism, and Justice Mary J. Streufert, Mary Lowe, 2025-05-15

Mary Elise Lowe and Mary J. Streufert call us to think together about the ELCA's 2019 statement on faith, sexism, and justice. What does it mean to embody Lutheran convictions to resist patriarchy and sexism, embrace multidimensional sex and gender, and envision a world that is life-giving for all humans? ReEngaging ELCA Social Teaching on Faith, Sexism, and Justice delivers a clarion call to action. Social and religious systems of patriarchy are sinful; God intends for God's diverse creation to flourish. We are called therefore to resist all barriers to lives of flourishing and abundance for everyone. With helpful definitions sprinkled throughout, Lowe and Streufert explain how this social statement is grounded in the Scriptures and rooted in Lutheran teachings regarding Christian freedom neighbor justice and the body of Christ Informed by insights from the sciences this social statement brings evolving understandings of sex gender and sexuality into conversation with the Scriptures and Lutheran teachings Readers will be equipped to understand and witness to the biblical vision of abundance that God intends for all humanity In addition to discussion questions and links to recommended resources this book includes heartfelt letters from Lutherans from various walks of life written to girls and women the church Lutheran educators LGBTQIA siblings men and boys and rostered leaders of the ELCA

Who Is the Church? An Ecclesiology for the Twenty-First Century Cheryl M. Peterson, 2013-05-01 Many congregations today are beset by fears whether over loss of members and money or of irrelevancy in an increasingly pluralistic society To counter this many congregations focus on strategy and purpose what churches do but Cheryl Peterson submits that mainline churches need to focus instead on what or who they are to reclaim a theological rather than sociological understanding of themselves To do this she places the questions of the church's identity and mission into a conversation with the primary ecclesiological paradigms of the past century the neo Reformation concept of the church as a word event and the ecumenical paradigms of the church as communion She argues that these two paradigms assume a context of cultural Christendom that no longer exists focused on the church that is gathered rather than the missional church that is sent out Feminist Theology and the Challenge of Difference Margaret D. Kamitsuka, 2007-07-20 Kamitsuka cautions the feminist theological community against the possibility of excluding some segments of the female population in its quest for liberation. She directs her readers attention to the fact that most feminist theologians are writing from a position of privilege as white heterosexual women. Applying postmodern and postcolonial thought to better explore feminist theology, Kamitsuka argues that the feminist theological movement needs to consider a broader range of issues affecting women today. Focusing on women's experience as portrayed in literature, biblical narrative, and ethnographic writing, Kamitsuka examines the assumptions of first wave feminist theology and reflects on the roles of race and sexuality and their possible impact on feminist theological trends.

From Women's Experience to Feminist Theology Linda Hogan, 2016-10-06 What are the implications of adopting a primacy of praxis position in feminist theology? How can we respect the diversity of women's experience while retaining it as a useful analytic category? Do these twin resources of women's experience and praxis together imply that feminist theology is ultimately relativist? Through an analysis of the work of some of today's key feminist theologians, Christian womanist and post-Christian Linda Hogan considers these and other methodological questions.

Unsuffering Ourselves Deanna L. Langle, 2013 This pastoral theological project explores how clergy women construct and exercise agency to unsuffer themselves in situations in the church where their agency has been denied or minimized. A qualitative research interview method is utilized to pay attention to the voices and experiences of eight ELCA clergy women who identify as having experienced suffering and transformational movement toward unsuffering, particularly from silence to voice or diminished agency to increased agency. Using the pastoral theological method of revised critical correlation, these clergy women's experiences are brought into dialogue with feminist theory informed by poststructuralism, narrative counseling theory informed by social constructionism, and historical feminist Lutheran and pastoral theological perspectives of a theology of the cross. From this dialogue, a co-construction of agency from a feminist Lutheran pastoral theological perspective emerges, as does the surprising discovery that a theology of baptism is more influential than a theology of the cross in shaping these Lutheran clergy women's agency. These findings suggest that by joining the theologies of the cross and baptism, constructive possibilities can be generated for pastoral theological practice that invites agency and contributes to the unsuffering of all people.
