Transsaharan Africa In World History:

Trans-Saharan Africa in World History Ralph A. Austen, 2010 This book tells the story of an African world that grew out of more than one thousand years of trans Saharan trade linking the Mediterranean lands of North Africa with the internal Sudanic grasslands stretching from the Nile River to the Atlantic Ocean It traces the early role of the Sahara the globe's largest desert as a divider that separated these two regions into very different worlds During the heyday of camel caravan traffic from the eighth century CE Arab invasions of North Africa to the early twentieth century building of European colonial railroads that linked the Sudan with the Atlantic the Sahara became one of the world's great commercial highways The most enduring impact of this trade and the common cultural reference point of trans Saharan Africa was Islam This faith played various roles throughout the region as a legal system for regulating trade an inspiration for reformist religious political movements and a vehicle of literacy and cosmopolitan knowledge that inspired creativity often of a very unorthodox kind within the various ethno linguistic communities of the region From the mid 1400s European voyages to the coast of West and Central Africa provided an alternative international trade route that marginalized trans Saharan commerce in global terms but stimulated its accelerated local growth Inland territorial conquest by France and Britain in the 1800s and early 1900s brought more serious disruptions Trans Saharan culture however not only adapted to these colonial and postcolonial changes but often thrived upon them to remain a living force well into the twenty first century Provided by publisher

Africa in Global History Toyin Falola, Mohammed Bashir Salau, 2021-12-06 This handbook places emphasis on modern contemporary times and offers relevant sophisticated and comprehensive overviews It aims to emphasize the religious economic political cultural and social connections between Africa and the rest of the world and features comparisons as well as an interdisciplinary approach in order to examine the place of Africa in global history This book makes an important contribution to the discussion on the place of Africa in the world and of the world in Africa An outstanding work of scholarship it powerfully demonstrates that Africa is not marginal to global concerns Its labor and resources have made our world and the continent deserves our respect Mukhtar Umar Bunza Professor of Social History Usmanu Danfodiyo University Sokoto and Commissioner for Higher Education Kebbi State Nigeria This is a deep plunge into the critical place of Africa in global history The handbook blends a rich set of important tapestries and analysis of the conceptual framework of African diaspora histories imperialism and globalization By foregrounding the authentic voices of African interpreters of transnational interactions and exchanges the Handbook demonstrates a genuine commitment to the promotion of decolonized and indigenous knowledge on African continent and its peoples Samuel Oloruntoba Visiting Research Professor Institute of African Studies Carleton University

A History of World Societies, Combined Volume John P. McKay, Bennett D. Hill, John Buckler, Patricia Buckley Ebrey, Roger B. Beck, Clare Haru Crowston, Merry E. Wiesner-Hanks, 2011-10-05 A History of World Societies introduces students to the global past through social history and the

stories and voices of the people who lived it The book's regional and comparative approach helps students understand the connections of global history while providing a manageable organization With global connections and comparisons documents features and activities that teach historical analysis

Unbroken Chains Martin Plaut, 2025-08-28 Slavery has torn apart African societies since at least 2 500 BCE from Egypt to the Cape from Mauritania to Somalia Yet most writing covers just one fraction of this history the horrors of the trans Atlantic slave trade Historians and commentators long neglected the equally sizeable far more protracted phenomenon of Indian Ocean slavery and all but passed over Africa's internal practices from Ethiopian kingdoms enslaving conquered peoples to the Sokoto Caliphate capturing non Muslims on a scale matching that of the US plantations Yet overlooked stories of enslavement matter In 1794 Congress authorised construction of the US Navy's first six ships in response to civilian vessels being seized by North Africa's Barbary corsairs who raided as far as Britain and the Caribbean enslaving hundreds of thousands of Europeans And since abolition of the trans Atlantic trade international concern has moved from traditional to modern forms of slavery leaving Africans enslaved as chattel today with few champions abroad The UN and African Union are too embarrassed to confront the African leaders still permitting this practice Unbroken Chains offers readers a full accessible history of the myriad bondage systems that have devastated African communities over the millennia It is a haunting sensitive powerful read

The Boundless Sea Peregrine Horden, Nicholas Purcell, 2019-09-30 This volume brings together for the first time a collection of twelve articles written both jointly and individually by Peregrine Horden and Nicholas Purcell as they have participated in the debates generated by their major work The Corrupting Sea A Study of Mediterranean History 2000 One theme in those debates has been how a comprehensive Mediterranean history can be written how an approach to Mediterranean history by way of its ecologies and the communications between them can be joined up with more mainstream forms of enquiry cultural social economic and political with their specific chronologies and turning points The second theme raises the question of how Mediterranean history can be fitted into a larger indeed global history It concerns the definition of the Mediterranean in space the way to characterise its frontiers and the relations between the region so defined and the other large spaces many of them oceans to which historians have increasingly turned for novel disciplinary cum geographical units of study A volume collecting the two authors' studies on both these themes as well as their reply to critics of The Corrupting Sea should prove invaluable to students and scholars from a number of disciplines ancient medieval and early modern history archaeology and social anthropology CS1083

Africa in World History Erik Gilbert, Jonathan T. Reynolds, 2004 This groundbreaking text is the first to examine Africa in the wider context of world history The authors show that Africans not only have shaped their own destiny but also have played a central role in a number of grand narratives of global history In doing so the text encourages readers to reconsider many popular or oversimplified myths regarding Africa and Africans and to explore the many issues controversies and debate within the field of African study With numerous maps full color photos primary sources
