Progress in Mid Twentieth Century America author Douglas Horlock contends that the director's work warrants sustained scholarly attention Examining all of Daves's films as well as his screenplays scripts that were not filmed and personal papers Horlock argues that Daves was a serious distinctive and enlightened filmmaker whose work confronts the general conservatism of Hollywood in the mid twentieth century Horlock considers Daves's films through the lenses of political and social values race and civil rights and gender and sexuality Ultimately Horlock suggests that Daves's work through its examination of bigotry and irrational fear and depiction of institutional and personal morality and freedom presents a consistent innovative and progressive vision of America

Unspoiled Beauty Charles J. Farmer, 1999 Annotation Tucked within Missouri's borders are eight Congressionally designated Wilderness areas These magnificent forests scattered across the southern portion of the state combine a wide variety of unique ecosystems In Unspoiled Beauty Charles Farmer captures the essence of the Missouri Wilderness experience allowing even those who have never set foot in the wilderness to enjoy its wonders and appreciate its importance Farmer begins by describing the wilderness region prior to the Congressional Wilderness designation providing an overview of the numerous battles that were waged to reclaim the state's wilderness and to assure its preservation. Featured are key players who were instrumental in the acquisition and preservation of Missouri wilderness. Farmer devotes a chapter to each of the eight Wilderness areas accompanied by numerous engaging photographs many in color. He provides a brief history of each and shares his own fascinating personal experiences of camping, hiking, backpacking, hunting, and fishing within each. He discusses trails, fauna, flora, and other colorful details along the way. His adventures take place during different seasons of the year; he is sometimes alone, sometimes in company. Through his eyes, each area is brought vividly to life. Wilderness Tips and a guide with rules for the novice camper, hiker, backpacker, hunter, and fisherman enhance the book's usefulness. The final chapter lists the areas in Missouri that qualify for Wilderness designation in the New Forest Plan. Unspoiled Beauty may well play a part in saving Missouri's remaining wilderness candidates. It will also help other states that are preparing campaigns to save their own wilderness areas. Wilderness advocates, hikers, and backpackers, fishermen, and hunters, anyone who appreciates the great outdoors will enjoy this important new book. Documents, Including Messages and Other Communications Ohio, 1904 Cindy and David's Excellent Travelling Adventures David Schneider, 2012-09-04 In his first book, Mr. Schneider combines his self-effacing narrative style with insights and observations from his blog and magazine articles spanning 50 years of travel, adventure, and family. He describes with equal verve an eclectic mix of adventures: from sailboat racing, surviving a SCUBA diving accident, baby-sitting whales, hunting sunken moon rockets in the Everglades, and stumbling through Europe to enjoying a high school football game and cleaning out his dad's drawers. What emerges is a deep fascination with and clear love of friends, family, and the world around us. Pictorial History of the World's Greatest War and New International Atlas of the World, 1919 Trail's End David Nicol, 2024-05-20 Trail's End is a story based on two months the author spent alone in the Northwest Rocky Mountains. The area of Montana where the story takes place is referred to as nowhere by the residents of Montana and Idaho. The region is teeming with wildlife which formed the basis for this tale. The story is fictional, even though some of the events actually happened, including certain occurrences that caused the author to believe Bigfoot exists. Appalachia, 1929
