How to Be an Adult in Relationships David Richo,2021-11-02 Most people think of love as a feeling says David Richo but love is not so much a feeling as a way of being present In this book Richo offers a fresh perspective on love and relationships one that focuses not on finding an ideal mate but on becoming a more loving and realistic person Drawing on the Buddhist concept of mindfulness How to Be an Adult in Relationships explores five hallmarks of mindful loving and how they play a key role in our relationships throughout life

- 1 Attention to the present moment observing listening and noticing all the feelings at play in our relationships
- 2 Acceptance of ourselves and others just as we are
- 3 Appreciation of all our gifts our limits our longings and our poignant human predicament
- 4 Affection shown through holding and touching in respectful ways
- 5 Allowing life and love to be just as they are with all their ecstasy and ache without trying to take control

When deeply understood and applied these five simple concepts what Richo calls the five A s form the basis of mature love They help us to move away from judgment fear and blame to a position of openness compassion and realism about life and relationships By giving and receiving these five A s relationships become deeper and more meaningful and they become a ground for personal transformation

The Evolution of Altruism and the Ordering of Love Stephen J. Pope,1995-04-01 In this book Stephen J Pope argues that contemporary scientifically based theories of the evolution of altruism provide important insights into one of the fundamental moral problems of

Christian ethics the natural basis of love and its ordering He explores the contributions evolutionary theory makes to our understanding of the biological foundations of kin preference and reciprocal care the limits of love and the need for an ordering of love issues relevant to any ethic that accords a central role to the deeply natural affections found in friendship marriage and the family He proposes that understanding human nature in its broader evolutionary context brings to ethics a needed balance between the personal and biological dimensions of human nature In the context of Catholic ethics Pope points out functional similarities between Thomas Aquinas s use of then available scientific theories in his interpretation of the natural basis of primary relationships and Pope s own efforts to avoid the deficiencies that characterize contemporary Catholic interpretations of love based on personalism and existentialism He concludes with a call for a multidimensional interpretation of love one that incorporates scientifically based theories about human nature together with an appreciation of the significance of motives intentions and freedom for the ordering of human affections and moral responsibility This book will be of interest to moral theologians especially those concerned with the topics of love justice and natural law ethics

Love, Desire and

Transcendence in French Literature Paul Gifford, 2005 Paul Gifford paints a clear and coherent picture of the evolution of erotic ideas and their imaginary and formal expressions in modern French writing He retraces the matrix of French tradition by engaging with five classic sources Plato's Symposium the The New Psychology of Love Robert J. Sternberg, Karin Sternberg, 2018-11-08 This is a much needed development from the first edition that provides an update on the theory and research on love by world renowned scientific experts It explores love from a diverse range of standpoints social psychological evolutionary neuropsychological clinical cultural and even political It considers questions such as how men and women differ in their love what makes us susceptible to jealousy and envy in relationships how love differs across various cultures As the neuropsychological basis of love is examined this study showcases what attracts people to one another why love has developed the way it has over time and what evolutionary purpose it serves It also analyses why and when love relationships both succeed and fail which means readers will be rewarded with a better understanding of their own relationships and those of others as well as what can be done to build a lasting loving relationship

The Emergent Christ Ilia Delio, 2011 Ilia Delio makes fascinating sense of the universe beginning with the story of cosmic evolution coursing through the meaning of God in evolution and the emergence of Christ and concluding with new ways of seeing Christ in all things As Teilhard de Chardin did in The Divine Milieu Ilia Delio reveals the sacrament of God at work in the world She also explores the spiritual evolution within each of us and suggests that it will change the cosmos as well as the church She shows that we are at a stage in evolution where our choices will determine what happens next Love she writes always seeks the best for the beloved but God is a beggar of love who waits at the soul's door without daring to force it open The question of Christ emerging as the personal center of the universe is not a question of yes or no but a question of how that love will evolve She makes one thing perfectly clear it is happening and the evidence is astounding The Emergent Christ is an antidote to the new atheism that says there is no place in evolution for God let alone a God of love It is also a spiritual tonic for Christians interested in understanding their place and purpose in this evolving universe

A Psychological Perspective on Joy and Emotional Fulfillment Chris Meadows, 2013-11-26 Throughout the history of psychology there have been full investigations of discrete emotions particularly negative ones and a recent wealth of books on happiness but few exist on the emotion of joy This book takes a unique psychological approach to understanding this powerful emotion and provides a framework within which the study of human joy and other related positive fulfillment experiences can fit in a meaningful schema A key feature of this book is its development of an experiential phenomenology of joy This phenomenology is based on more than three hundred descriptions of joy experiences recounted by subjects in an empirical study executed by the author Types of joy experiences are examined such as excited vs serene joy anticipatory vs completed joy and affiliative vs individuated joy There is no comparable book or work that clarifies the relationship among major positive states with emotional components including satisfaction happiness and ecstasy

Cosmopolitan Love Sijia Yao, 2023-11-09 Love and the different manifestations of it is a common theme in literature around the world In Cosmopolitan Love Sijia Yao examines the writings of D H Lawrence a British writer whose literature focused primarily on interpersonal relationships in domestic settings and Eileen Chang a Chinese writer who migrated to the United States and explored Chinese heterosexual love in her writing While comparing the writings of a Chinese writer and an English one Yao avoids a direct comparison between East and West that could further enforce binaries Instead she uses the comparison to develop an idea of cosmopolitanism that shows how the writers are in conversation with their own culture and with each other Both D H Lawrence and Eileen Chang wrote stories that are influenced by but sometimes stand in opposition to their own cultures They offer alternative understandings of societies dealing with modernism and cultural globalization Their stories deal with emotional pain caused by the restrictions of local politics and economics and address common themes of incestuous love sexual love adulterous love and utopian love By analyzing their writing Yao demonstrates that the concept of love as a social and political force can cross cultural boundaries and traditions to become a basis for human meaning the key to a cosmopolitan vision

From Teilhard to Omega Ilia Delio, 2014-01-09 Thirteen scholars including John F Haught Ursula King and John C Haughey SJ take off from where Teilhard de Chardin left off opening new windows to the divine mystery to the evolving person and to the new energies of love needed for the forward movement of life

Shakespeare and the Nature of Love Marcus Nordlund, 2007 The best conception of love Marcus Nordlund contends and hence the best framework for its literary analysis must be a fusion of evolutionary cultural and historical explanation It is within just such a bio cultural nexus that Nordlund explores Shakespeare's treatment of different forms of love His approach leads to a valuable new perspective on Shakespearean love and more broadly on the interaction between our common humanity and our historical contingency as they are reflected recast transformed or even suppressed in literary works After addressing critical issues about love biology and culture raised by his method Nordlund considers four specific forms of love in seven of Shakespeare's plays Examining the vicissitudes of parental love in Titus Andronicus and Coriolanus he argues that Shakespeare makes a sustained inquiry into the impact of culture and society upon the natural human affections King Lear offers insight into the conflicted relationship between love and duty In two problem plays about romantic love Troilus and Cressida and All's Well that Ends Well the tension between individual idiosyncrasies and social consensus becomes especially salient And finally in Othello and The Winter's Tale Nordlund asks what Shakespeare can tell us about the dark avatar of jealousy
