

The image shows a man with a lightbulb for a head, standing in front of a chalkboard. The chalkboard is covered in a dense, chaotic collection of hand-drawn diagrams, equations, and text, all related to the concept of 'Plan'. The diagrams include flowcharts, graphs, and various mathematical expressions. The man is wearing a plaid shirt and jeans, and he is giving a thumbs-up gesture. The overall scene suggests a complex, multi-faceted approach to planning, with a focus on problem-solving and decision-making.

today's world The text identifies, defines, discusses, and deconstructs contemporary challenges to critical thinking from fake news, alternative facts, and deep fakes to misinformation, disinformation, post truth, and more. It guides students through the explosion of content on the internet and social media and enables them to become careful and critical evaluators as well as consumers. The text is grounded in psychological science, especially the cognitive sciences, and brought to life through humorous and engaging language and numerous practical and real world examples and anecdotes. This edition has been streamlined with thoughtful consideration over what content to keep, what to cut, and how much new and current research to add. Critical thinking skills are presented in every chapter, empowering students to learn more efficiently, research more productively, and present logical, critical, and informed arguments. The skills are reviewed at the end of the chapter, and a complete list of skills with definitions and examples are included in the appendix. The text is supported by a companion website that features a robust set of instructor and student resources: www.routledge.com/cw/halpern. Thought and Knowledge can be used as a core text in critical thinking courses offered in departments of psychology, philosophy, English, or across the humanities and social sciences, or as a supplement in any course where critical thinking is emphasized.
