Starter for Ten David Nicholls, 2008-12-18 NOW A MAJOR MOTION PICTURE Utterly charming a big hearted flawless coming of age tale as scary and funny as your yearbook picture People four stars The year is 1985 Brian Jackson a working class kid on full scholarship has started his first term at university He has a dark secret a long held burning ambition to appear on the wildly popular British TV quiz show University Challenge and now finally it seems the dream is about to become reality He's made the school team and they've completed the qualifying rounds and are limbering up for their first televised match And what's more he's fallen head over heels for one of his teammates the beautiful brainy and intimidatingly posh Alice Harbinson Life seems perfect and triumph inevitable but as his world opens up Brian learns that a little knowledge can be a dangerous thing Praise for A Starter for Ten Fresh edgy and very funny David Nicholls has a talent for droll dialogue and a wonderful sense of the ridiculous USA Today Starter for Ten has that elusive Hornby factor It's wincingly funny a prospect to savour

Cake or Death Heather Mallick, 2011-04-13 A brilliant new book from one of Canada's most popular columnists a no holds barred riposte to the mess we've made of things Mrs Tittlemouse is heaven in a sponge mop I read Beatrix Potter's books as a child and love her paintings her stories her home boiling of squirrels so her watercolours could be anatomically exact But most of all Beatrix Potter made domesticity desirable All right she didn't but she domesticated me Personal order has become my badge and it's the only thing that really works with melancholy Heather Mallick is sorely disappointed The world has not turned out quite the way she had hoped it would But rather than retreat from it she takes the world head on fearlessly and formidably on her own terms In a new work of entirely original writing we have Heather unplugged some might even say unhinged and uncensored from the restrictions of her Globe and Mail column writing As her many fans have come to expect from her she is incisive and outrageous whether she's cataloguing the many situations and items in our daily lives that we are told we should fear teaching us how to cope with people we just can't stand ruthless mockery is the key really says Heather or writing about the valuable life lesson to be learned from one of her childhood heroes Mrs Tittlemouse the original domestic goddess A candid reflection on the complicated state of our lives and our world today viewed through the lens of Heather's inimitable wit and outlook on life

Cake or Death The Excruciating Choices of Everyday Life will provoke and delight readers

The Adaptation Industry Simone Murray,2012-03-12 Adaptation constitutes the driving force of contemporary culture with stories adapted across an array of media formats However adaptation studies has been concerned almost exclusively with textual analysis in particular with compare and contrast studies of individual novel and film pairings This has left almost completely unexamined crucial questions of how adaptations come to be made what are the industries with the greatest stake in making them and who the decision makers are in the adaptation process The Adaptation Industry reimagines adaptation not as an abstract process but as a material industry It presents the adaptation industry as a cultural economy of six interlocking institutions stakeholders and decision makers all engaged in the actual business of adapting texts authors agents publishers book prize committees scriptwriters and screen producers and distributors Through trading in intellectual property rights to cultural works these six nodal points in the adaptation network are tightly interlinked with success for one party potentially auguring for success in other spheres But marked rivalries between these institutional forces also exist with competition characterizing every aspect of the adaptation process This book constructs an overdue sociology of contemporary literary adaptation never losing sight of the material and institutional dimensions of this powerful process

Love and Other Near-Death Experiences Mil Millington,2006-02-14 Hello My name is Robert and I haven't been dead for sixty three days now If he hadn't bought those crummy towels Rob would be six feet under But his poor shopping sense accidentally set off a convoluted chain of events that meant he lived when all those others died in the pub explosion Okay

maybe it wasn't the ugly towels that saved his life Perhaps it was some other random action some other small movement that was the utterly trivial yet vitally important factor And that's the real problem Now with his wedding fast approaching Rob suddenly finds himself paralyzed with indecision about Every Little Thing He just can't be sure which seemingly innocuous choice will mean the difference between life and death Should he wash the fork or the knife first Should he step out of the shower with his left leg or his right leg Red sweater or blue One thing is certain His fiancée Jo is at her wits' end To save his relationship and his sanity Rob embarks on a quest to find out why he's still breathing When he meets up with others who have had similar lifesaving near misses he figures the answer must be close But fate may just catch them yet for Rob's search to understand why he's still alive might well turn out to be the very thing that kills them all Filled with the barbed and sparkling dialogue that made Things My Girlfriend and I Have Argued About a cult hit Mil Millington's Love and Other Near Death Experiences is a hilarious existential romantic comedy about second guesses and second chances Media

The novel begins with Richard Papen, a bright but troubled young man, arriving at Hampden College. Richard is immediately drawn to the group of students who call themselves the Classics Club. The club is led by Henry Winter, a brilliant and charismatic young man. Henry is obsessed with Greek mythology and philosophy, and he quickly draws Richard into his world. The other members of the Classics Club are equally as fascinating. Bunny Corcoran is a wealthy and spoiled young man who is always looking for a good time. Charles Tavis is a quiet and reserved young man who is deeply in love with Henry. Camilla Macaulay is a beautiful and intelligent young woman who is drawn to the power and danger of the Classics Club. The students are all deeply in love with Morrow, and they are willing to do anything to please him. Morrow is a complex and mysterious figure, and he seems to be manipulating the students for his own purposes. As the students become more involved with Morrow, they begin to commit increasingly dangerous acts. The Secret History is a brilliant and thrilling novel that will keep you speculating until the very end. The novel is a warning tale about the dangers of obsession and the power of evil.
