Thinking Through The Skin Transformations:

Thinking Through the Skin Sara Ahmed, Jackie Stacey, 2003-09-02 This exciting collection of work from leading feminist scholars including Elspeth Probyn, Penelope Deutscher and Chantal Nadeau engages with and extends the growing feminist literature on lived and imagined embodiment and argues for consideration of the skin as a site where bodies take form already written upon but open to endless re inscription. Individual chapters consider such issues as the significance of piercing, tattooing and tanning; the assault of self harm upon the skin; the relation between body painting and the land among the indigenous people of Australia; and the cultural economy of fur in Canada. Pierced, mutilated and marked, mortified and glorified, scarred by disease and stretched and enveloping the skin of another, in pregnancy skin is seen here as both a boundary and a point of connection, the place where one touches and is touched by others, both the most private of experiences and the most public marker of a raced, sexed and national history.

Self-Harm Behavior and Eating Disorders John L. Levitt, Ph.D., Randy A. Sansone, M.D., Leigh Cohn, M.A.T., 2005-07-05 The number of eating disorders patients presenting with symptoms of self harm is growing quickly and yet there is surprisingly little known about this unique population. Self Harm Behavior and Eating Disorders explores the prevalent but largely uncharted relationship between self injury behaviors and eating disorders symptoms. In the first major book to focus on this area, a renowned group of international scholars and practitioners addresses the subject from a variety of theoretical and practical perspectives. The book is categorized into sections covering epidemiology, psychodynamics, assessment and a final section covering potential treatment options including dialectical behavioral therapy, cognitive therapy, interventions, strategies, group therapy and pharmacological approaches. This unrivaled collection of case studies, theoretical exploration and practical application forms a benchmark for the field and offers a stepping stone for new research and innovative treatment strategies. In an area with little available information previously spread out among diffuse sources, this volume represents the state of the field resource for anyone working with complex eating disorders patients.

Stories on Skin Terry Baxter, Libby Coyner-Tsosie, 2025-01-23 Helping expand archival studies into impermanent media like body art, this book suggests that archiving must be considered a form of storytelling. Tattoos are not merely decorative; they contain deep meaning for individuals and communities. They document their wearers' personal histories and position in families or society and they engage with a communal understanding of symbols. This unique book makes the case that archivists who want to preserve as full a human story as possible must recognize the rich documentation provided by tattoos. It also argues, in a broader sense, that traditional archives are not representative of the ways human beings transmit information through time and that they must be augmented by other types of storytelling to provide a more complete record of our species. Authors Baxter and Coyner touch on timely topics such as historical narratives, storytelling, cultural traditions, the body as a text, social control and memorialization by considering tattoos as a personal and community archive. Discussing tattoos as a storytelling tool, the authors also challenge how history is kept and who gets included Stories on Skin is committed to the rights of communities to tell their stories in their own way and to the power that right brings Native Games Chris Hallinan, Barry Judd, 2013-07-19 Research on Indigenous participation in sport offers many opportunities to better understand the political issues of equality empowerment self determination and protection of culture and identity This volume compares and conceptualises the sociological significance of Indigenous sports in different international contexts Routledge Handbook of Critical Indigenous Studies Brendan Hokowhitu, Aileen Moreton-Robinson, Linda Tuhiwai-Smith, Chris Andersen, Steve Larkin, 2020-12-30 The Routledge Handbook of Critical Indigenous Studies is the first comprehensive overview of the rapidly expanding field of Indigenous scholarship The book is ambitious in scope ranging across disciplines and national boundaries with particular reference to the lived conditions of Indigenous peoples in the first world The contributors are all themselves Indigenous scholars who provide critical understandings of indigeneity in relation to ontology ways of being epistemology ways of knowing and axiology ways of doing with a view to providing insights into how Indigenous peoples and communities engage and examine the worlds in which they are immersed Sections include Indigenous Sovereignty Indigeneity in the 21st Century Indigenous Epistemologies The Field of Indigenous Studies Global Indigeneity This handbook contributes to the re centring of Indigenous knowledges providing material and ideational analyses of social political and cultural institutions and critiquing and considering how Indigenous peoples situate themselves within outside and in relation to dominant discourses dominant postcolonial cultures and prevailing Western thought This book will be of interest to scholars with an interest in Indigenous peoples across Literature History Sociology Critical Geographies Philosophy Cultural Studies Postcolonial Studies Native Studies M ori Studies Hawaiian Studies Native American Studies Indigenous Studies Race Studies Queer Studies Politics Law and Feminism Health Education Katie Fitzpatrick, Richard Tinning, 2014-02-05 Health Education Critical perspectives provides a socio cultural and critical approach to health education The book draws together international experts in the fields of health and education who deconstruct contemporary discourses and practices and re imagine a health education that both connects with young people and offers a way forward in addressing issues of health and wellbeing Chapters within specifically link academic work on neoliberalism healthism risk and the body to wider discourses of health and health education They challenge current practices and call for a re thinking of current health programs in education settings A unique feature of this book is the analyses of health education from both political and applied levels across a range of international contexts The book is divided into three sections the social and political contexts informing health education how individual health issues sexuality alcohol mental health the body and obesity nutrition articulate in education in complex ways alternative ways to think about health and health education pedagogy The overall theme of the book offers a perspective that the current approach to health education promoting a fear of ill health self surveillance and individual responsibility can become a form of health fascism and we need to be cognisant of this potential and its consequences for
