This Child Of Mine A Therapists Journey:

This Child of Mine Martha Wakenshaw,2001 The author chronicles her fifteen years as a child therapist It is a personal account of treating emotionally traumatized children through play and expressive arts therapies and the healing relationship that occurs between therapist and patient on a human rather than a clinical level Woven throughout are Wakenshaw s memories of growing up that are triggered by the children she treats and her personal transformation as she confronts her own inner self in response to the courage and resilience of her young clients This Child of Mine is about the child in us all

Caring for Your Grieving Child Martha Wakenshaw,2003 Employing play based techniques a children s mental health specialist helps parents identify and express different feelings to help their grieving child cope Includes tips on how to notice different types of play and respond accordingly healthy ways to communicate with their child and ways to recognize the signs of true healing in their child

Journeys into Palliative Care Christina Mason,2002-03-15 This book presents a variety of experience based perspectives on working in palliative care Emphasising the use of self and the importance of reflective practice in professional work the book will be of relevance to professionals in medical and social care who want to gain a deeper understanding of their work and of the motivation underlying it

Reflective Practice in Psychotherapy and Counselling Poornima Bhola,Chetna Duggal,Rathna Isaac,2025-11-17 This volume explores the what when and how of reflective practice positioning reflection as a vital tool for self exploration and professional development in psychotherapy and counseling It draws on research and integrates therapist voices and perspectives self reflective exercises and experiential activities to support applied learning The book emphasizes the use of reflection to engage with core aspects of therapeutic work including therapist motivations the evolving sense of self choice of theoretical orientation building a therapeutic alliance navigating the digital world understanding therapist values and engaging with diversity The role of reflective practice is spotlighted in the context of supervision personal therapy and learning from clients perspectives Self care is situated within both personal and systemic contexts with practical strategies offered to enhance therapist well being and resilience The concluding chapter reviews emerging trends and future directions in reflective work across training research and therapy practice This resource is relevant for therapists at all stages of development and is an essential read for academicians practitioners trainers and supervisors from clinical and counseling psychology social work and psychiatry Readers are invited to strengthen their use of reflection to critically examine personalize and own ideas that can nurture personal and professional growth

Personal Process in Child-Centred Play Therapy David Le Vay,Elise Cuschieri,2022-09-02 Personal Process in Child Centred Play Therapy provides a very specific exploration of the play therapy process from the personal perspective of the play therapist This volume examines the personal challenges opportunities losses and gains and numerous obstacles that one has to negotiate through the course of both training to become a play therapist and working as a qualified clinician with children who have complex life difficulties The book aims to offer a forum within which the role function and process of the personal within play therapy can be explored Bringing together a number of experienced play therapists the book shares often deeply personal accounts of their experience of training and clinical practice Chapters challenge the unspoken therapist taboos of shame childhood trauma vulnerability and grief shining a light on the more hidden areas of therapist experience Clinical issues around the unconscious process are also explored but once again from the personal position of the play therapist rather than the child With a unique and distinct perspective on the therapeutic process this book is specifically intended for both trainee and experienced play therapists but will be relevant to all psychotherapists involved in working therapeutically with children and young people Book Review Digest ,2002

Wiley, 1994 Twenty four first person accounts by fat women who have found their way out of the weight loss madness and moved beyond society s expectations to a place of self acceptance Female Journeys Claire Marrone, 2000-06-30 In this study of 19th and 20th century French and Italian women s autobiography the author illustrates how the protagonists development unfolds through separation from oppressive social and familial structures Reading the selected life stories as bildungsromane and drawing on an array of both canonical and noncanonical texts in the various autobiographical subgenres Marrone concludes that the heroines movements away from oppressive structures are not limited to particular historical periods but are motivated by historical and cultural circumstances She thoughtfully traces the reasons why a 19th century protagonist might leave her country a turn of the century heroine might flee her family and a modern female character might separate from her mother carefully examining their motivations and their goals In telling their stories she concludes women writers continually challenge existing autobiographical conventions Marrone finds that postmodern texts prove that the journey toward selfhood may be an ongoing one one that unfolds through the creation of multiple life stories The author begins her study with a consideration of the tradition of women s autobiography in French and Italian literature of the 19th and 20th centuries Using several examples from various genres she brings issues of gender oppression marital abuse sexuality and motherhood to the forefront of the discussion She continues by analyzing the genres of autobiography and bildungsroman where they overlap and where they diverge specifically in women s writing Turning to specific authors and their works Marrone moves on to an analysis of the writings of Cristina Trivulzio di Belgiojoso C D eleste Mogador Sibilla Aleramo Oriana Fallaci Marie Cardinal and Annie Ernaux In examining the works of these writers the author concludes that women writers continue to attempt to define themselves in their own voices Marrone finds that postmodern writers participate in innovative experimentation in life writing hybrid texts creative auto biographies and collective life stories This clearly written engaging volume is a pivotal addition to the growing field of literature on autobiography
