R. Ambedkar, 2017-10-09 This is one of the epics from Dr Ambedkar Written in 1945 the book really explains the dynamics of Hindu Mahasabha and Muslim League and how Congress and British Government played a role in partition Although this book takes you to the unheard side of partition it is interesting on how linguistic approach was chosen for a division of something that is unsure if it existed Dr Ambedkar takes a fine approach of giving a clarity of situation instead of been judgmental on the partition No wonder the man was chosen to write our constitution Of course if the war of majority and minority is kept away the partition and its tragedy can be ready more fluently THOUGHTS ON PAKISTAN M.K. GANDHI, The Muslim Leaguers have today raised the slogan that ten crores of Indian Muslims are in danger of being submerged and swept out of existence unless they constitute themselves into a separate state I call the slogan scare mongering pure and simple It is nonsense to say that any people can permanently crush or swamp out of existence one fourth of its population which the Mussalman s are in India But I would have no hesitation in conceding the demand of Pakistan if I could be convinced of its righteousness of that it is good for Islam But I am firmly convinced that the Pakistan demand as put forth by the Muslim League is unislamic and I have not hesitated to call it sinful Islam stands for the unity and brotherhood of mankind not for disrupting the oneness of the human family Therefore those who want to divide India into possibly warring groups are enemies alike of India and Islam They cut me to pieces but they cannot make me subscribe to something which I consider to be wrong M K Gandhi to the Muslim Leaguers and M A Jinnah Harijan Oct 6 1946 At this juncture we should try to understand the genesis of this almost pathological abhorrence of Gandhiji to the concept of Pakistan and consequent partitioning of India and trace its roots We must keep in mind two fundamental tenets of Gandhian philosophy which principally governed the thought process behind

Main Currents of Contemporary Thought in Pakistan: 1970-1972 Hakim Mohammad Said,1973 CUET PG Political Science Question Bank (2400 MCQs Chapterwise) Mocktime Publication, CUET PG Political Science Question Bank 2400 MCQs Chapterwise CUET PG Exam Pattern CUET PG Syllabus CUET PG Previous Papers Books Notes Creating a New Medina Venkat Dhulipala,2015-02-09 This book examines how the idea of Pakistan was articulated and debated in the public sphere and how popular enthusiasm was generated for its successful achievement especially in the crucial province of UP now Uttar Pradesh in the last decade of British colonial rule in India It argues that Pakistan was not a simply a vague idea that serendipitously emerged as a nation state but was popularly imagined as a sovereign Islamic State a new Medina as some called it In this regard it was envisaged as the harbinger of Islam s renewal and rise in the twentieth century the new leader and protector of the global community of Muslims and a worthy successor to the defunct Turkish Caliphate The book also specifically foregrounds the critical role played by Deobandi ulama in articulating this imagined national community with an awareness of Pakistan s global historical significance Undoing Impunity V. Geetha,2016-11-28 The Sexual Violence and Impunity in South Asia research project coordinated by Zubaan and supported by the International Development Research Centre brings together for the first time in the region a vast body of knowledge on this important yet silenced subject Six country volumes one each on Bangladesh Nepal Pakistan Sri Lanka and two on India as well as two standalone volumes comprising over fifty research papers and two book length studies detail the histories of sexual violence and look at the systemic institutional societal individual and community structures that work together to perpetuate impunity for perpetrators In this remarkable and wide ranging study activist and historian V Geetha unpacks the meanings of impunity in relation to sexual violence in the context of South Asia The State s misuse of its own laws against its citizens is only one aspect of the edifice of impunity its less understood resilience comes from its consistent denial of the recognition of suffering on the part of victims and its refusal to allow them the dignity of pain grief and loss Time and again in South Asia the State has worked to mediate public memory to manipulate forgetting particularly in relation to its own acts of commission It has done this by refusing to take responsibility not only for its acts but also for the pain such acts have caused It has denied suffering the eloquence the words the expression that it deserves and papered over the hurt of its people with routine government procedures The author argues that the State and its citizens must work together to accord social recognition to the suffering of victims and survivors of sexual violence and thereby join in what she calls a shared humanity While this may or may not produce legal victories the acknowledgment that the suffering of our fellow citizens is our collective responsibility is an essential first step towards securing justice It is this that in a fundamental sense challenges and illuminates the contours and details of State impunity and positions impunity as not merely a legal or political conundrum but as resolute refusal on the part of State personnel to be part of a shared humanity
